COOL OF A SUMMER SHADE invites one to walk and think and to look and to listen.

Involvement in the Mind . . .

Judge!
Meditate!
Reason!

What will today bring? How soon?
What do you think about Viet Nam?
Where does water go downstream?
Ever consider the conscientious objector? Will we ever land on Mars?
The world is very intricate. Man revolves around man. The world turns. Man searches his mind for the answers. The individual is lost unless he knows himself.

Judge!
Meditate!
Reason!

IN HONOR to those service men that died in VietNam this flag was donated by the Booth Family.

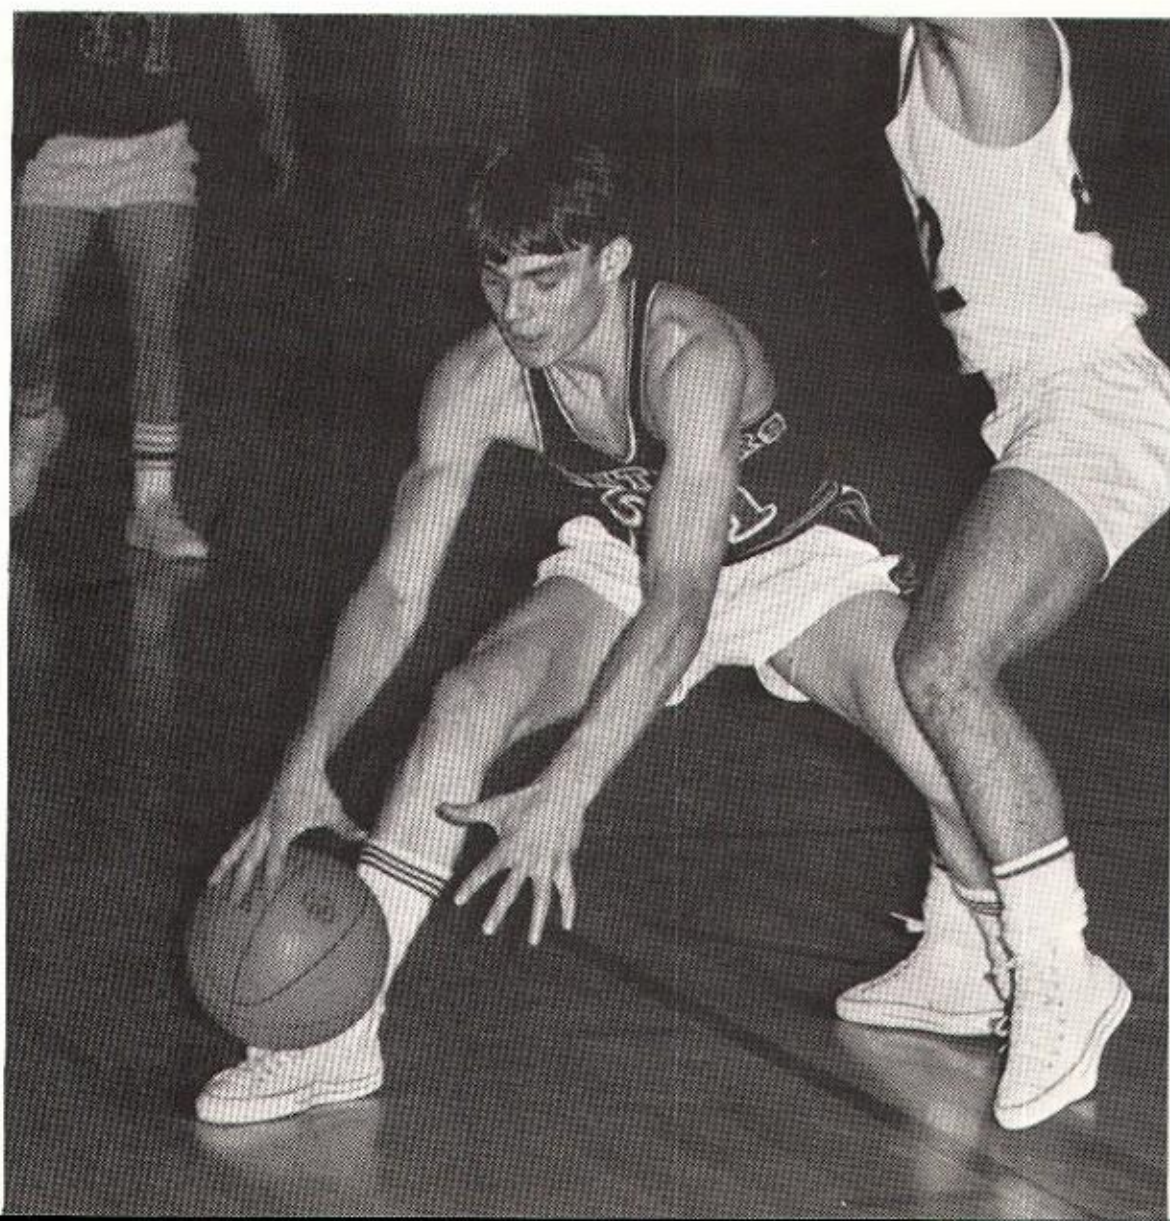

MAN'S BELIEFS vary from sect to sect, and individual to individual but he shall always search for the answers.

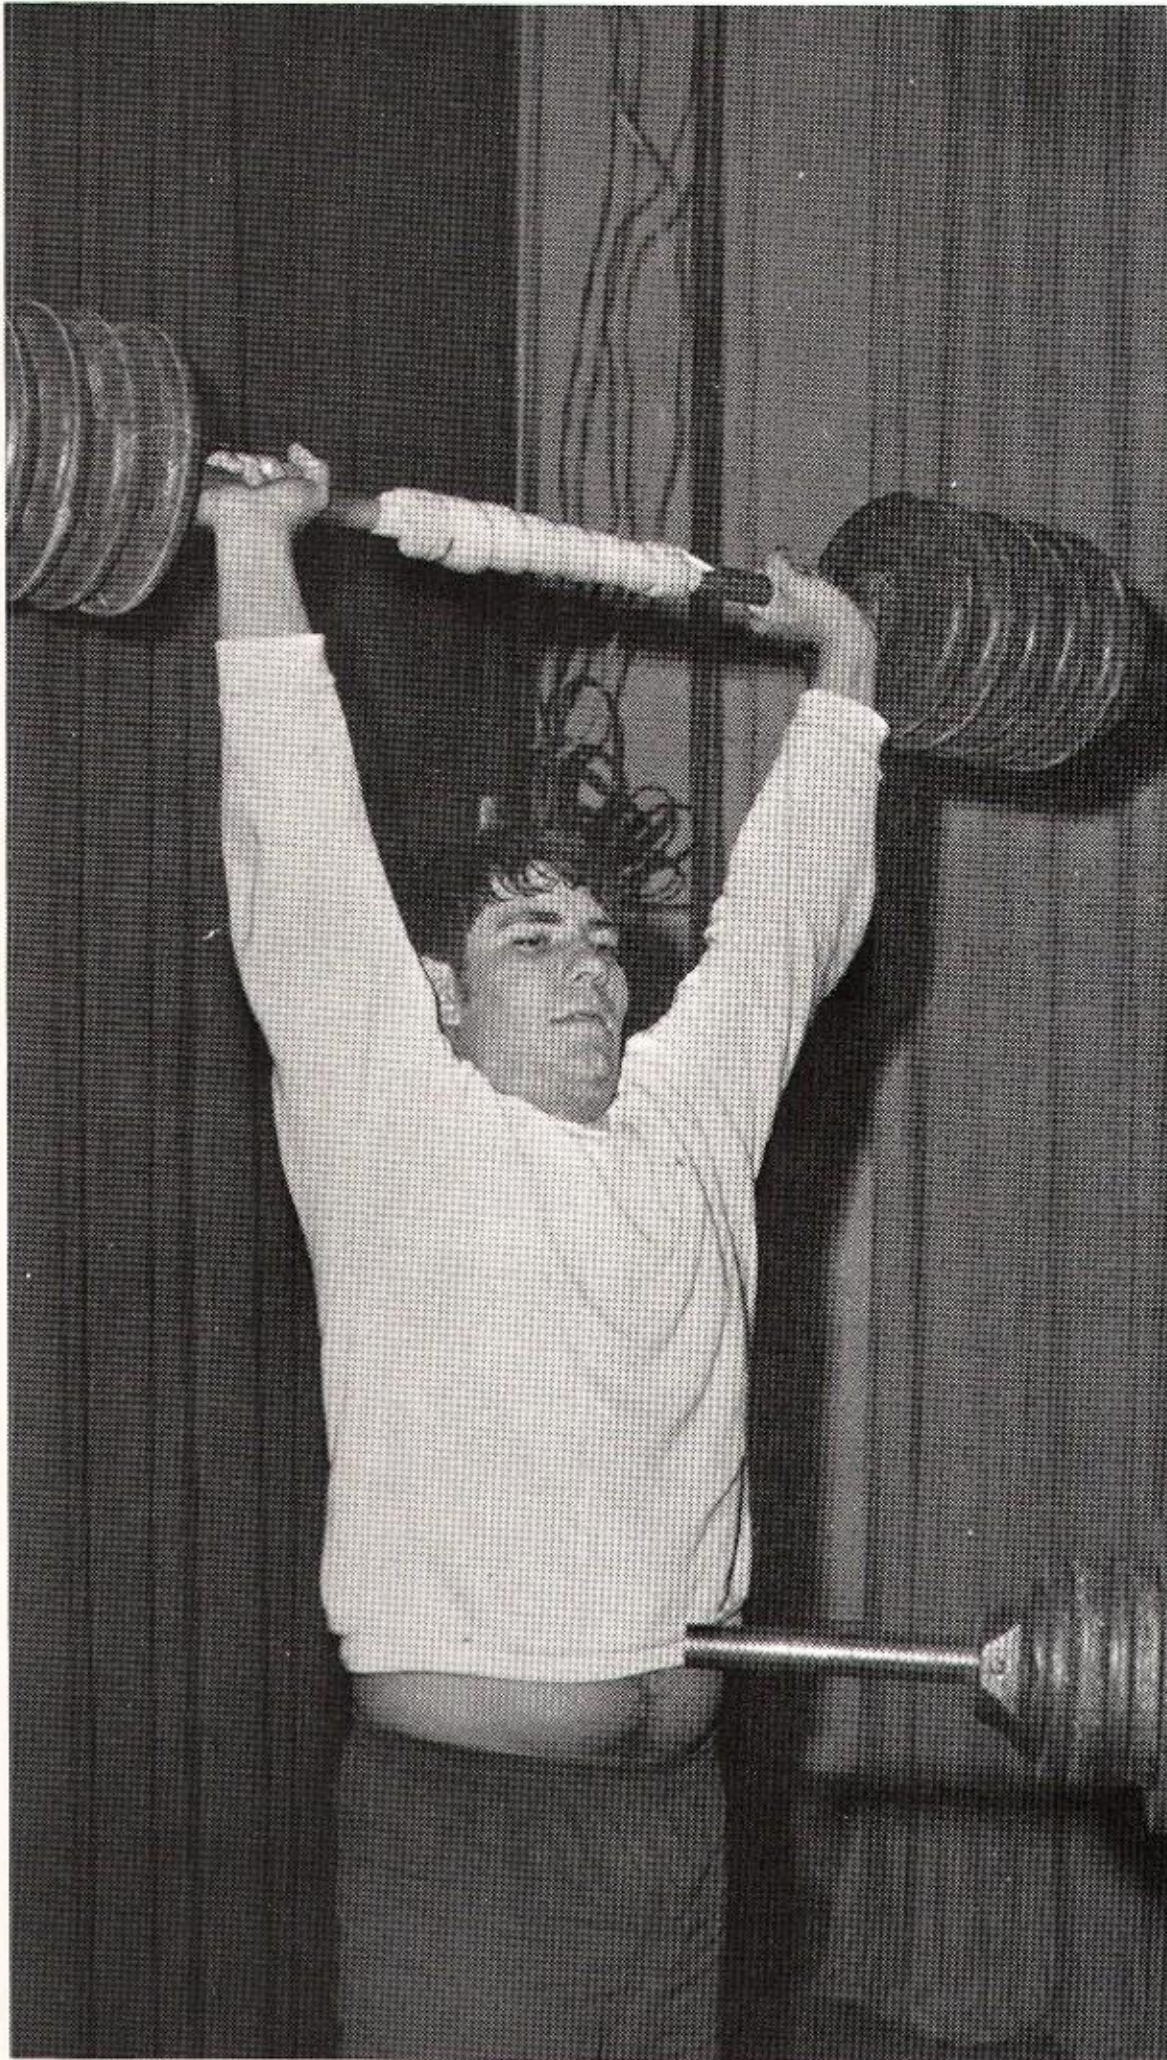

POWER TOOLS take the skillful hands of an expert to run efficiently and smoothly.

DRIBBLING PRACTICE pays off for Ron Holiday on the Basketball floor.

Involvement in the Body . . .

"All right—twenty laps. Let's go." As they huff and puff around the gym their hearts pound, their lungs stretch, and the result is physical development. They work at becoming physically fit and consequently feel the pains of growing. They don't have the satisfactory feeling of defeating competition, but they do win as they race with themselves.

In the shop the boy becomes master of the tool as he develops the skill needed to run a jointer plan or the printing press. He develops his actions to be proficient in running himself.

SWEATY FOREHEAD of Stand Notestine is caught while he presses the barbells.

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT, Luanne Krebs tells the Panthers how it is.

EVERYBODY PARTICIPATES in spirit on Farmer day and they set back and relax just like Debbie Forman.

Involvement

in the Panther World

SECTIONAL HOPEFULS provide local support for the Panther Netters.

Stand up! Speak up! Tell all seven hundred eighty Panthers how it is. Support your team. Blow a susaphone in the last row of the band. Shout at homecoming until you're hoarse. Find a place on the crowded dance floor. Stop at Sandy's after winning the ball game. Getting involved in the world around himself is man's greatest desire.

MONKEY SHINES appear through the open window. Terri Hoyer and Dawn Merriman are always up to something.

THE LAW, David Langley seems to be interested in his boots. What you say partner?

HOMEcoming QUEEN, Joyce Sassanella is already for her victory lap in her new convertible.

STUDENT 1978-79

Involvement Comes Natural . . .

REPRESENTS ONE YEAR of athletic accomplishments. Students get in all the action.

"Let's stop at the Pizza Shop."
"First and ten. Do it again." "Meet ya at the corner drugstore for a shake." "How about going to the drive-in Saturday." "Boy that algebra is easy with that new formula."
No matter what he says, where she goes, or what they do—it's a STU-DENT'S LIFE.

Go Get Your Worms . . .

Everybody talks about it, farmers worry about it, Indians dance for it, and frogs love it.

Better than Earl Finkle, brighter than a sunny day, the P.H. F.F.A. turns out the weather. What's the weather going to be? Rain, sleet, sunny, snow, warm, cold, wet, or dry. Sure as a sunny day, tomorrow could be a good day to go fishing.

98.6 D IS THE TEMPERATURE! I think you have the wrong thermometer, Lonnie, it's weather temp not body temp.

DON'T THEY EVER GROW UP? Seniors have a snowball fight in the parking lot with everybody getting snowed under.

DID YOU EVER MEASURE EVAPORATED WATER? Jeff Goudy and Lonnie Messer do it everyday rain or shine.

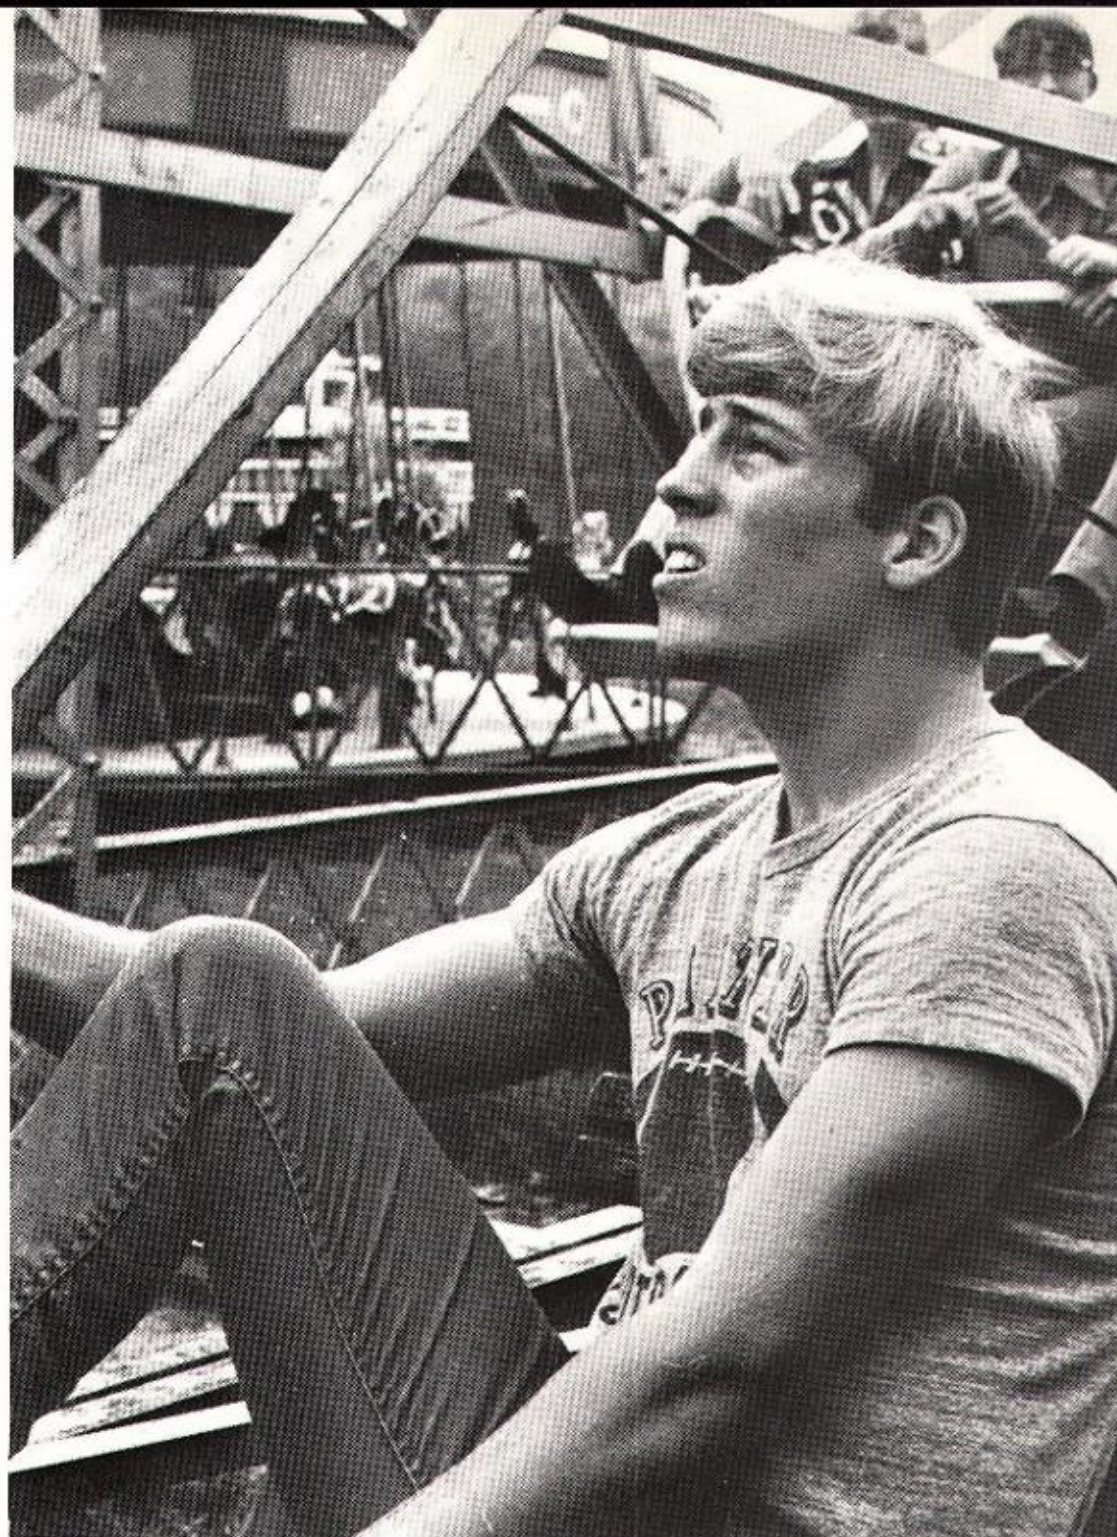

OOH! RIGHT IN THE HEAD! Unidentified flying objects called Snowballs sail through the air every winter.

Students and Their Part Time Jobs

The modern teenager's life takes cash and lots of it. Many students find the need for outside activities and outside funds. A part time job fills both of these needs and can be enjoyable as well.

From the experience of having a part time job, a student learns to be efficient and responsible. So whether it's at home, in the store, at the lake, or at the "fungus farm", I've got to work or else call her and tell her I can't go Saturday night.

Working at home on the farm, Kevin Frey plows a field on a warm spring day.

THOSE MEAN LITTLE BRATS never stop pestering Rick Tracey for another ride, a better seat on the Ferris Wheel or anything they can get at Buck Lake Ranch.

THANK YOU for shopping at Kroger's and come again. Terri Hoyer earns her bread by selling bread, vegetables, soap, meat

Maybe Now They Will Behave . . .

In order to keep people in line one class came up with some unique methods, not quite as bad as the dunking stool, stocks, or pillory and a lot more fun for participants. It was a speech class with people talking out of turn. They made up for it by publicly apologizing, demonstrating, performing gimmicks, and even standing in the corner. Mr. Shirar was relieved for the help of student executioners under the direction of Mr. Hepler. "How Embarrassing!"

LOOKS LIKE SOMETHING SLIPPED! And in this corner everything's coming up Rosy except the socks.

SUPPOSE TO SIT ON AN EGG TO HATCH IT! Tell Martha Showalter that and she'll smash it.

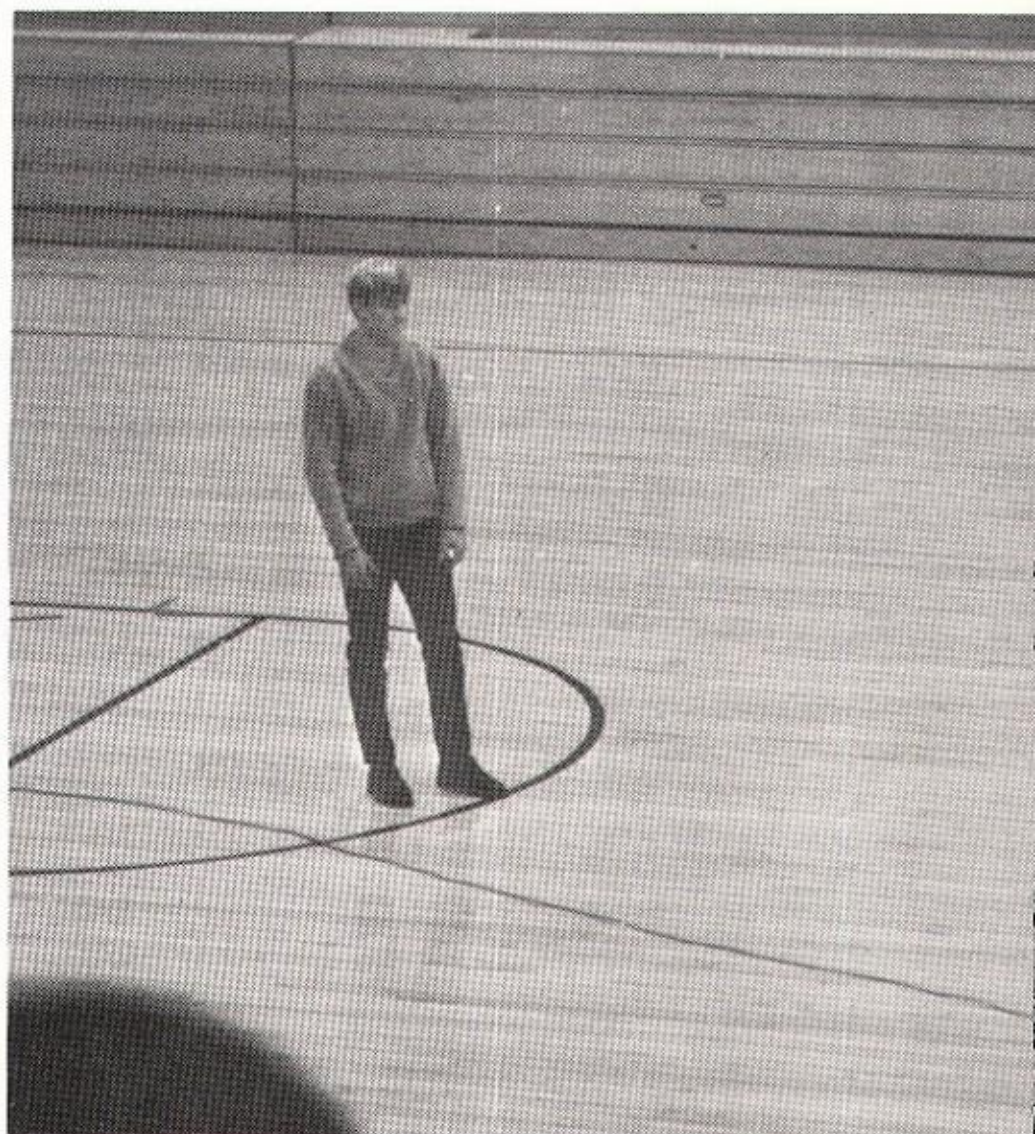

DON'T SWALLOW THE CREAM! or ten easy ways on how to cut your throat through parliamentary procedure. I second the motion!

WHICH CAME FIRST, THE CHICKEN OR THE EGG? Neither, the Speech CLASS pushed the egg, but what happened to the chicken?

With his drum to keep the beat and Rick Tracey to add the excitement, another convocation was a success.

With a tired body but a strong finger, the Red Head goes on with the show. They create a challenge for our own varsity team.

In a small amount of pain, Mark Fultz does a yoga exercise that is supposedly good for the body.

Charles King, the Negro singer, brought harmonization into our school as he uses Dan Merriman to explain his diaphragm techniques.

"The Dust" performed for the student body and had the biggest reception of any convocations before. They gave deep and meaningful thoughts to the kids.

Two members of the Goshen High School Swing Choir put their whole selves into it as they sing "Tea for Two."

Field Trip in Gym

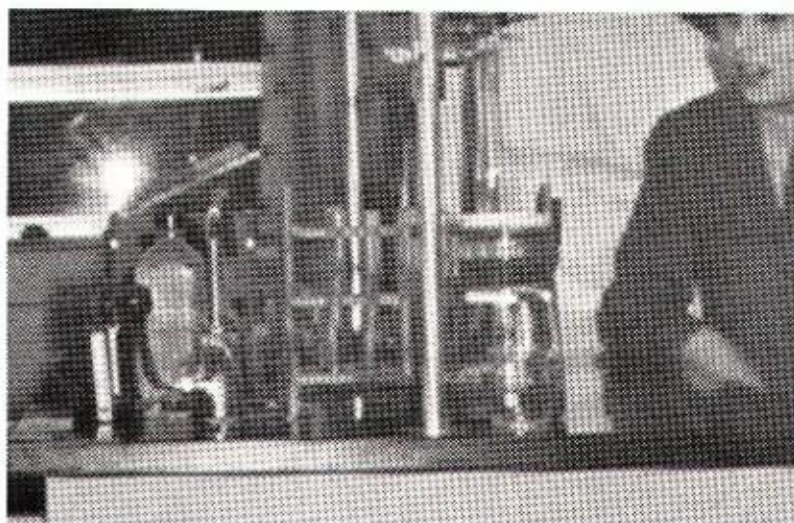

I wonder what it is this time—At least we get out of class! The Goshen Swing Choir lost their "rooster" and are trying to find him because he's a big spender. A Negro spiritual singer congratulates the student body on being Black Panthers. The Dust comes sweeping through with God, Love and Rock'n'Roll, while Yoga shows muscles you've never felt and shouldn't have. Entertainment comes to Prairie Heights with a grand slam home run as convocations proved to be the best ever.

A Bunch of Show-offs

NEVER TOO LATE TO COME BACK. Janet Prough a former graduate from P.H. visits the school and has a sip of punch during Open House.

They come to see the stars in the Planetarium they are proud of, to see the teachers their child talks about all the time, they browse in the library and tour the office, the gals go to the Varsity room and tour the other side. They sip punch in the cafeteria and listen to the local choir in the gym. It's open House with exhibits in all the rooms—a time to show off the facilities.

MR. JONES is on his toes as he shows School Board member Kenneth Perkins around the Office Education Classroom.

UTENSILS UNANIMOUS. Vital lab equipment makes chemistry more than just a book.

I COME TO SCHOOL EVERYDAY But still here I am sitting at Open House after taking refresher course tour of the school I went to that same day.

PUNCH 'N' COOKIES, PUNCH 'N' COOKIES. A family sits together in their school cafeteria for a little snack after touring the premises.

Juniors Upset Their Elders

As the saying goes: "We shall overcome!" And the Juniors did! For the first time in P. H. history the seniors LOST a class tourney. Did they really forget their wheaties or were the Juniors just better? Whatever the answer, (Some classes did lose more than others through interscholastic competition) the Juniors won. Those Juniors will be Seniors next year.—Will they win again or get the big head?

PORTRAIT OF A SHOT—Chuck Huff and a jumper.

IN A VICIOUS AREA, Dave Neeley shows muscle to pull down a rebound.

Joe Walters flies through the air with the greatest of ease in making two points.

The only thing in common that both teams want. And it seems to have just helped somebody out.

Homecoming Starts Alumni Association

"I just had a fantastic idea. Wouldn't it be nice to bring back the old timers—to get together and just talk about old Prairie Heights."

(We don't suppose it was as well accepted as it could have been. We had hoped that more of the graduates could get back and more of the student body would turn out and honor them, but at least something was started. If Prairie Heights doesn't build an Alumni Association at least it won't be our fault.)

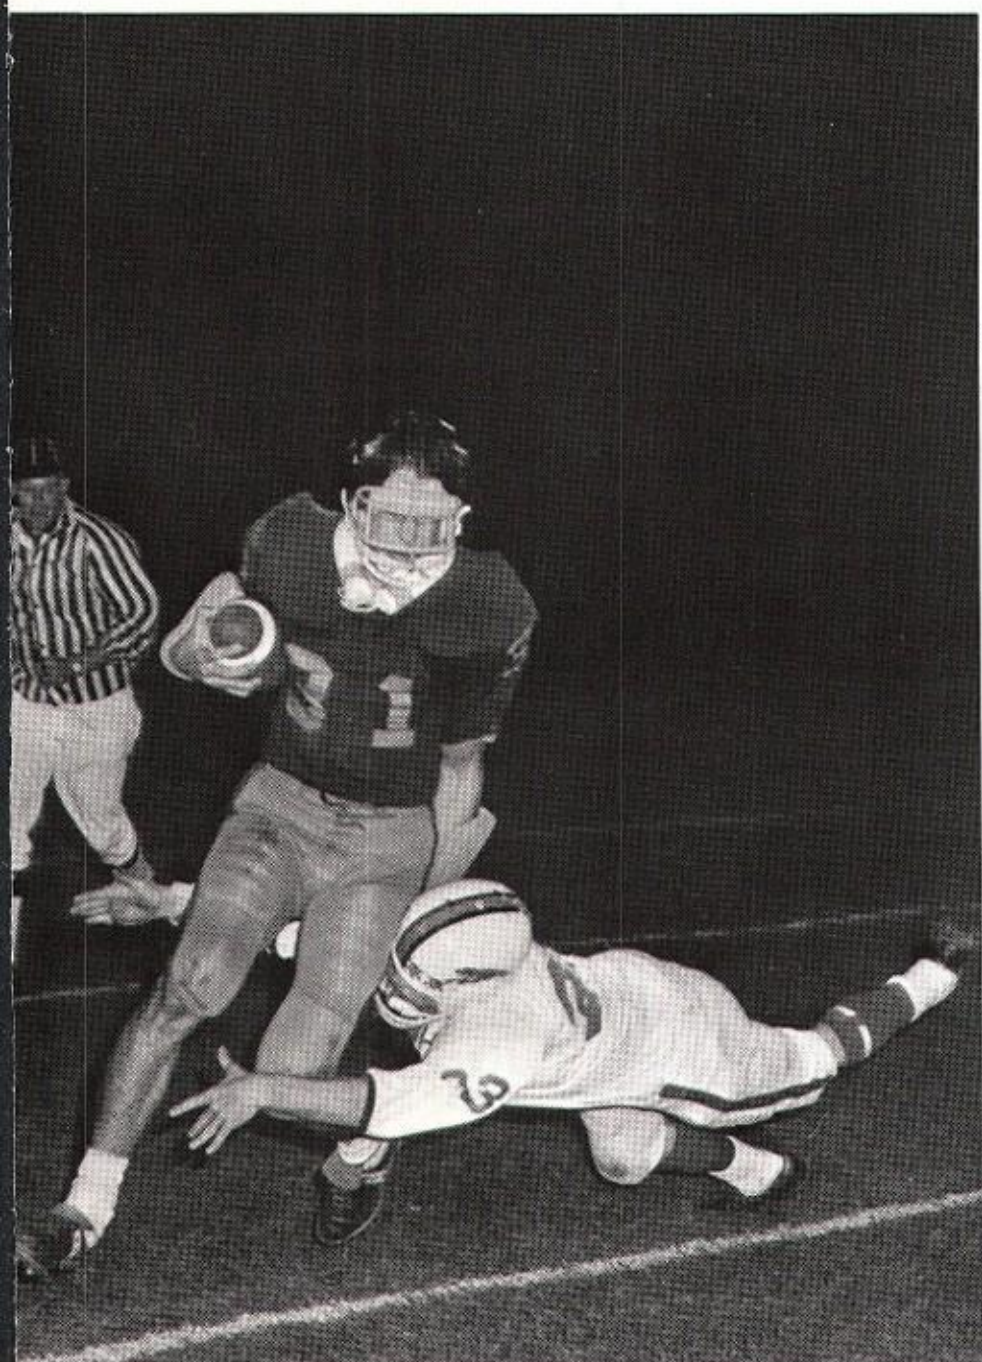

"Why there's Mike, and Linda, and Phil, and Ned, and Renee, and Julie, and Bonnie, and Jack, and Lynn, and Roberta, Diane and Steve, and Stan, and Jim, and Joan, and . . .

BREATH TAKING SURPRISE grasps Joyce Sassanella as her name is called over the public address system as Miss Homecoming 1970.

DOOM'S DAY for Hamilton's 31 as Mike Sassanella makes a flying tackle was the only thought of the opponent.

Honors: This and That

Miss Homemaker, Rexanna Ernsberger, receives the Betty Crocker Award.

Surprise! The CTA had enough money for two scholarships. The second went to Randy Perkins.

This year the CTA had a $300.00 scholarship for Cathy Allen, FTA Member.

The school is informed that David Beiswanger will be traveling with the National FFA band to the crowned heads of Europe as he receives the Dekalb Award.

Miss Debbie Rhinesmith, March of Dimes Queen, represent Prairie Heights in this worthwhile charity.

First recipient of award in Northeastern Indiana in this contest, Richard Taylor receives $600.00 scholarship from Elks Lodge.

For an outstanding four years of English Debbie Tracey receives recognition.

Drum major Jerry Graham receives his senior key chain in band.

After Kathye Streb reigns as LaGrange County Cornschool Queen for a year classmate Luanne Krebs is bestowed the crown.

Beiswanger Bunch Wins Again! . . .

Gentleman, start your engines, I mean push our pedal. Bang!! They're off! The Prairie Heights Little 500 is off and running on the 50 lap feature spectacle with bike riding talent never before witnessed in a Lifetime.

The fast curve, the long stretch, the exchange, the pit stop, the winded lungs and the checkered flag. All action packed thrills wrapped into one as the winners collect the spoils, with the losers, well, having a good time.

THE BIG START IS on the sound of the gun. Make sure you are a full two bicycles ahead before you cut in.

CAREFUL! CAREFUL! A bad exchange may mean the race especially if somebody lands on the spokes.

THE VICTOR IS awarded by FFA SWEET-HEART, Linda Rigg. Good race, David.

HUNCHED OVER for less wind resistance. Rusty hall leads at this point.

Theatrical Presents Scenes of World's Fair

LIGHTS! CAMERA! ACTION! We now present the Prairie Heights Drama Department in "Meet Me In St. Louis," a story of a family living in the city of St. Louis during the days of the World's Fair.

"My trolley car has been mutilated", "Bite your leg," or "I'll never speak to him again." It all happened at Prairie Heights on a Friday and Saturday night with a live performance featuring the students of P. H. A fine play was pulled off without a hitch pleasing one and all to a night of good entertainment.

TAKE THAT YOU BRUTE! as she slaps him across the face in a burst of rage.

I'LL BITE YOUR LEG! and she really did as her father's chances of getting a job fly out the window.

DON'T HIT ME MOMMY! I didn't mean to mutilate the trolley car.

"NOW YOU LISTEN to me Mr. Duffy!" with feeling and emotion Kathye Streb (Rose) explains how things will be run.

Number 31 becomes Panther history as Terry Levitz has the honor of having the 1st Prairie Heights retired number.

The two twins above from Brushy made sports "71". Doug Wilder is Letterman of the year and Terry Levitz is Senior Panther.

Lakeland's threat, our Outstanding Football Senior, as well as Outstanding Baseball Senior, Doug Wilder puts it all together.

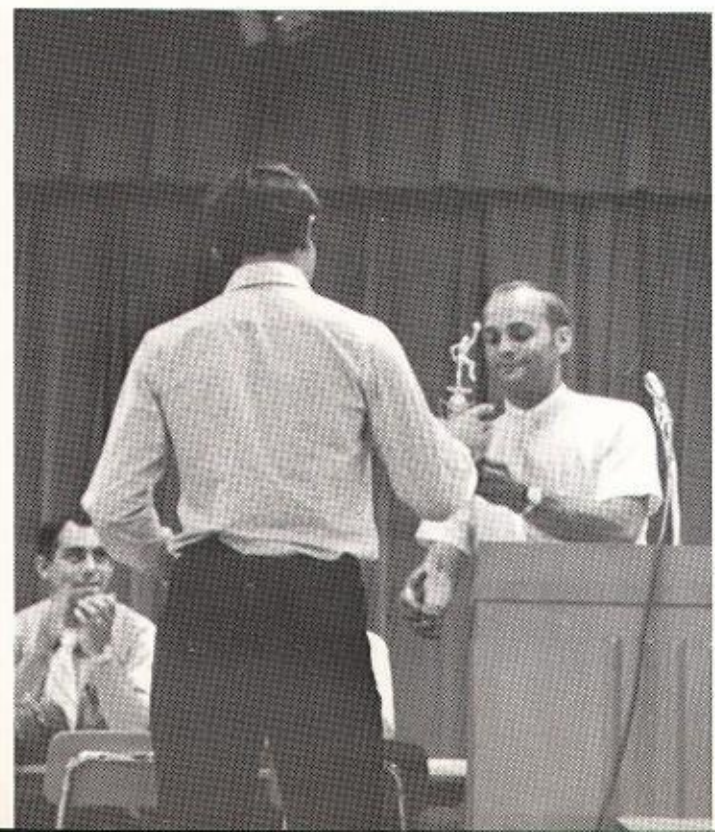

Ugh! I don't know if I can eat all of this or not. Jason Cowley, Mike Hayward and Rusty Hall relax after stuffing themselves.

No. 31 Retired; All Sports Kept . . .

"Golden Guts," "Most Outstanding Senior," "Letterman of the Year," "Senior Panther Award," "Larry Dunkel Award," these are terms that are familiar to the Panther Athlete. They say a job well done and congratulations. They say thanks for giving your all for P.H. The athletic banquet has become more important each year because the conference win has become more important each year. And to cap it off we got the "All Sports" Trophy for the second year in a row.

David Beiswanger receives both the Outstanding Senior Award and Larry Dunkel Award in Track.

Mark Fultz is congratulated by Coach Click as he receives the Outstanding Senior Award in basketball. He was the only all conference player.

Lee Richards seems to have swallowed a prune pit. "But Lee, we didn't have any prunes!" Susan laughs, and Brian Barnes doesn't even notice, what is he so interested in?

Prom Setting Out-of-State

A night out on the town, tuxedos and formals, corsages and boutonnieres, a fabulous banquet, a dreamy dance, a party all night, with groovy records and plenty to eat and drink, a trip to the sand dunes, or horse back riding all day Sunday is what happens on that weekend in May. Its a night to remember, treasure, hold and cherish in the heart. You can describe it all day but one word says it better —Prom.

Patti Kain and date contemplate, "should we, or shouldn't we?"

Terry Levitz sneaks a drink—of punch—at the prom.

Their royal majesties, Prom King and Queen Alan Knisley and Bev Jones still seem a bit stunned, surrounded by their happy court Lee Richards, LuAnne Krebs, Brian Barnes and Debbie German.

Seniors Have "Only Just Begun . . ."

"How do you feel?"

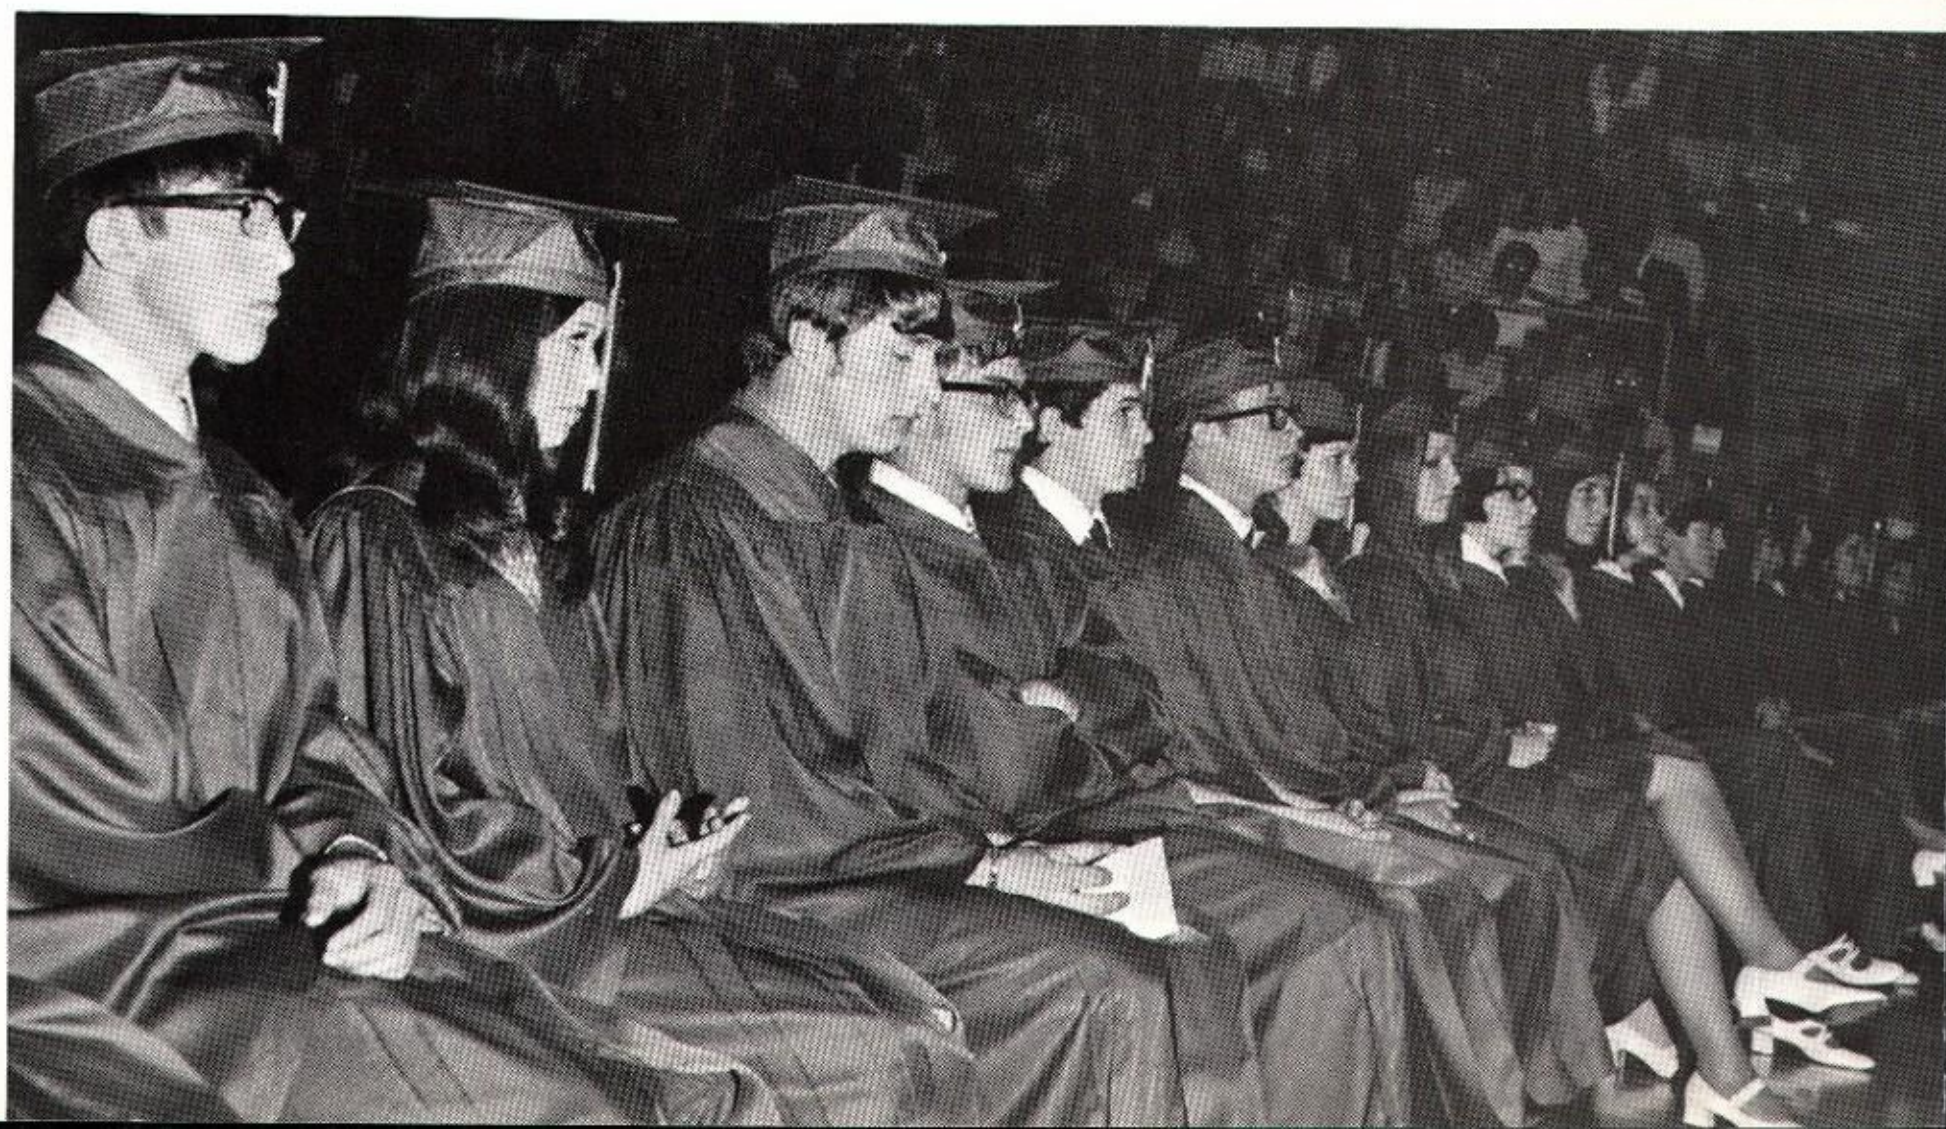

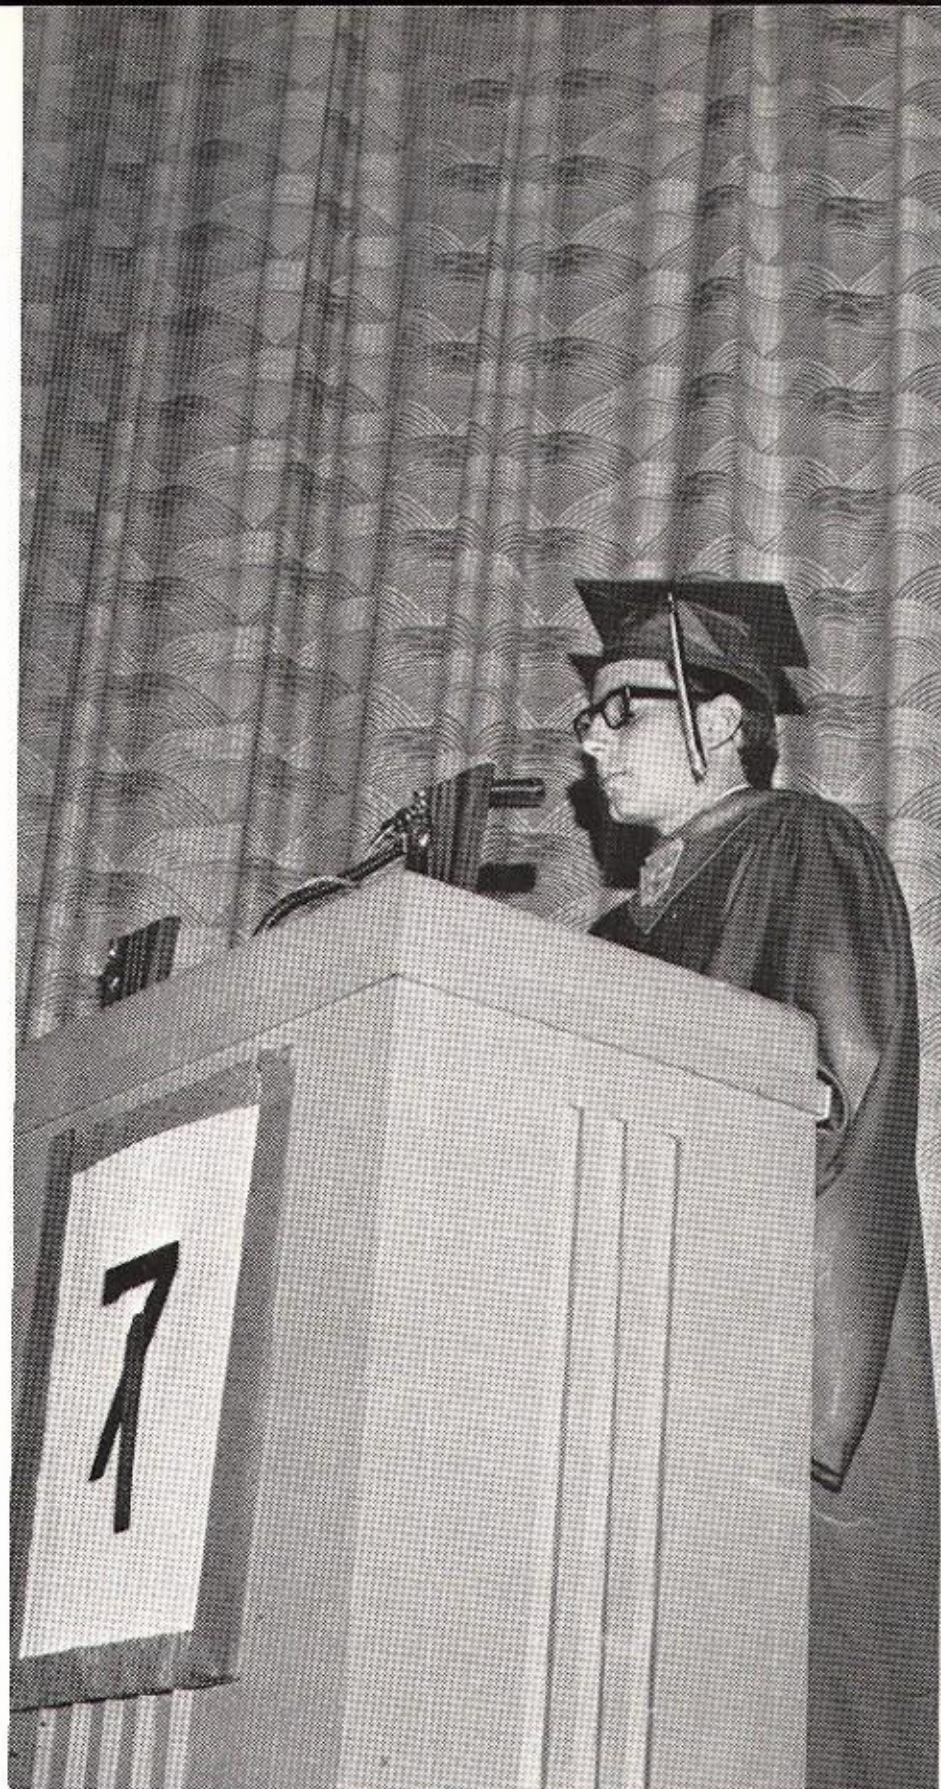

Happy, indifferent, important, sad, done, renewed, ready, lively.

It took twelve years to get that slip of paper that says "grad" but it was worth it. Good times over a sweet bippy, playing softball in grade school, the first day when you cried and cried because mommy seemed so far away. It was being the youngest in a new school that wasn't even done. (We had lunch in the art room for a couple of weeks—remember.)

And now its before us. Work, college, marriage,—Life.
"Hey buddy, I'm gonna miss you!"

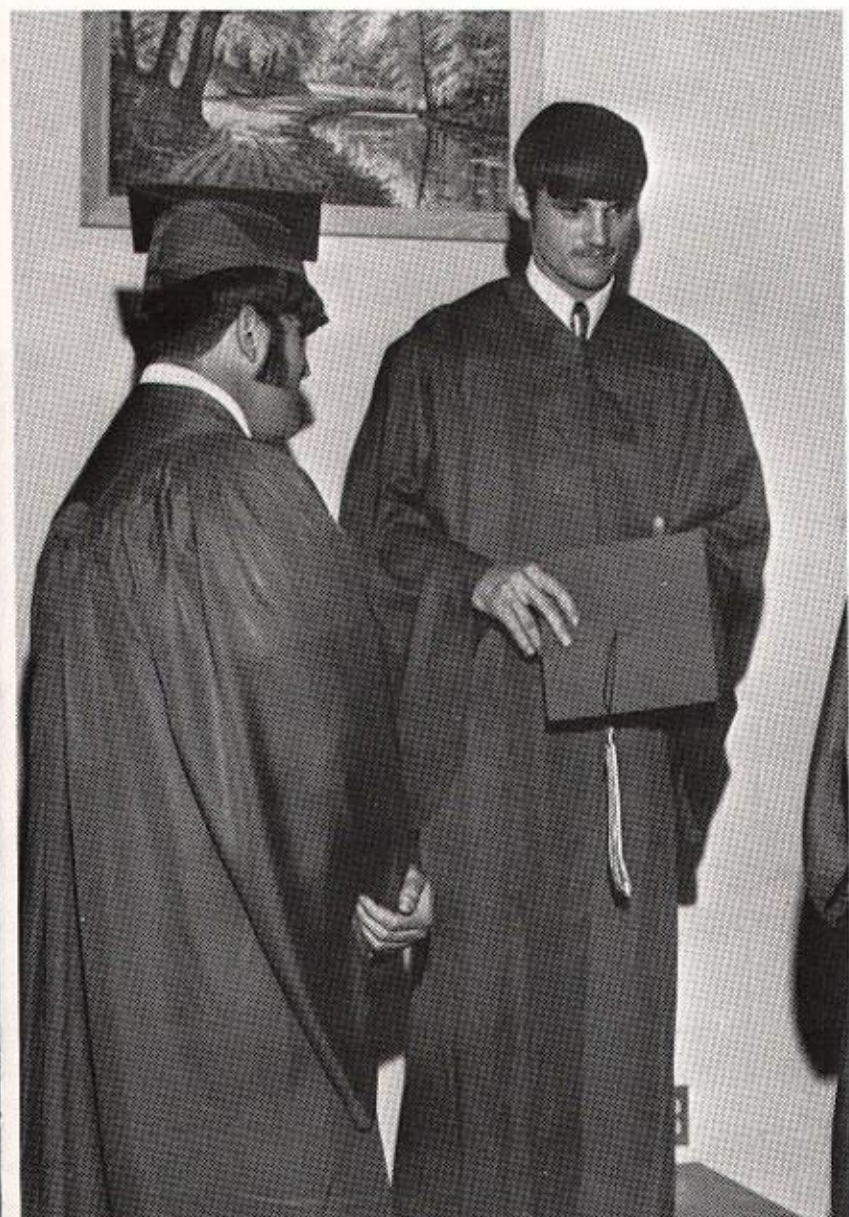

Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow, these were the closing words of the speech given by Richard Taylor, Salutatorian of the 1971 graduating class.

Sad, happy, nervous, anxious . . . ? What were their feeling? One line of seniors are waiting through the speeches from Mr. Diehl to present them with their diplomas.

CONGRATULATIONS DEB. Mr. Shirar presents Debbie Tracey with her trophy, one of her awards for being the Valdickorian of this year's Seniors.

Dave Neeley and Denny Northup prepare for the graduation proceedings by making sure that their robes and caps are in order.

WRENCH PLEASE, SCREW DRIVER, OIL.
The Auto Mechanics class is doing surgery on the operating tables with some small motors. It's the only operating table where you wash your hands after surgery instead of before.

PUNCH, WRITE, PUNCH, PUNCH, WRITE,
Deb German is working on the facts and figures of daily business in a hyperthetical office situation.

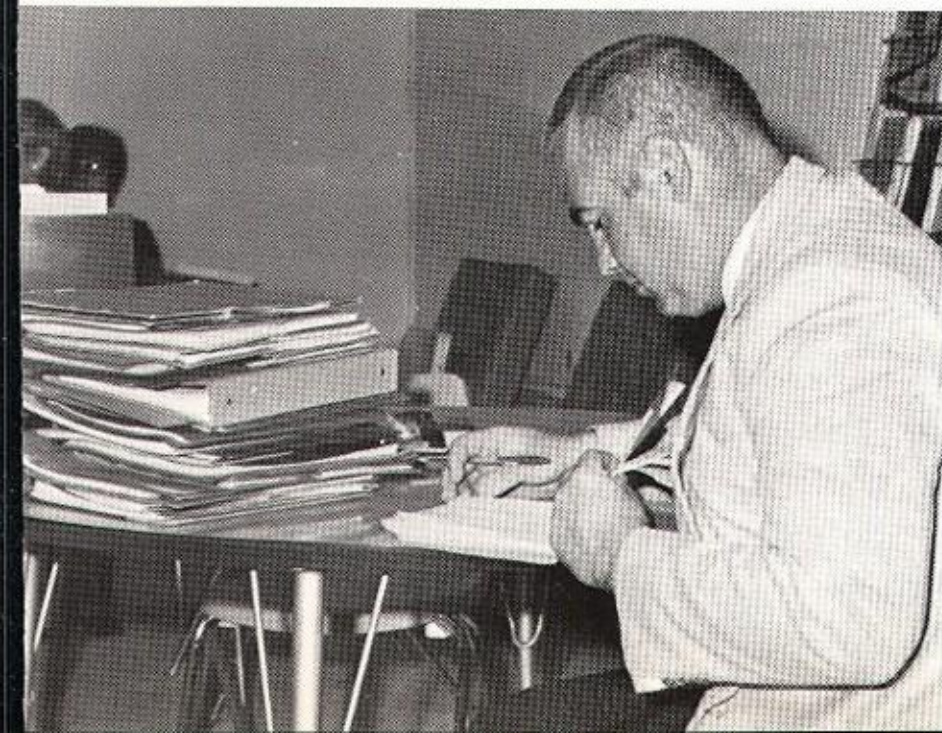

ACADEMIC 71

The Grinding Involvement . . .

"Tomorrow there will be a pop quiz on the movie." "I forgot my book." "The circumference equals Pi, r squared." "What is the capital of Arizona?" "Blend in two eggs, a cup of flour, and a dash of salt." "May I have a pass to the library?" "There shall be absolutely no gum chewing." Day in and day out we become involved ACADEMICALLY.

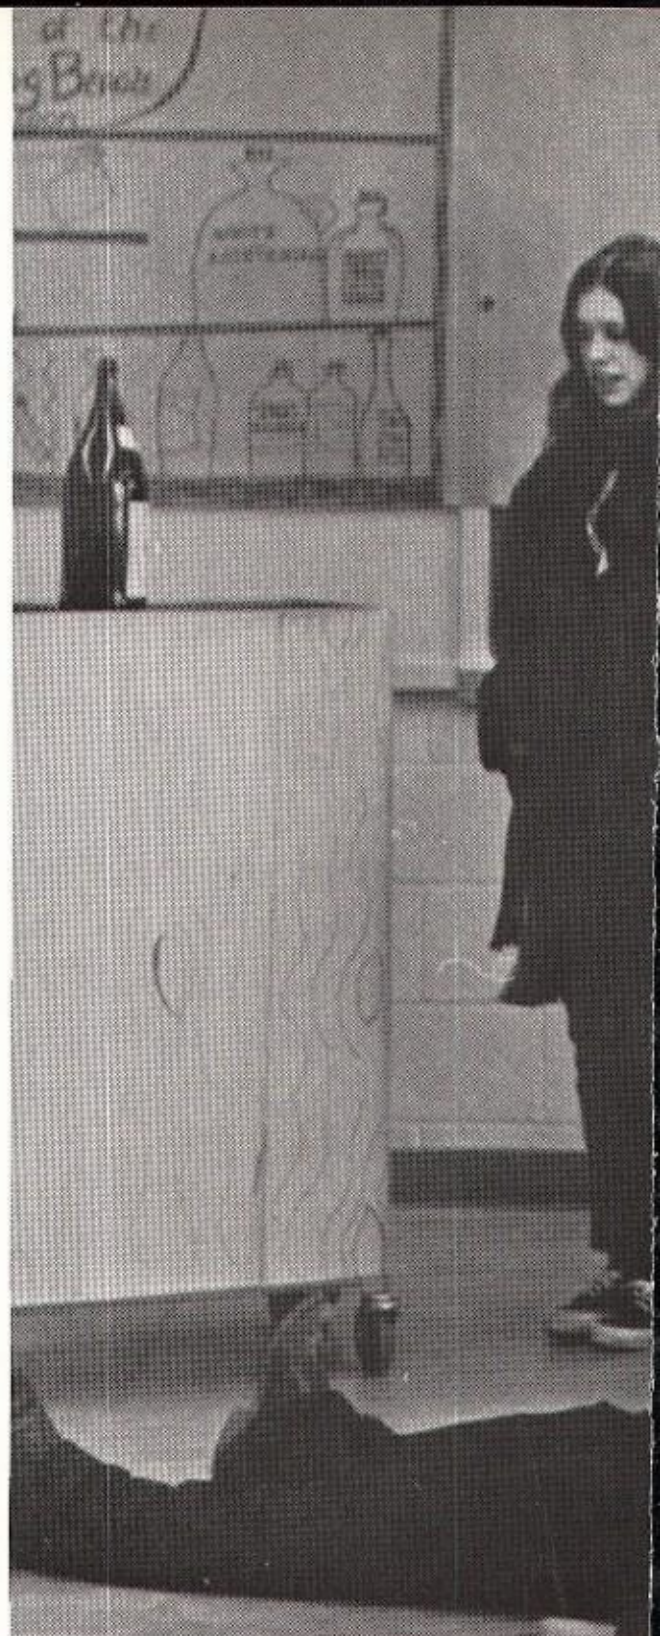

To Communicate Is Our First Asset . . .

In order to prove a movie need not be violent, sexy, or otherwise degrading to the human race one senior English class wrote, acted, and produced the (fanfare) "Midday Cowboy" and proved that it could be done. With the help of the sixth hour television class the master piece was taped and presented to all 15 viewers (Tremendous public appeal.) The partial crowd applauded and screamed at this insight to the trends of modern communication. (Horray!)

LOOKS LIKE HE'S DEAD, thinks the sheriff and two villains viewing the town drunk but meanwhile the local saloon girl pursues Mark Fultz, the banker.

TO COMMUNICATE IS TO UNDERSTAND, The French class is having a discussion with Mrs. Stiller heading up the action.

DID I SMELL WHISKEY? The town drunk has risen from the dead as the brew brings him to life.

Karen Stapleton and Mary Todd practice their lesson together, concentrating on polishing up the French dialogue.

WATCH OUT THEY MAY BITE. Debbie Cox and Kathy Anderson are intently observing their clams while they prepare to dissect them.

LEANING ON BIG D'S CAR. Lee Richards and Randy Perkins seem to be in deep concentration over some matter of grave importance. Surely it can't be some sort of mischief, now can it?

Govt. Blasts Off

Dear Senator—

I am writing concerning the senate bill number 47832, that is being discussed in your committee at the present time. It seems that this bill provides many of the teeth needed to bring about reform in the pollution laws in our state. One incident that has been reported recently in the community is the intoxication of the fish in the Pigeon River by the emission of phosphates and D.D.T. directly into the water. The chemical reactions thereby result in the disturbances of the flora and fauna, prevalent throughout the state. I therefore urge you to pass the senate bill number 47832.

Sincerely,
Your Constituent

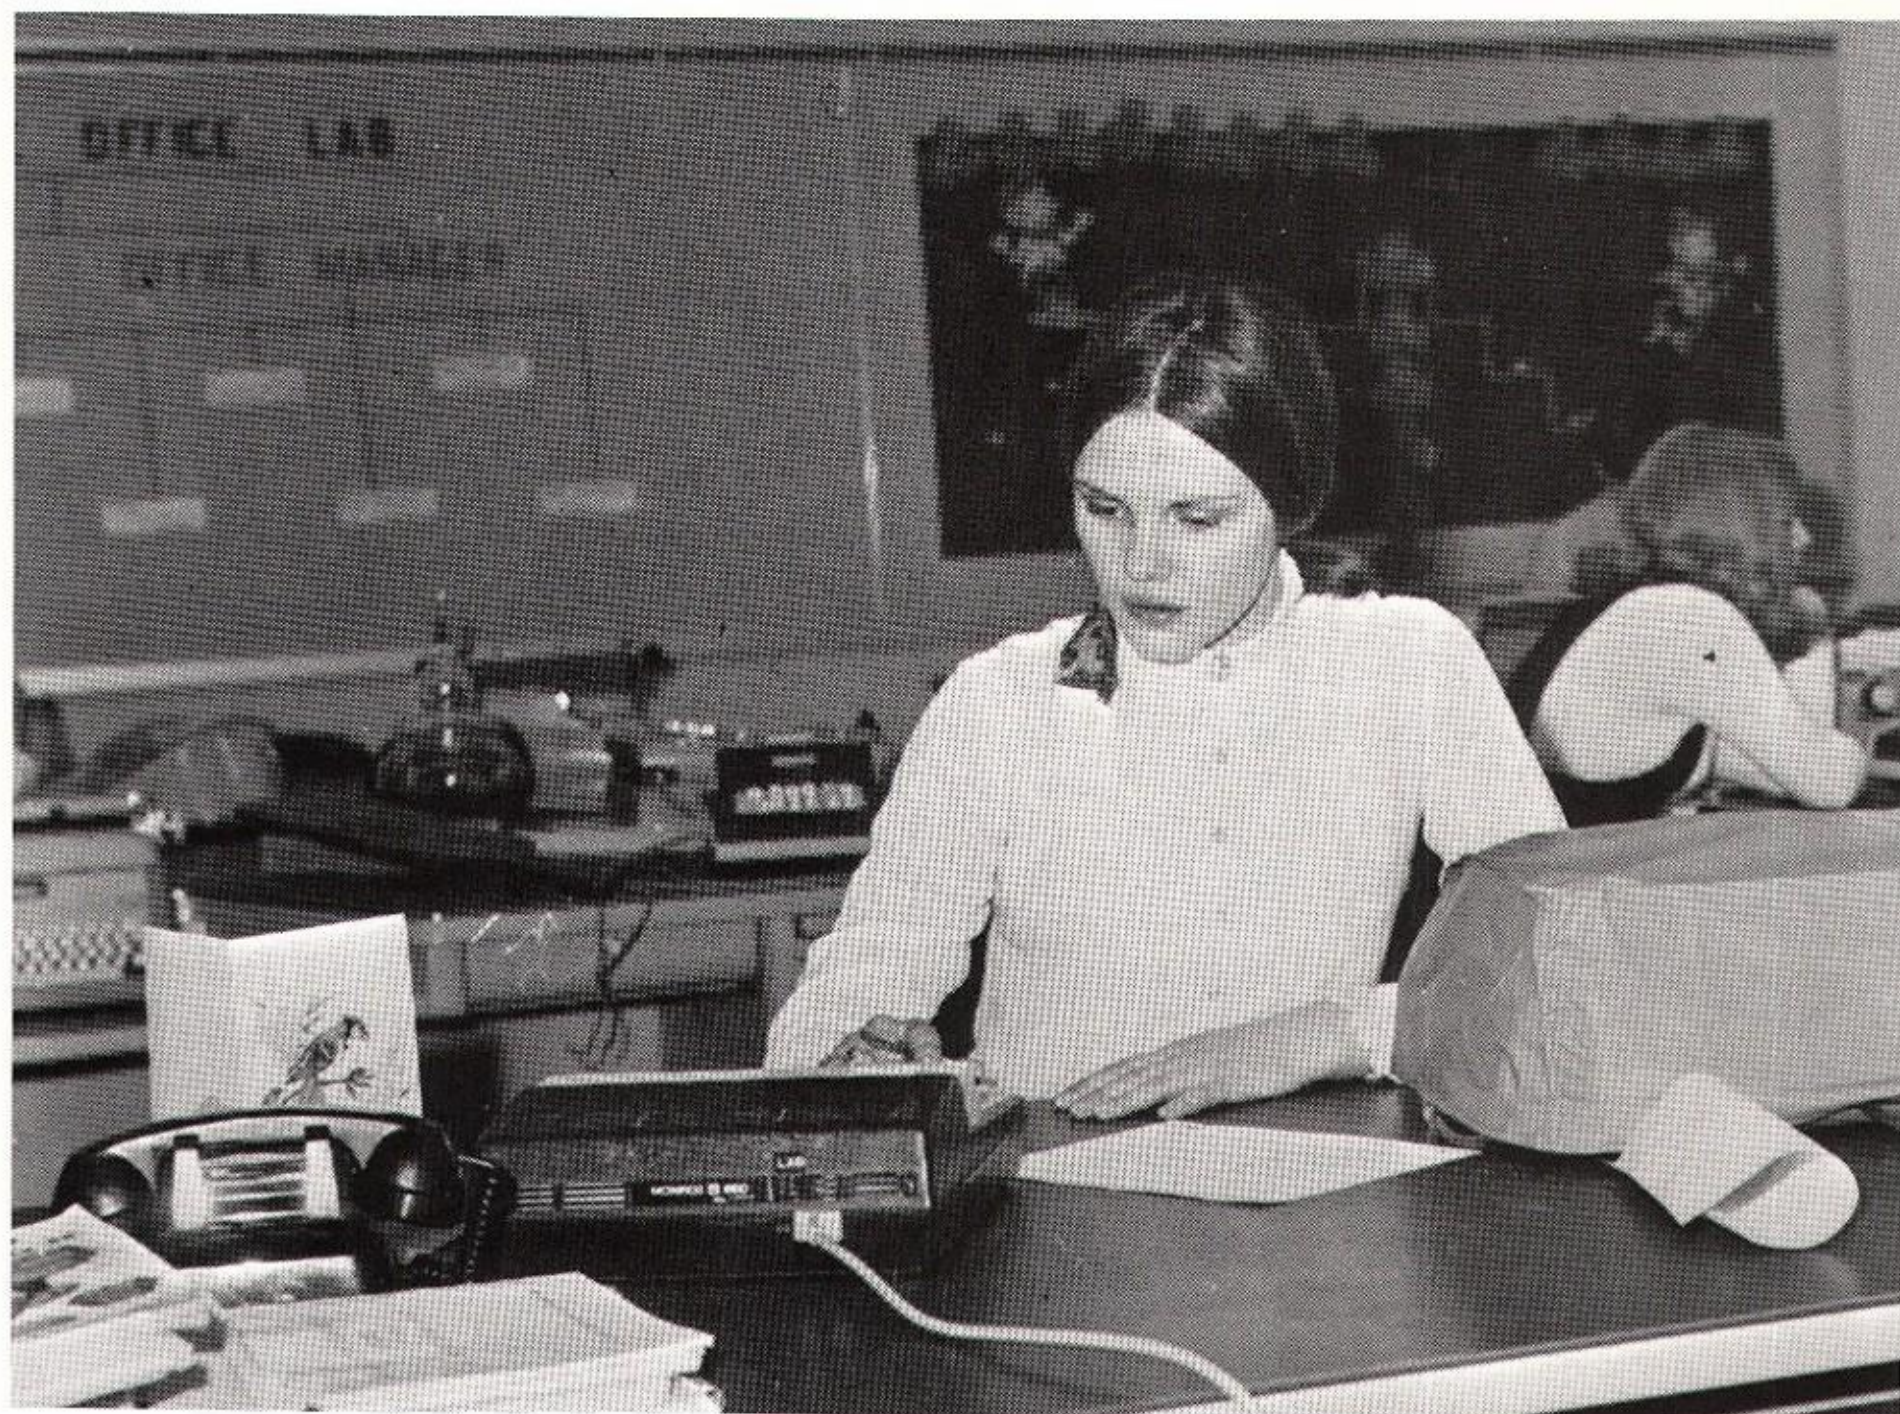

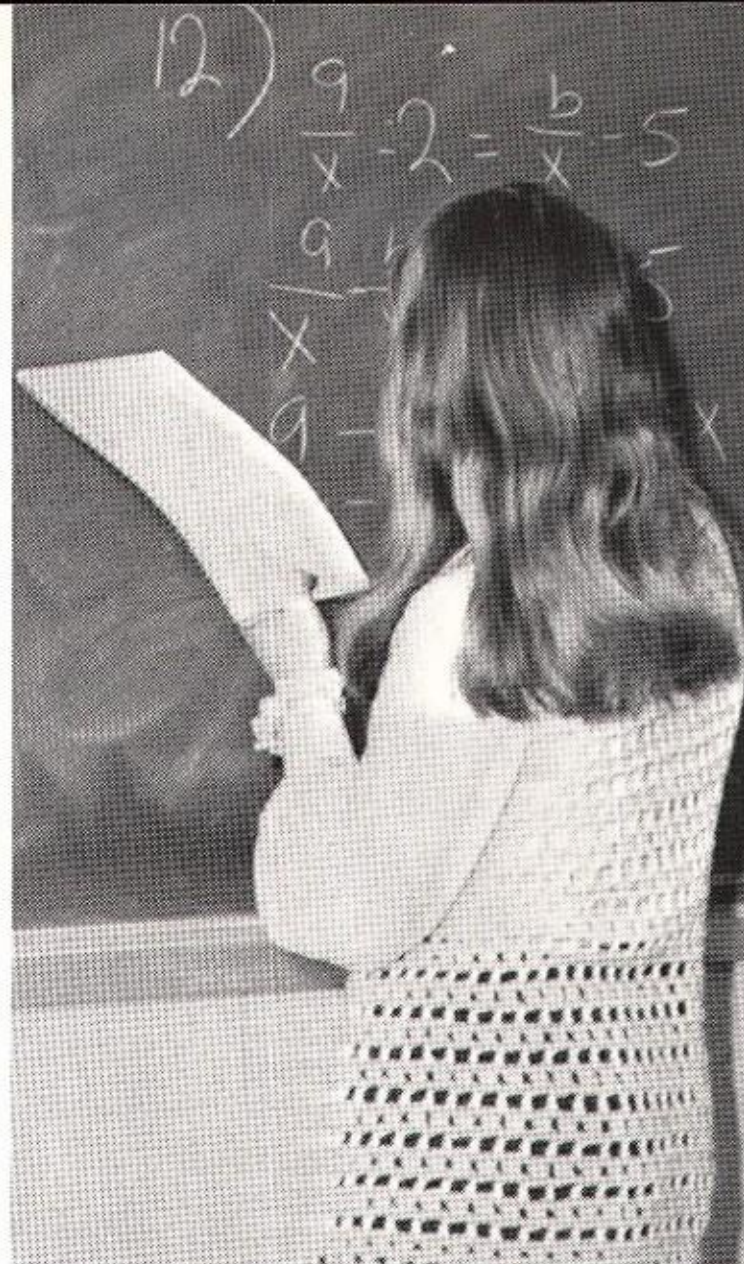

5 . . 4 . . 3 . . 2 . . 1 . . IGNITION Members of the physics class experiment with the shooting off of several rockets. Here you see a rocket as it is just beginning to blast off.

SENIORS STRIVE FOR A BETTER ENVIRONMENT. Just another common site, not so much the sign as the litter. Does this look like a picture of your own backyard? If so maybe you'd ought to try reading the sign.

Standing at the blackboard with a piece of worn chalk in hand, a student is busily writing down her calculations.

WITH INTENSE CONCENTRATION, Cindy Walton uses an adding machine that is thoroughly confusing her. In the end, however, the answer was right. Shock!

Punching an E instead of a D, March Davis controls her anger and moves on as if nothing ever happened.

Bi-Numeral Trend for Business

"Why I can remember those days when F.W. Woolworth made it big. Yes, sir in those days my most trusted friend was that nearsighted accountant, Jess Stuart. But now they have these here big corporations and their new-fangled computers. I'll admit Jess couldn't figure as fast as those computers, but then a computer can't tell you a good joke to cheer you up after you lost your shirt."

Pat takes a last glance at her work as she wonders what she'll get on this one. After all, can't be as bad as the last one.

Vocational Means Learn While Doing

Theory is important—and that's what books are for. But just imagine the first time you let someone in your kitchen. There's taffy on top of the cupboards and a wad of thread in the middle of your bobbin, and certainly nobody would wonder why a tractor has "three brakes" unless all they had ever seen was theory.

FIRST THING you learn is to use a thimble in sewing class. Diane Strawser and other members of her class certainly are acquainted with patterns and material.

WARDROBE COMPLETION is never really done as long as there is a sewing machine or needle for industrious Homemakers.

PIT STOP for Terry Northup and his disk during "Plow Day" on the school farm. David Beiswanger runs to the heated tractor's aid.

IN CHARGE OF POWER is Kevin Frey high on the seat of his large 1850.

SORRY BOYS Henry Ford gets credit for the assembly line even though it does save time for Richard Pusti, Carl Sain, and Charlie Rasler in their stone moving.

HELPFUL ADVICE is offered by Mr. Warfel and Bill Price listens to make his job easier.

BY LIGHT OF THE MORNING SUN a building trades member rips a piece for the house.

Building Trades Added to Curriculum

They started up the bus and headed for Clifron's. It was break time for Building Trades and that meant a half hour of fun and balony (as if it wasn't all fun!). Each morning at 9:30 the old red, black and white coughing workshop complete with students made its way to the 327 corner to tell jokes, sip a coke and just have fun. It was a good time to suck the smashed thumb or race to see if anybody could make the old catastrophe do more than 55 miles per hour as well as relax from the pain of odd positions and strenuous physical work. The program was a new experience at Prairie Heights and quite worthwhile for building techniques were gained as well as the colorful stories.

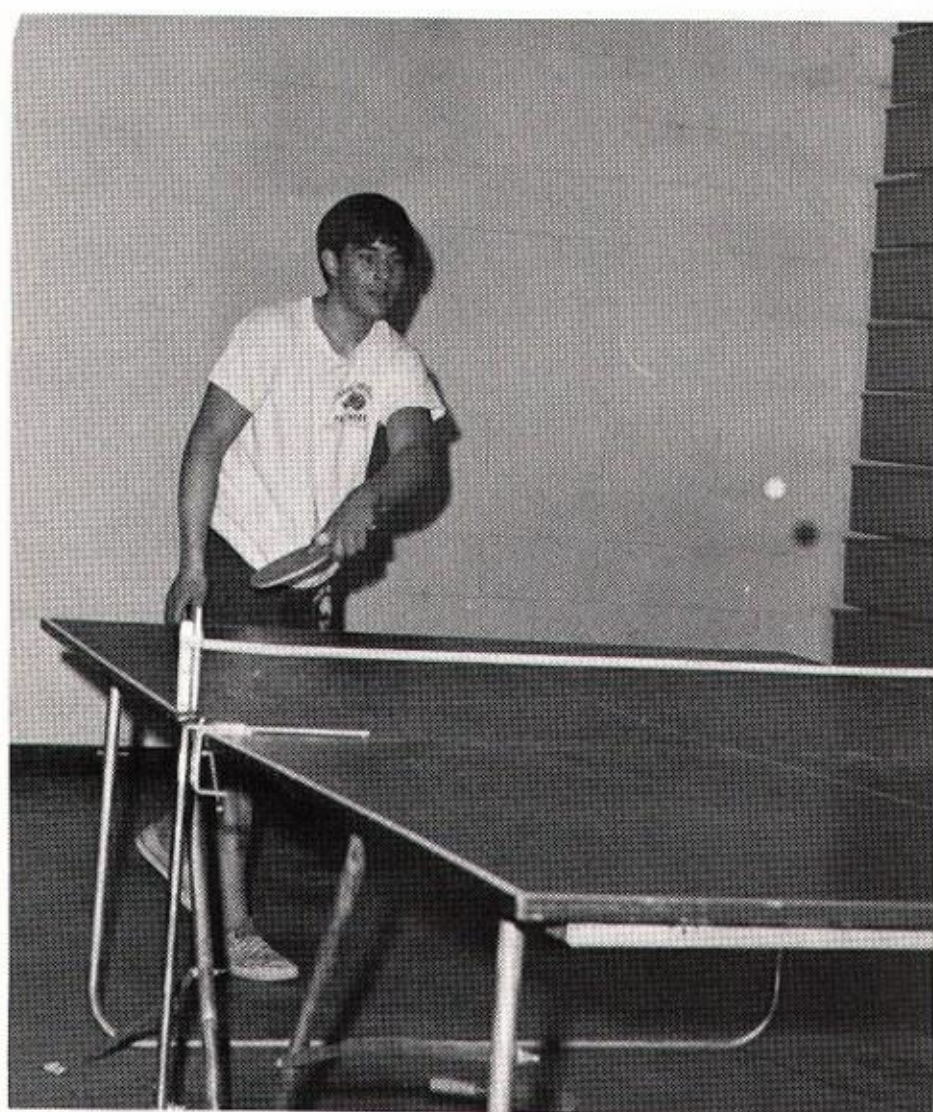

MANLY HEN'S PARTY is for Charlie Rasler, John Robinson, Gary Hollowell, and Carl Sain during a break in the house raising.

P. E. a Fun Filled Hour of Relaxation

1,2 . . . 2,2 . . . 3,2 . . . now 15 push ups. P.E. is the class where everyone can release the tension from the days activities. A nice game of dodge ball, or was this the semester for tumbling? And in the fall and spring you get the added attraction of running around the track. Everyone enjoys the fun filled hour of putting those muscles used only in P. E. class, back in shape. So don't let anyone kid you, P. E. is a real blast.

HEY, PHAROAH! How's this for a pyramid? I sure would hate to be on the bottom of that jam pile at the gym show.

WHEW! That one all most got away from me but lucky Chuck Denton has practiced his back hand.

I FEEL FUNNY hanging in Midair. Brian Milleman flips for joy during his gym show trampoline act.

SHIRTLESS, Kevin Kellett attempts a "goal-in-one" while Greg Guinn is alert to block the shot.

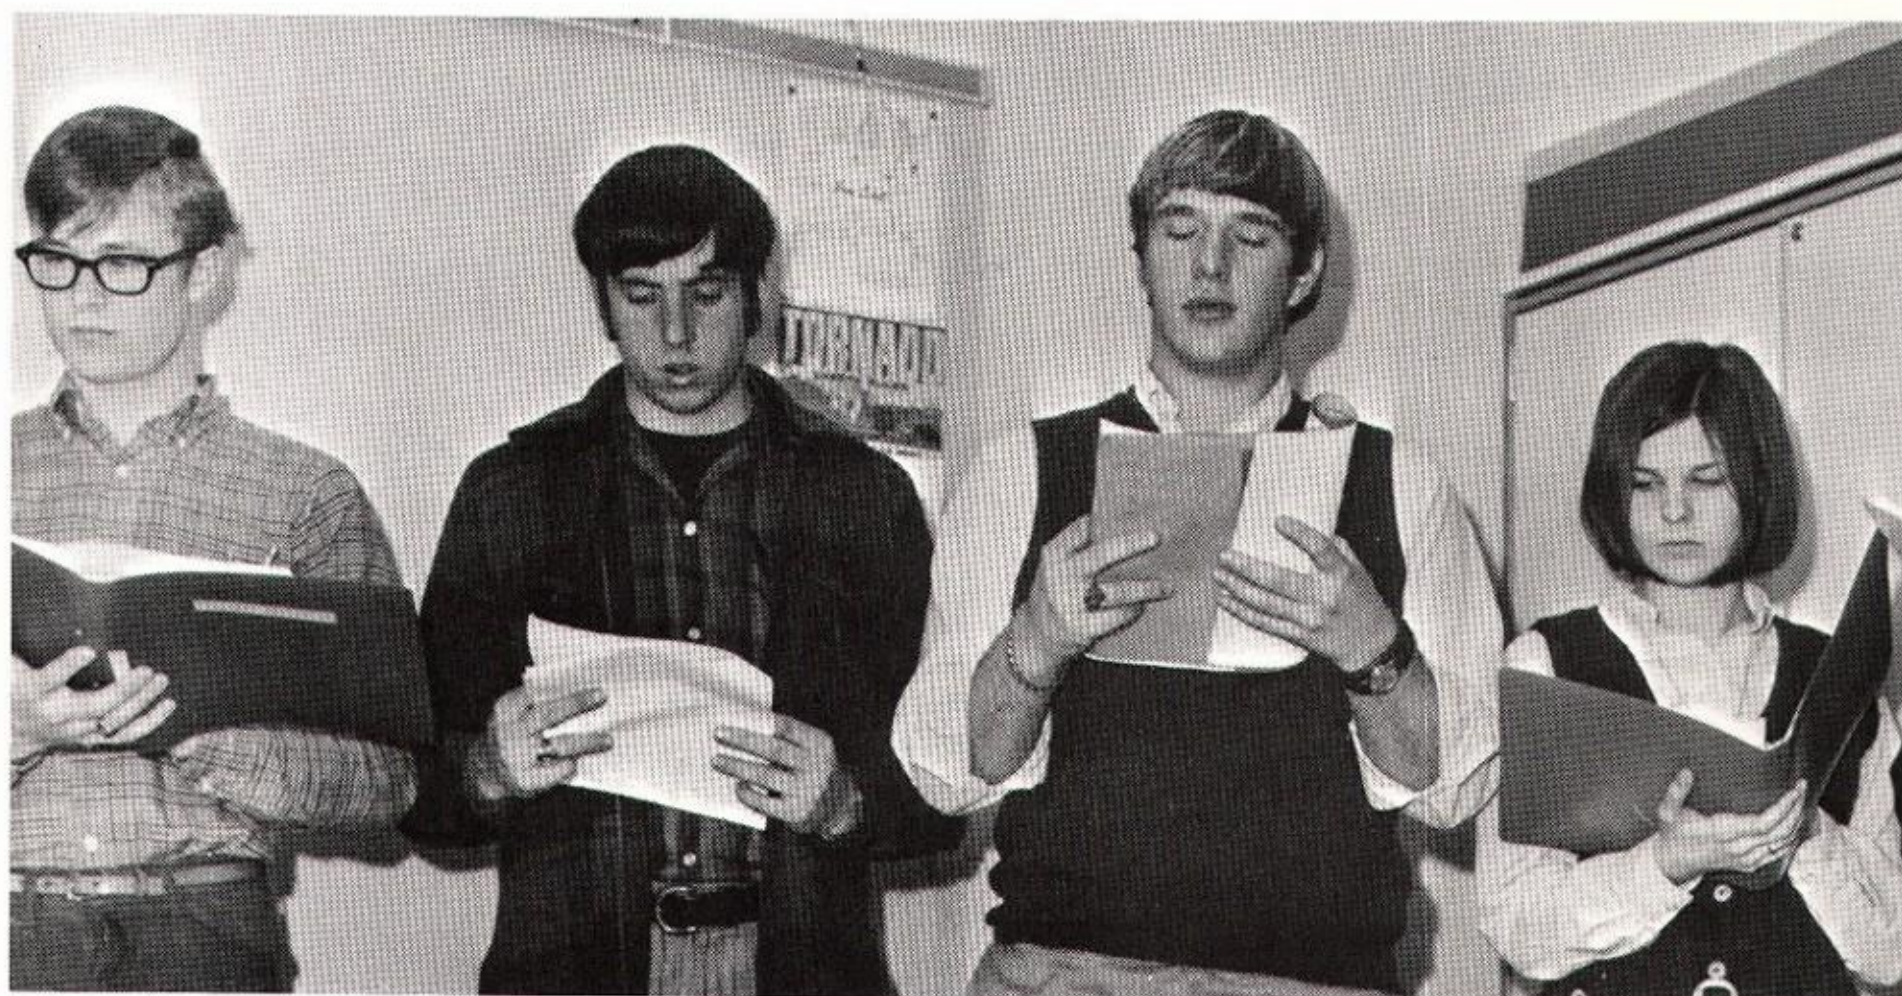

"SKIP-TO-MY-LOU" has become an annual event for boys and girls in Jr. High P.E. Careful not to show your third left foot.

See Yourself Talk . . .

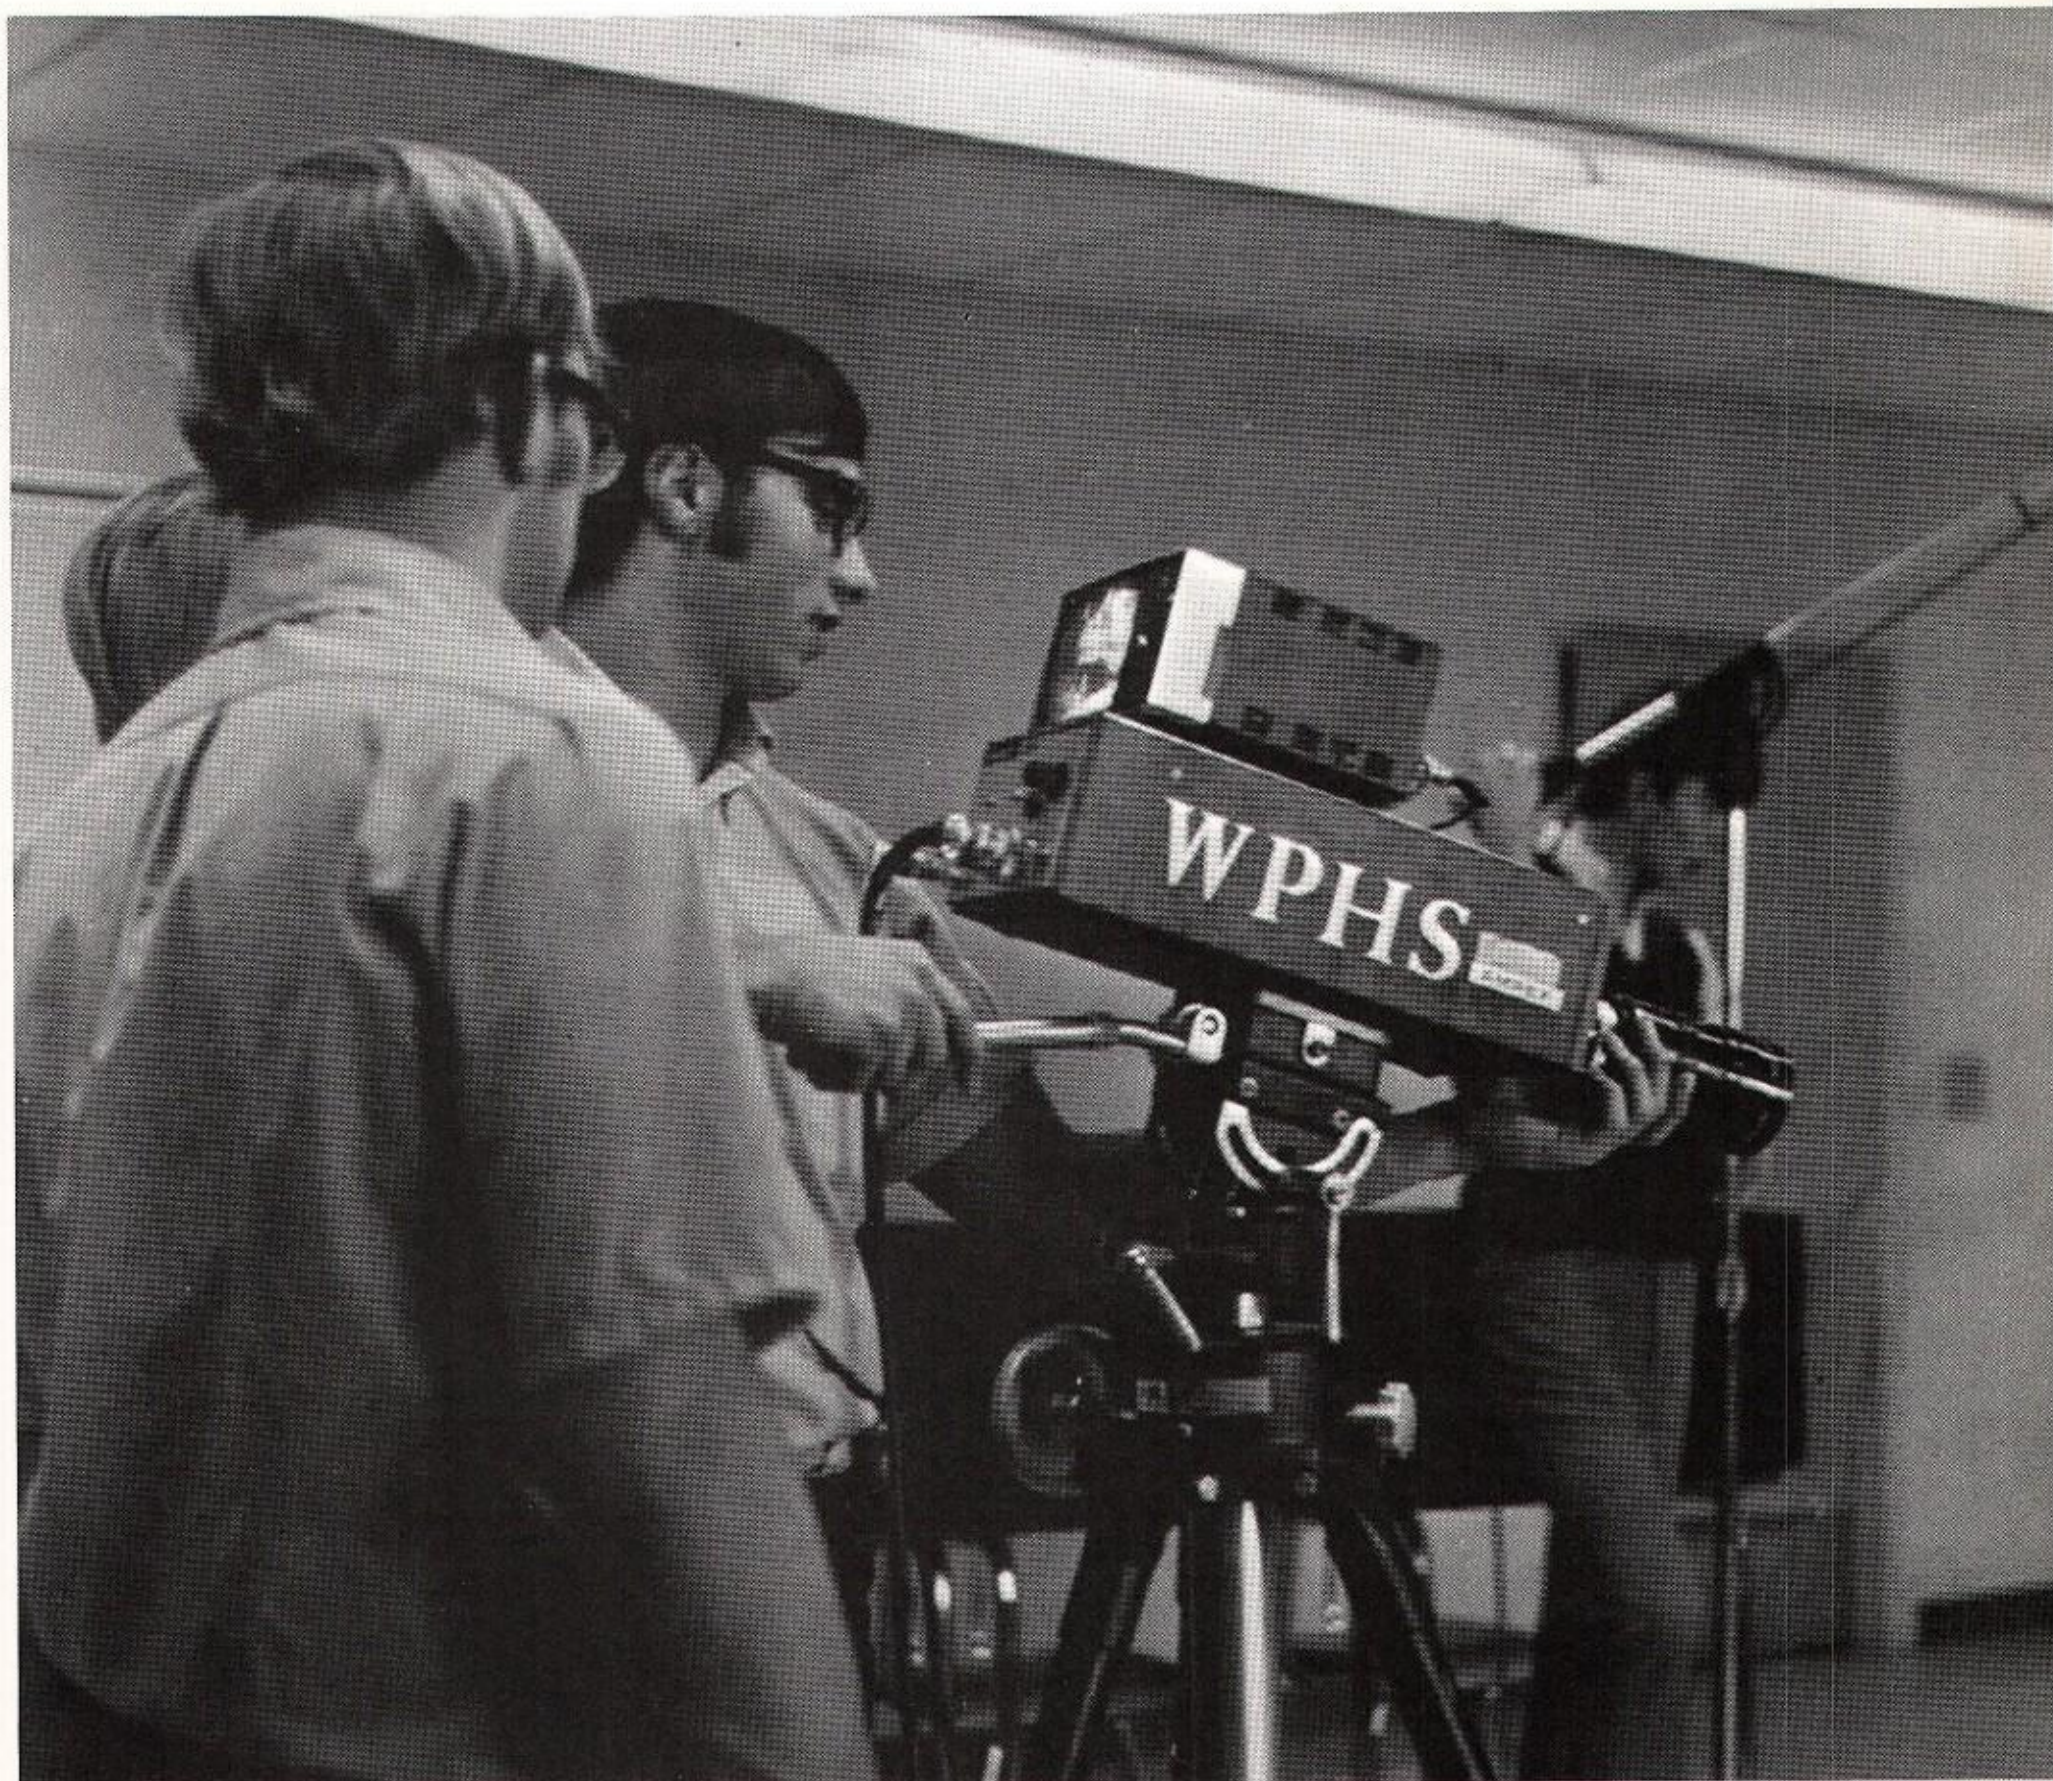

When the Speech class walked in they noticed the TV camera, which was normal. But, there was something behind it that wasn't normal. Further more Mr. Hepler had a gleam in his eye. They had a sneaky feeling of what was about to happen.

"Today, to break the monotony," Mr. Hepler says, "we will do impromptu speeches on TV—with you making the subjects." And when they played it back—"Oh! Oh!" Monkeys on film.

ADJUST THE SOUND! Linda Hicks takes hold of the mike trying to pull it in the direction and position Mr. Hepler thinks best.

THERE WAS AN ANCIENT MARINER that sailed the mighty sea. Well the speech class at least painted a good picture of this old English rhyme.

READY! AIM! FIRE! Whoops we mean action thinks Vic Fretz as he zooms in to get that close-up during TV class.

The crowd was all smiles when Russell hobbled out and brought the band to attention for the opening selection. Suffering from a basketball injury the first trumpeter got so nervous his crutch slipped off the podium. (Kathey Streb also student conducted).

OH! NO! Whoever invented parades in the heat ought to be shot. Not only Rich, Steve, and David but the whole band thinks complaints go along with long parades.

SOLEMN TRIBUTE to the service dead is the meaning of the slow cadence which accompanies this scene on Memorial Day.

Remember Hershy Day

"Raindrops keep falling on our heads" . . . that was the tune the PHHS marching band sang on Hershy Day, September 26, 1970. Skyworks, military bands, floats, politicians, the President!

It was a beautiful day. The sun was sleeping behind rain clouds, and the No. 1 band (PH) was placed last in the parade. General Hershey was interviewed and given due honors and the PH band received a hearty thanks for marching a mile in a downpour.

Some may wonder—what did we get out of it? Wet uniforms, a few ruined plumes, some colds, and a feeling of a job well done—at least as good as can be expected.

Open your mouth wide and let it sing! If you're going to make a mistake, I'd rather hear it loud and clear than not at all.

"OK from the upper left," says Mr. R. The piano starts playing, the drums start swinging, and the people start singing.

Jr. High Music is Variety

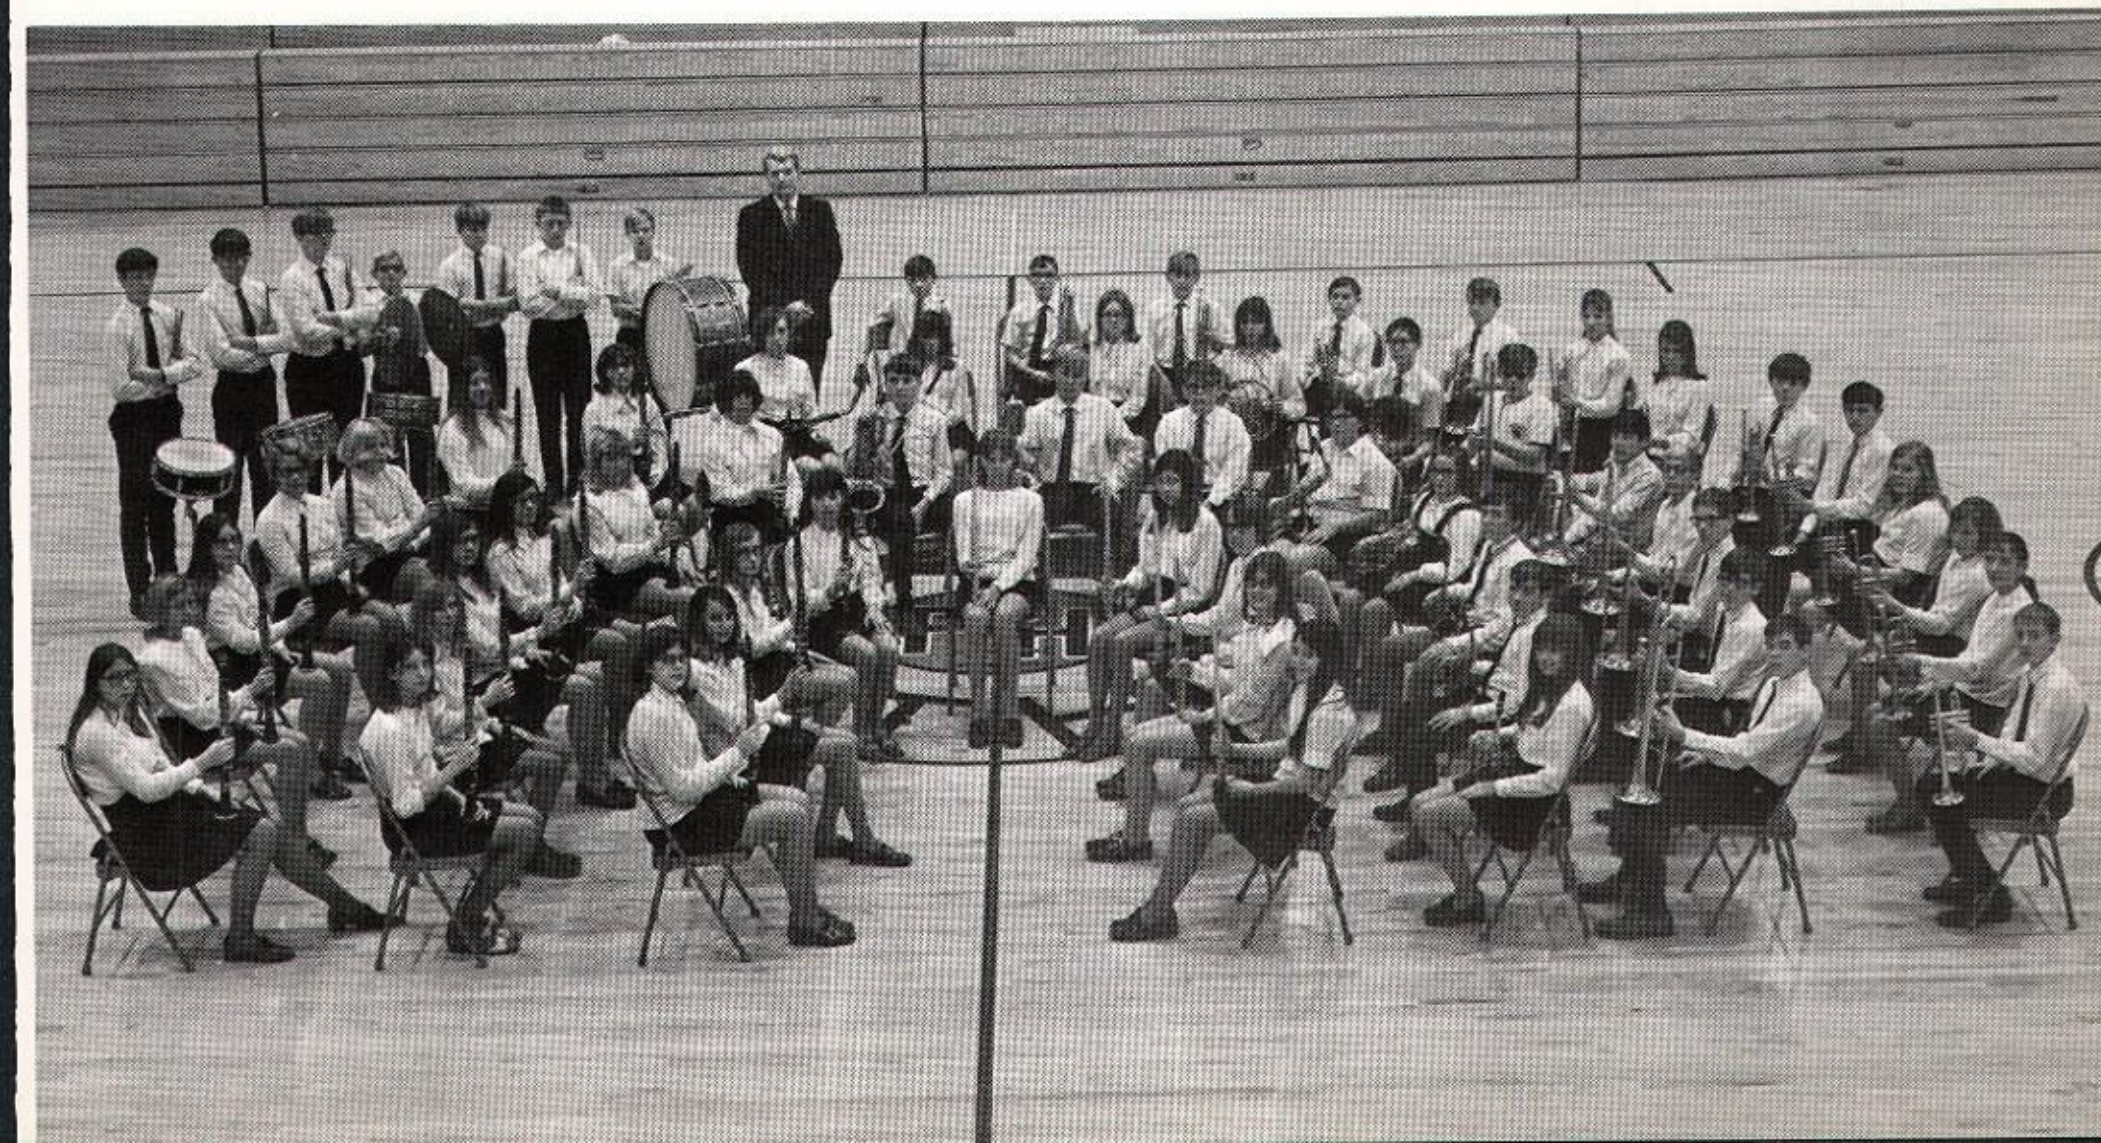

HOME TOWN STAGE FRIGHT greeted Drum Majorette, Karen Click with the Jr.-Sr. combined Homecoming show.

They that Are Involved . . .

"Mr. President." "I second the motion." "The next meeting will be on the twenty-third of October." "All in favor signify by raising your right hand." "We are planning a field trip on February 26, 1971." "I move we buy a new tractor." "Hey, I got the biggest scoop ever for the paper." "I suggest we contribute one hundred dollars to the bleacher fund." "I support LuAnne for Student Council President." Everything fits. Nothing is left out. The involved Panther world is ORGANIZED.

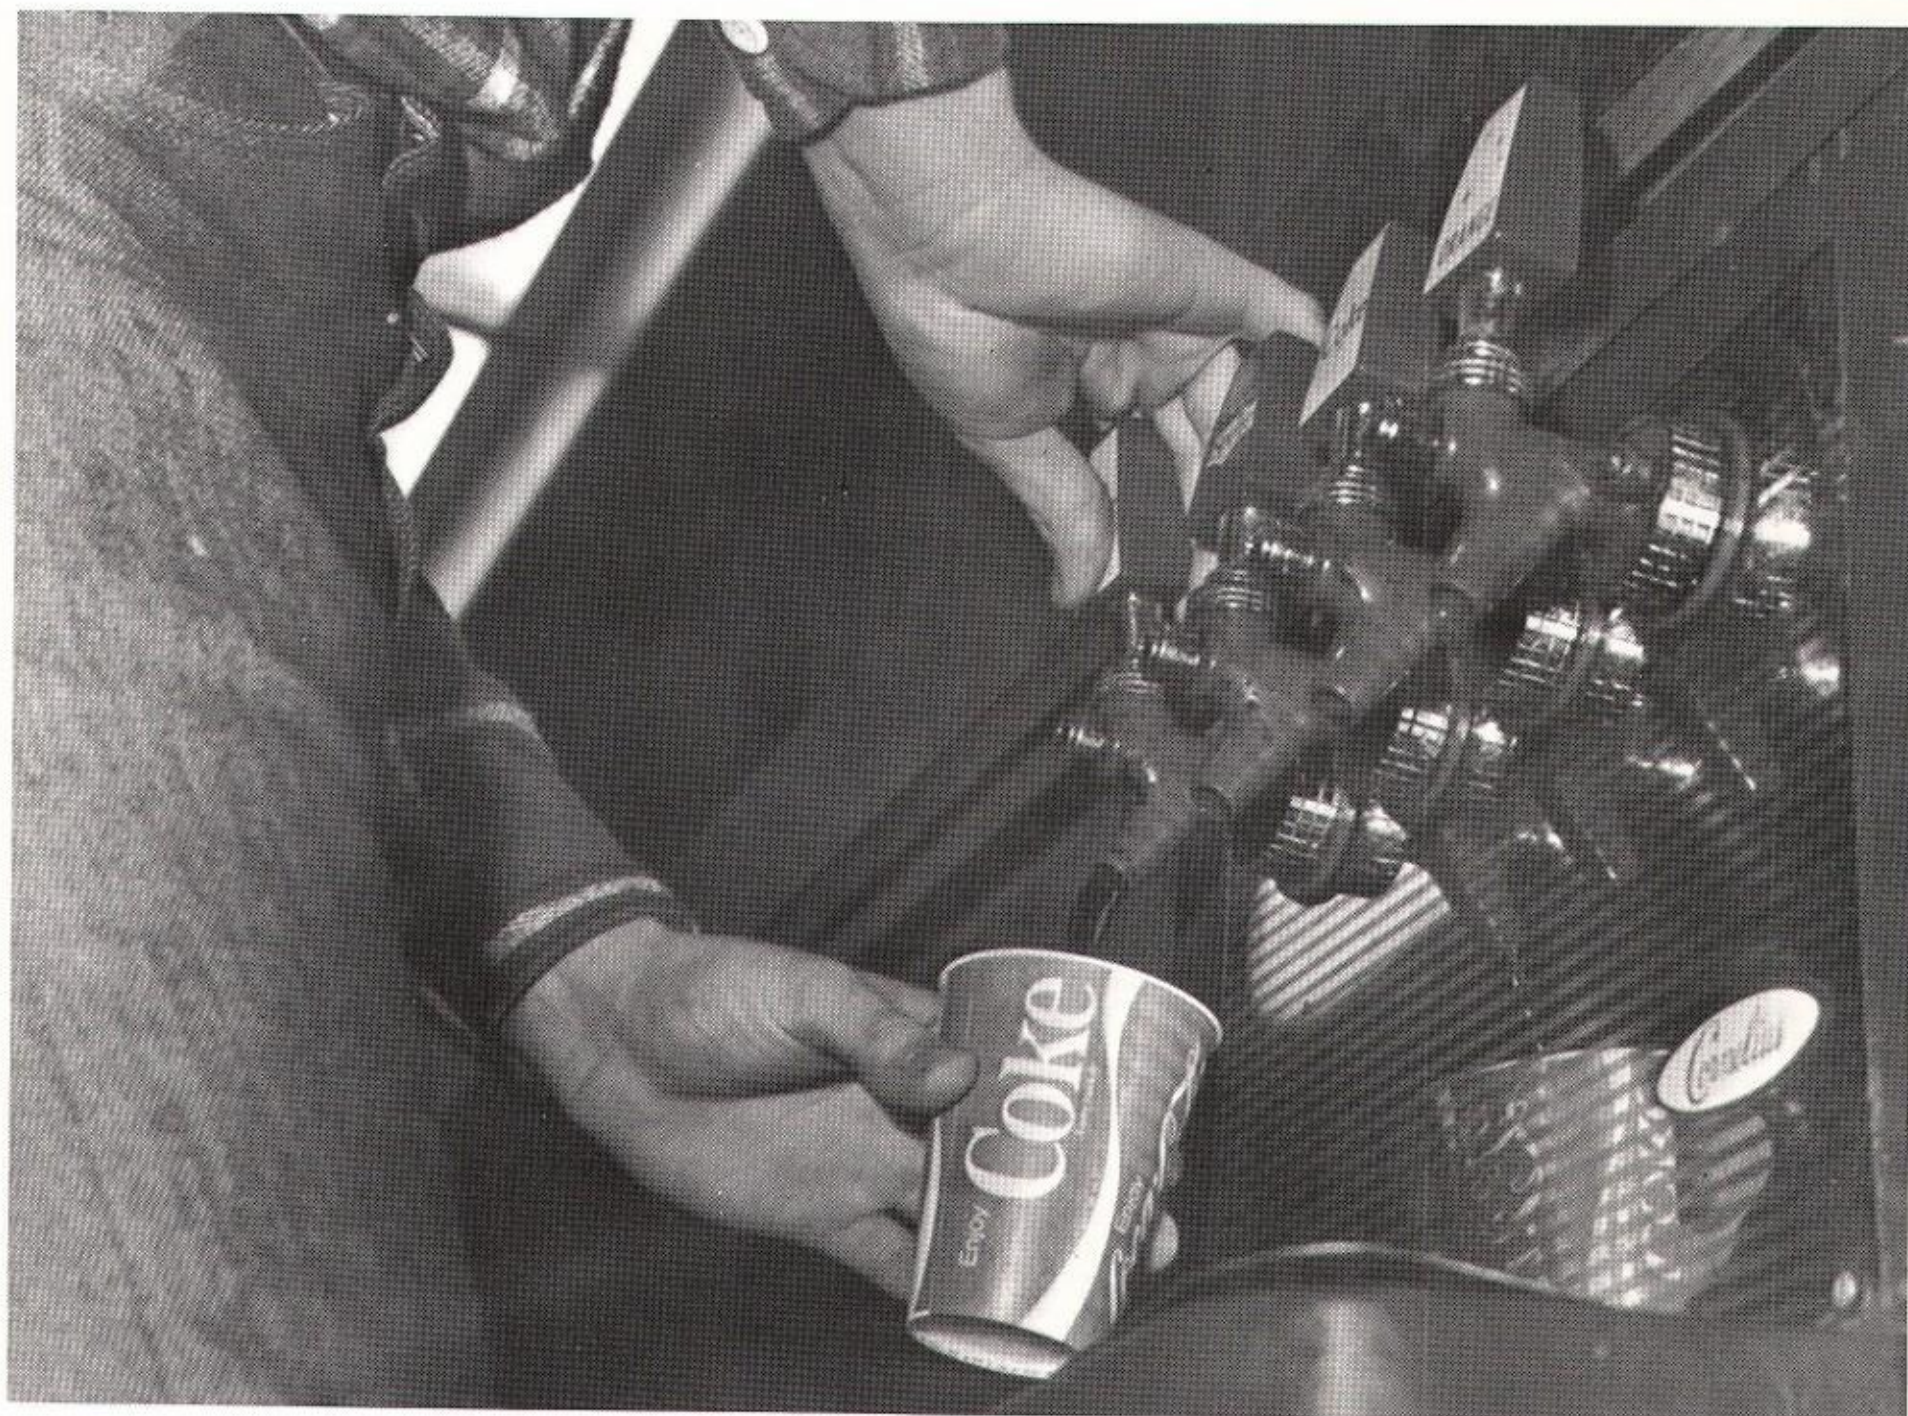

Officers Work . . . Government Flourishes

Student government is you the student. Only we can make it work and our Student Council of 1970-71 made it happen.

Alumni banquets, Homecoming convocations, a school flag, a concession stand, work for a student lounge, a better school, more school spirit. It all starts with the student who represents you. Only you the student body will make it work for all, so speak out and be heard.

Randy Perkins and Steve Riegal preside over the ceremony as Lang Beiswanger registers his signature in the land of honor.

FROM THE TAP and ready to drink. The concession stand is the biggest money maker for the Student Council. Bottoms up.

FOUR KNIGHTS OF HONOR, ready, willing and able to serve her majesty in the land of Honor

Steve Riegel escorts another deserving person (Brian Milleman) to the land of Honor for his excellence in Leadership, Scholarship, Service and Character.

"As Queen, I dub you Knight and a loyal subject in the Land of Honor." The Knight and a loyal subject escorted the new member to a table where he received a pin and membership card. As they took their places, they watched as a new person was chosen from the darkened room. A total of sixteen new people took their positions at the side of Queen Honor, ready to serve faithfully in her kingdom.

YEARBOOK ISN'T THE ONLY THING where layout has to be done, copy written and artwork displayed. Quidnunc takes a lot of work too.

I WANT TO SEE IT! Kids all over the place buried in a book. Unusual? No, they're looking at a new treasury of P.H. living.

It's called production. Actually it's several nights of long tedious work where ideas become realities, piles of pictures, sentences, contracts, punctuation marks, and mistakes are combined to make a publication. It doesn't matter if it's a magazine or a hard covered book the proofreaders and staff become engrossed and sick of little quips of twisting ideas for pictures and just designing. It means type and type some more, index, file, sketch, copy, crop, with picas, inches, lines, spaces, page numbers, addresses, telephone numbers, and when it's all done most people only say—this should have gone here and you misspelled this. But, I wouldn't say no if you asked me to do it again.

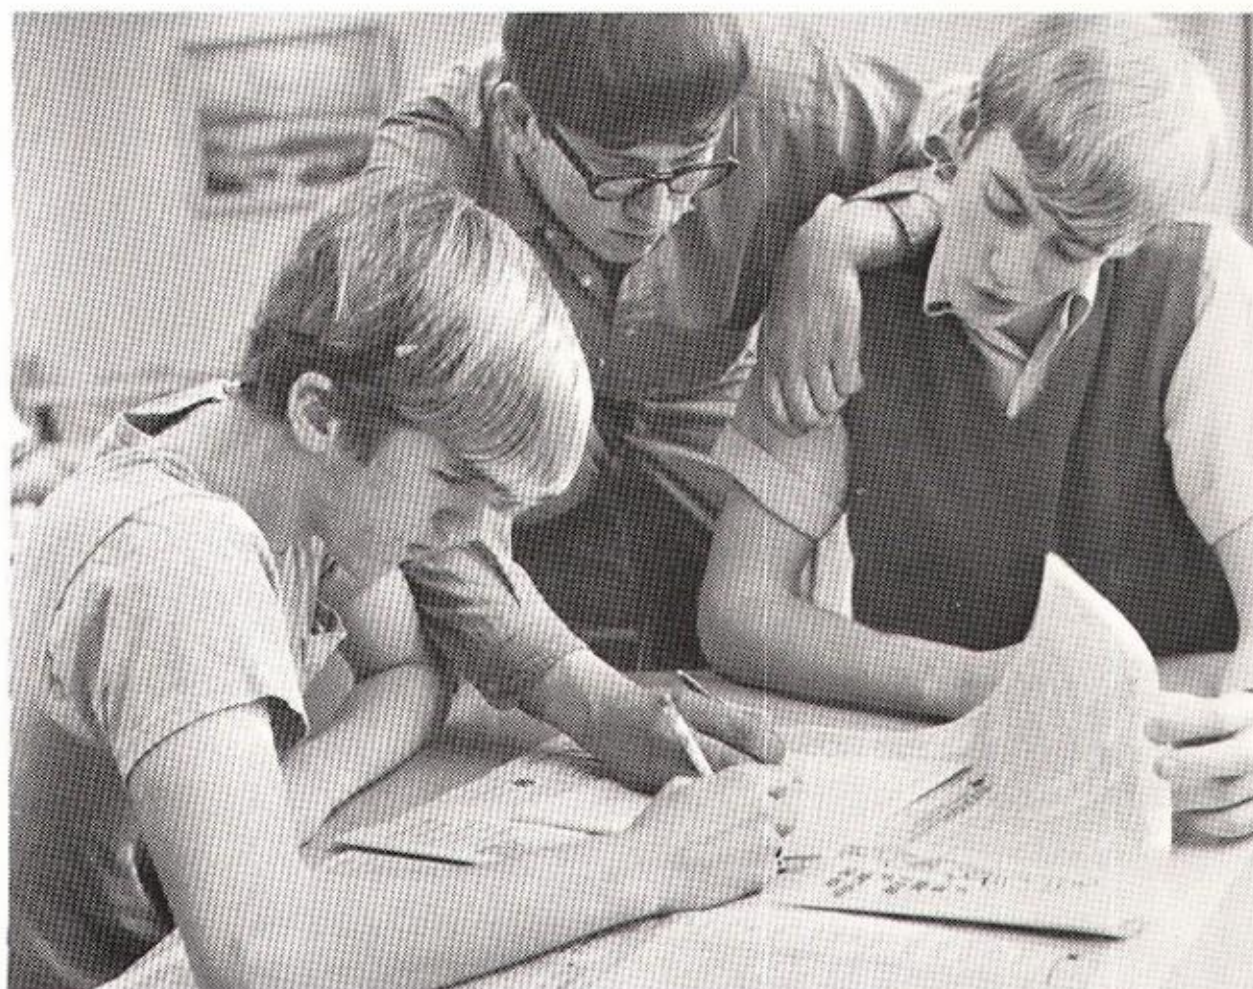

WAITING IN LINE is always the same even if it is exciting getting a Prairie Heights Yearbook.

Staff Tells Headstart . . . As It Is

This is your on the spot Panther Tale reporter coming to you written from the Head Start Center in Fort Wayne, Indiana. We are bringing you a close-up view of the P.H. FTA in action giving a helping hand to a bunch of little kids. Meanwhile, back at the farm, whoops I mean the school, the CTA & FTA are preparing for the up and coming annual chili supper and gymnastics show. Now back to the Head Start Center, the Panther Tale reporter retreats and signs off for this issue as a growing mob of little kids chase him home.

Studying a professional job the P.H. staff learns how to produce a newspaper with quality.

NO LADIES AID MEETING! This small production line gets the job done and the paper out.

Science Advancements Brings All Together

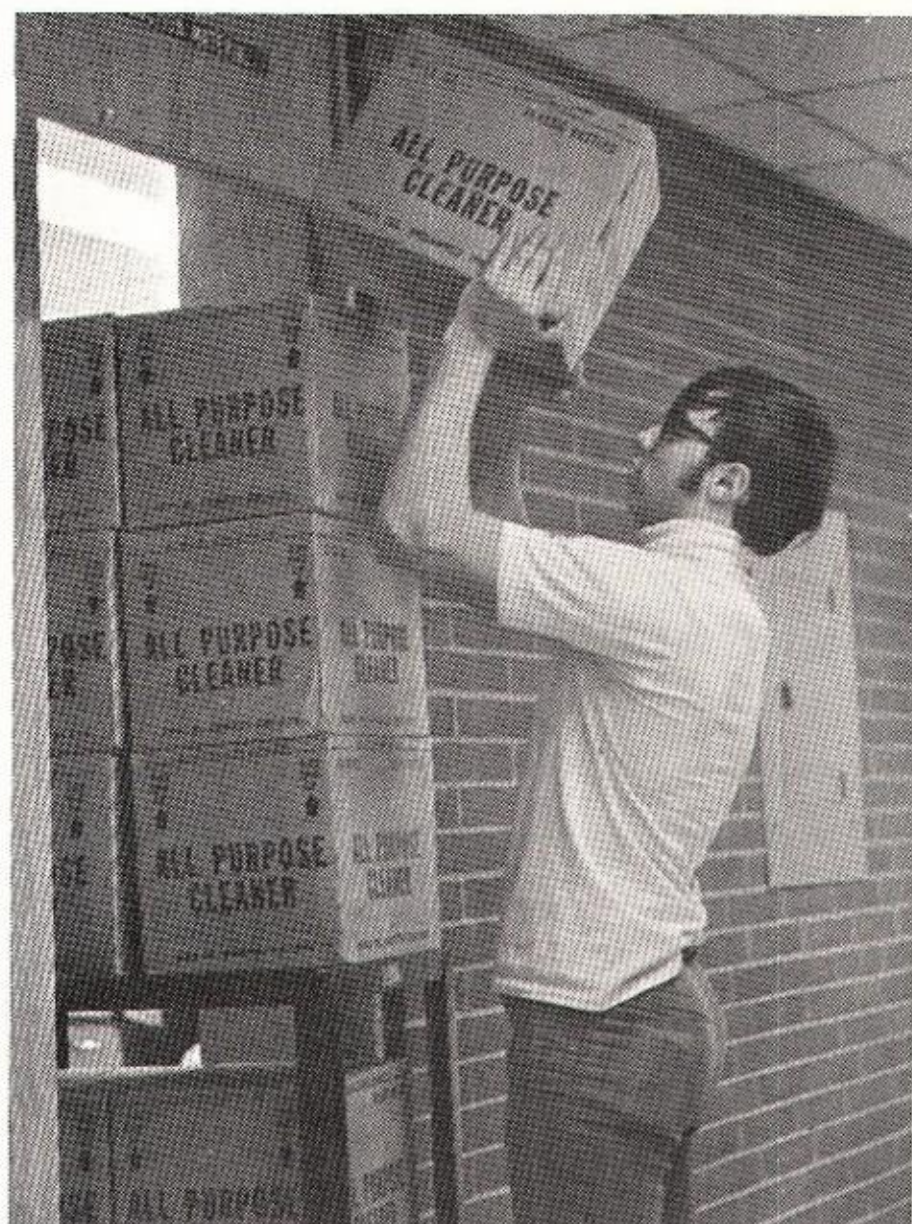

With the launch of Telestar the world shrunk a little and so the language barriers became a little stronger. Unless you care enough about other people to try to communicate, Foreign Language is useless. Some don't want to leave the U.S. even if they can help make this a better world. To them Peace Corps is a ridiculous waste of time. Their fellow man is just like an animal. To others, the customs of the quaint village is beautiful art and so Foreign Language students like the technology that shrinks the world.

"Viva Telestar!"

The silence is unbroken as students sit around trying to remember what they should be doing. The rows and rows of books sitting on the shelves keep reminding them that this is the library in which they are sitting, and the little brain says work!

When all else fails, try the card catalog. It may be the only way you find out.

Lettermen Have Campout

"Snipe! Here Snipe! Here Snipe!"

Remind you of camping under the stars in the woods. Remind you of some of the tricks you have played on unsuspecting poor soul.

Camping is unique. Where else can you eat raw food, toss and turn all night on ground that never seems to level out, go with out a bath or play touch football, and watch girls (or guys) with out even leaving the park, ride horses, and oh ya—play tricks on the guys.

Did you ever go to cheerleader school? No, but our cheerleaders did and are graduates of Smith-Walbridge. Dedicated? School leaders? A help to the team? They're all this and much more.

Cheerleading goes beyond leading cheers at ballgames. It's practice, posters, building morale, and supporting Prairie Heights. It's self-sacrifice for a school they believe in. Their job is to get you in step with school spirit. Are you in step?

Boys' Pep Club Flops; Pep Band Still Great; Swing Choir Really Swings

It's half-time! Time for a coke and some popcorn, time for talking with friends, time for some music—not chants—music!

Get up "5—0" (Hawaii 5—0" in pep band code.) Everyone ready? O.K! One-three-one, two,—ready play. Suddenly, all heads turn toward the Panther Pep Band. For an instance they notice, but soon they go back to talking about the players, that neat guy on the other side, or that date after the ball game.

However, if you look close enough, you'll see a person nodding his head or tapping his toe, or drumming his hands to the beat. We have accomplished that goal that all pep bands strive for—a continued awareness that we are there!

"PROFESSIONAL" PANTHERS, Toni Keyes, Kathye Streb, Dana Parker, and Debbie German perform for the student body swing concert.

What a Band Couldn't Be Without

COME ON BABY, LIGHT MY FIRE! A flashy Homecoming performance highlights the Prairie Heights Majorettes.

"If I wanted to hear music I'd listen to the radio."

Yet a parade is a coming attraction for each American. Not because the music is up with the times (it is sometimes). Not because of the shiny red fire engines. Not because of the cars that do tricks. Not because of the horses, or the guy with the wheelbarrow and shovel but because of the girls with the short skirts; gleaming smiles, and flashing routines.

The Prairie Heights parade unit is not left out.

SMILE, DARN YA SMILE! What a way to end the parade as the Pom Pom Core goes smiling by.

ANOTHER RUN, ANOTHER VICTORY as an opposing catcher watches the Panthers chalk 'em up.

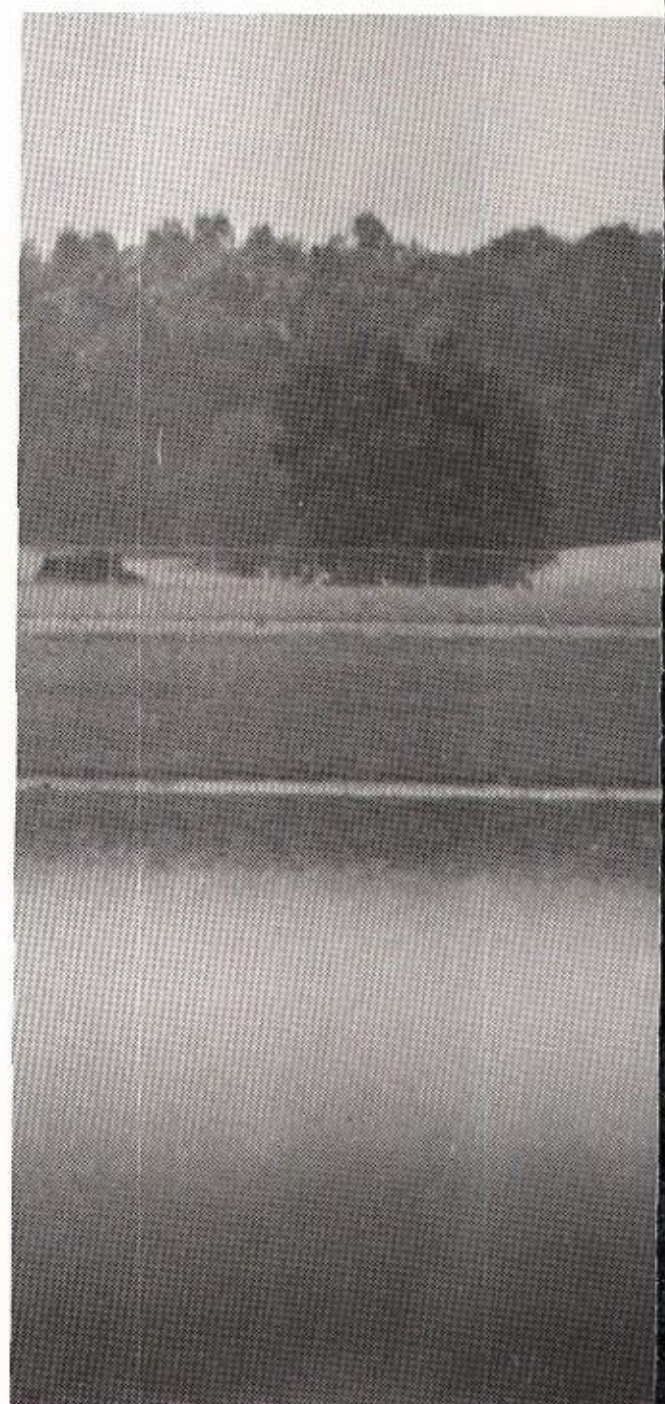

Baseball Keeps Crown

Pride and enthusiasm marked the Panther Nine as they swept through the summer season chalking up victories and successfully capturing the NECC TOURNEY action for the second year straight.

Hustle made the difference as loyal support from the bench created a little noise to keep things fired up for that big play. Determination could be felt by players and fans alike because of the tremendous show of team work demonstrated by all members of the club.

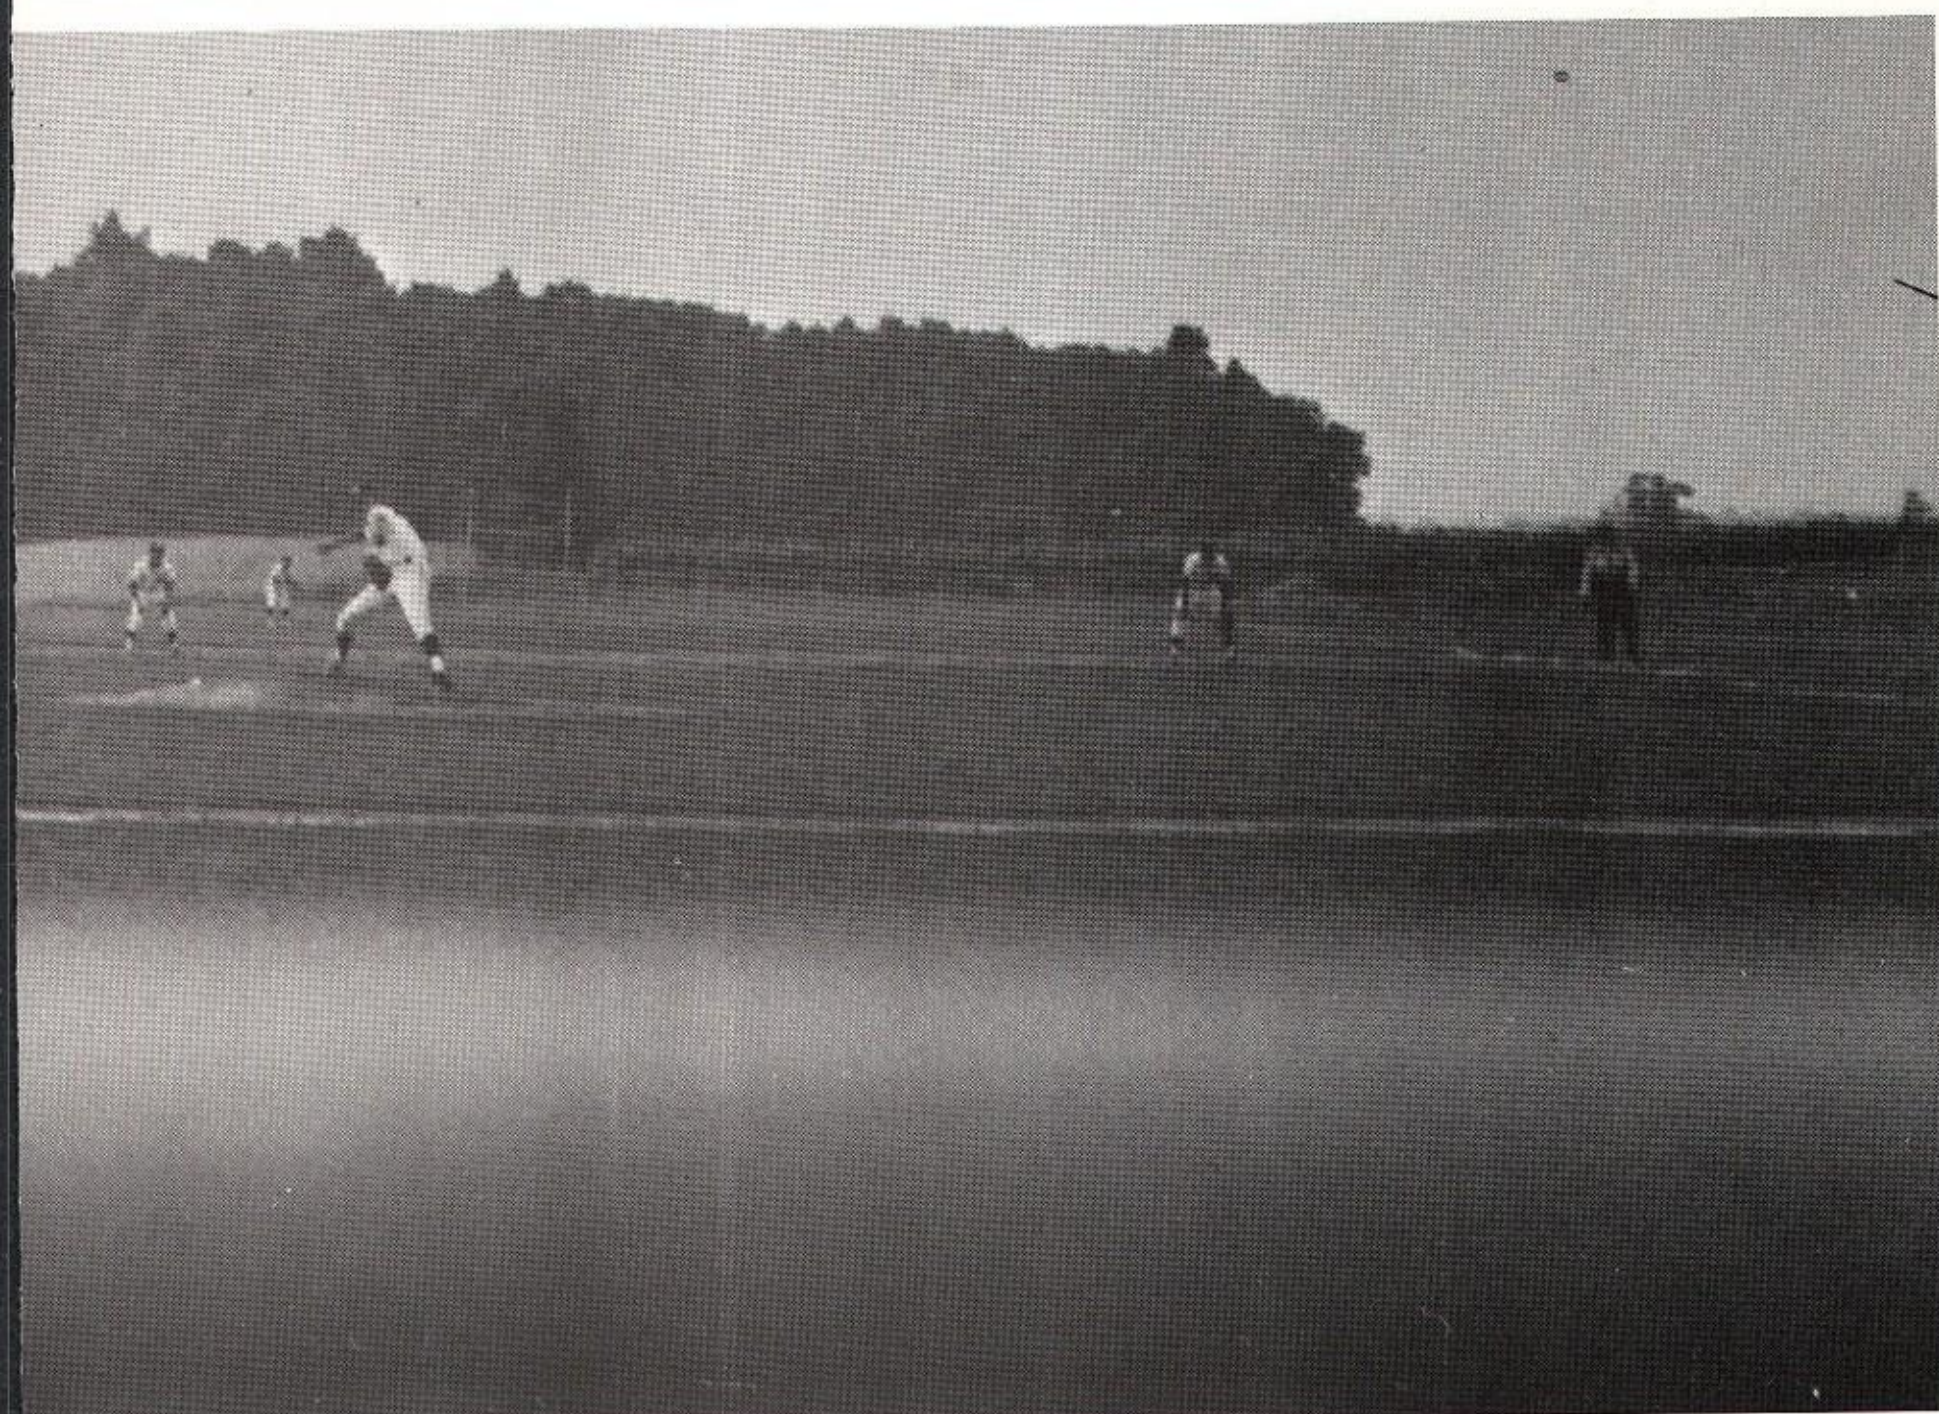

If a person doesn't follow baseball closely they will never realize the moral boost of that "special feeling" received when a player hears "Nice catch Al," "That's the way to hustle Terry," or "Shoot it right down the old alley Doug 'Babe.'"

READY FOR ACTION the pitcher winds up with all players on their toes ready for that big play.

X-Country State Meet Still Dream

Regional competition is rarely found by most teams. For our Cross Country team it is "old hat" and not by accident. Catching a glimpse of a home meet you can see that the football team has temporarily stopped their grueling practice to cheer for their friends and classmates. We watch and wait anticipating until they come around the cornfield for that last trek of important ground to cover. A member of the "Red Wave" is challenged by a rival but in the end the Panther holds his own. Chalk up another victory for the Prairie Heights Panther Pack.

TENSE AND TORTURED the Panther Pack worries about the tough field ahead. S. Begley, D. Beiswanger, H. Chester, R. Stan-ski, Coach Kuhn, R. Crawford, L. Beiswanger, W. Wells, and M. Hayward prepare for the seasons, and many careers toughest task.

CONTORTED JAW shows Begley's pain as he struggles for position. Approximately two thirds of a mile have been finished and the idea of a wooded hill before the tape and finish remain to haunt him.

SNEAKY Hughie passes by almost unnoticed on the inside. Beiswanger is seen on the outside holding his own with thoughts of the rough terrain ahead in his mind.

IS IT ENOUGH everyone wonders as referees race in to untangle the mass of mangled bodies.

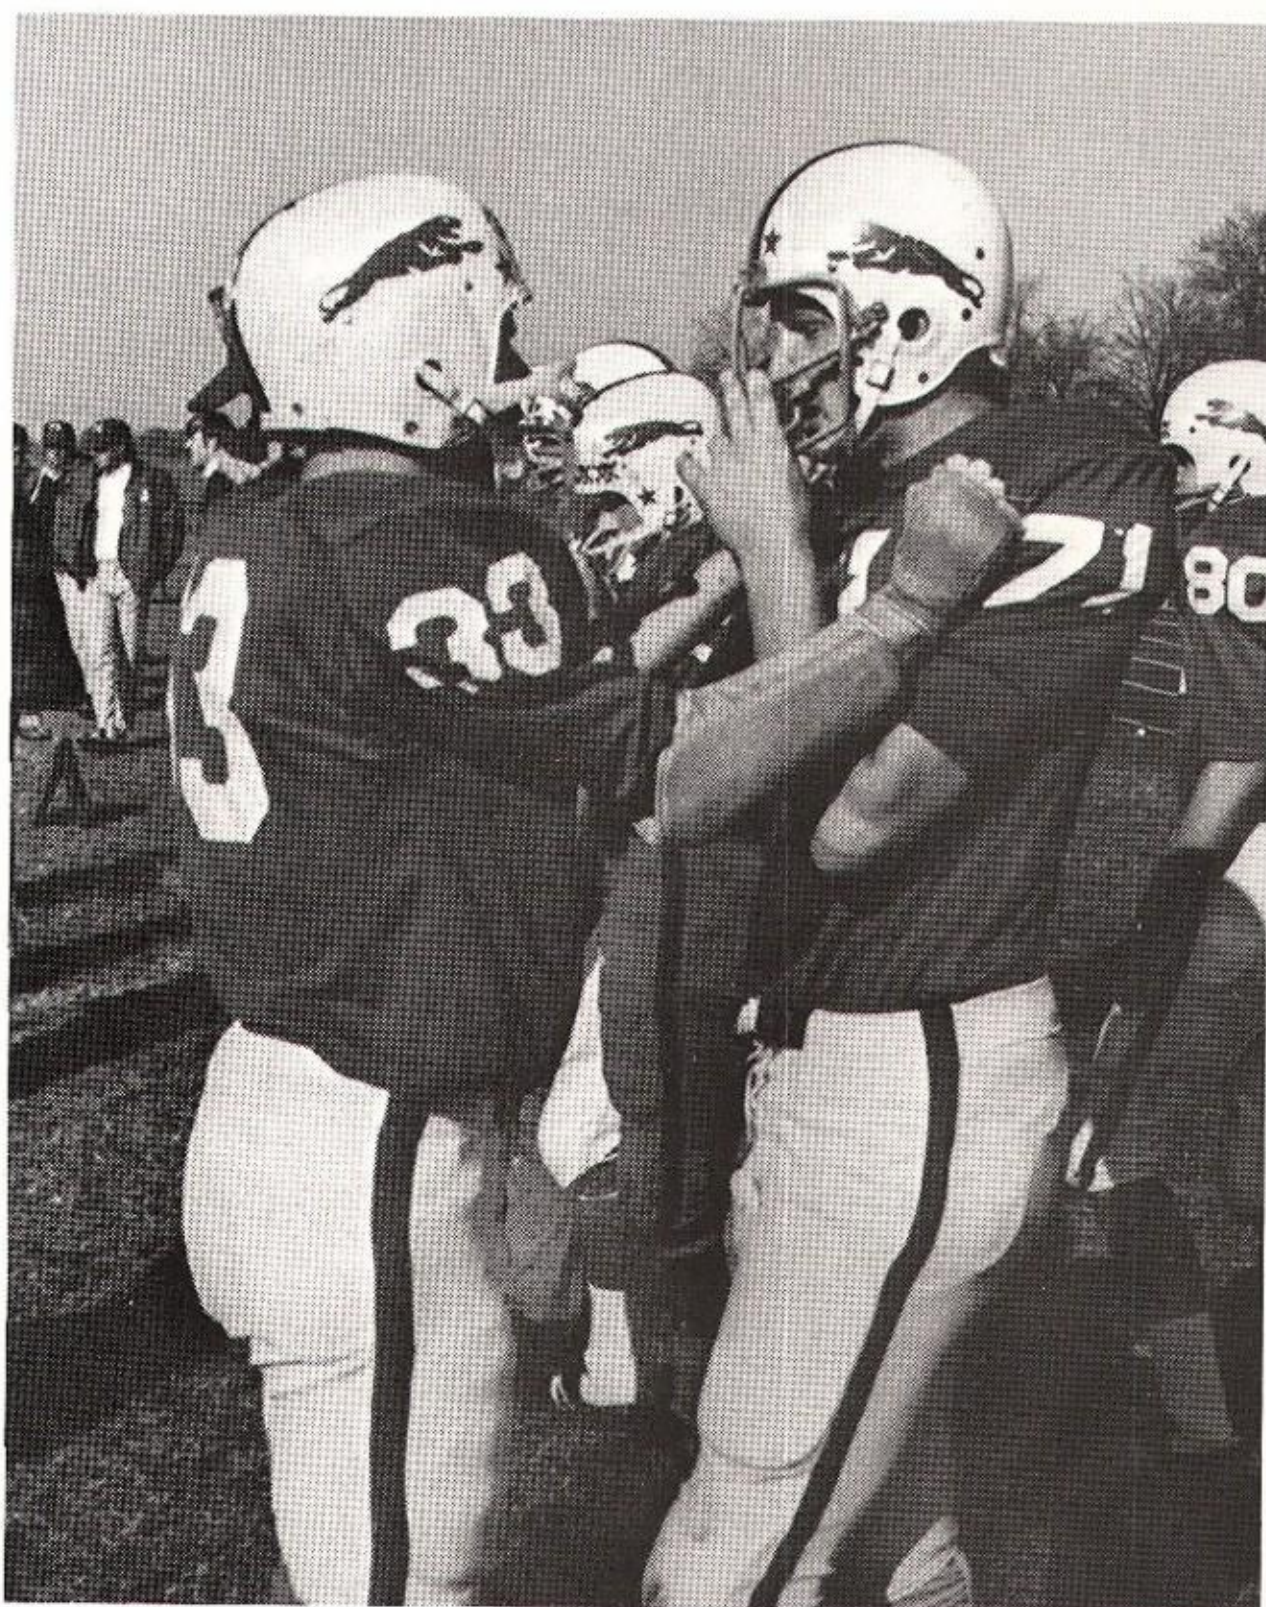

Grid Takes Cream Can

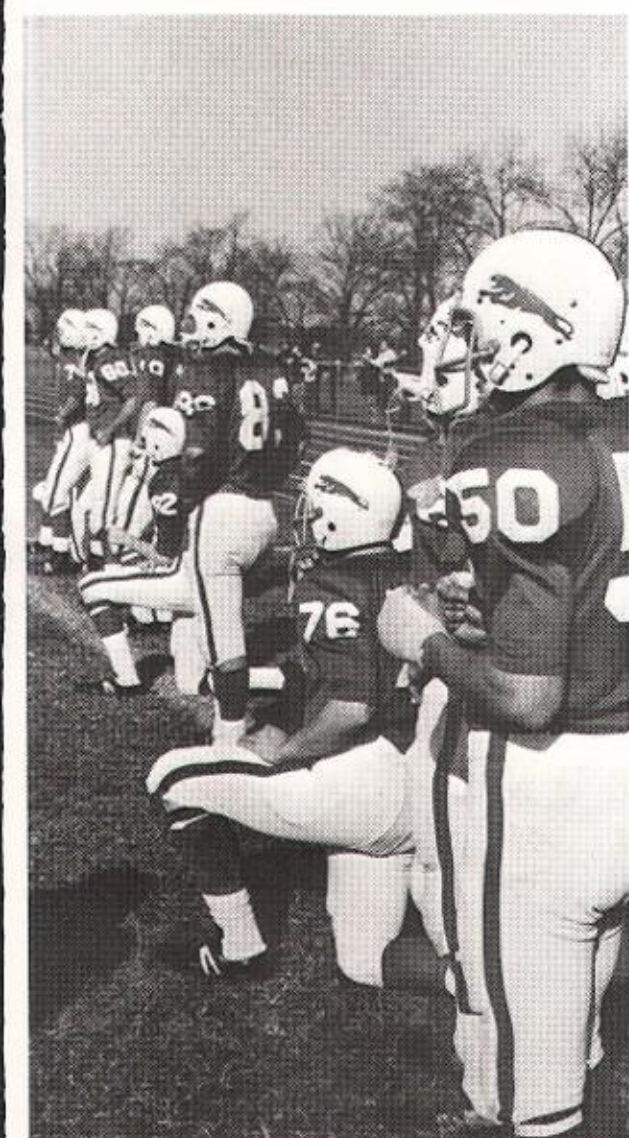

Take a journey to a sunny Indian summer when two teams are battling for a championship or to a muddy field with weather nobody should be in. Remember? How about ruining a Homecoming celebration by bring home a "Cream Can" with a pair of bib overalls on, not to mention another NECC championship. Remember?

. . . Bzzz! Thousands of pieces of torn paper float in the air. A happy team huddles in a frenzied circle.

What is it? Where is it? Who is it? Its Panther basketball.

Games, Pepsi, Mr. Riegel's rolls, sweating, striped basketballs, game films, Snoot, supper at Mr. Clicks, winning, Basketball and all its rewards plus surprise WE BEAT LAKELAND!!!!

FLYING Fultz takes a mighty leap at the sectional, Mark was only able to keep with the most of his competitors.

BLOWIN' FROM THE BLOCKS, John Shire leads off a relay at East Noble.

EVERYBODY WAS UP in the air over the way Verlo Bontrager came on in the pole vault this year.

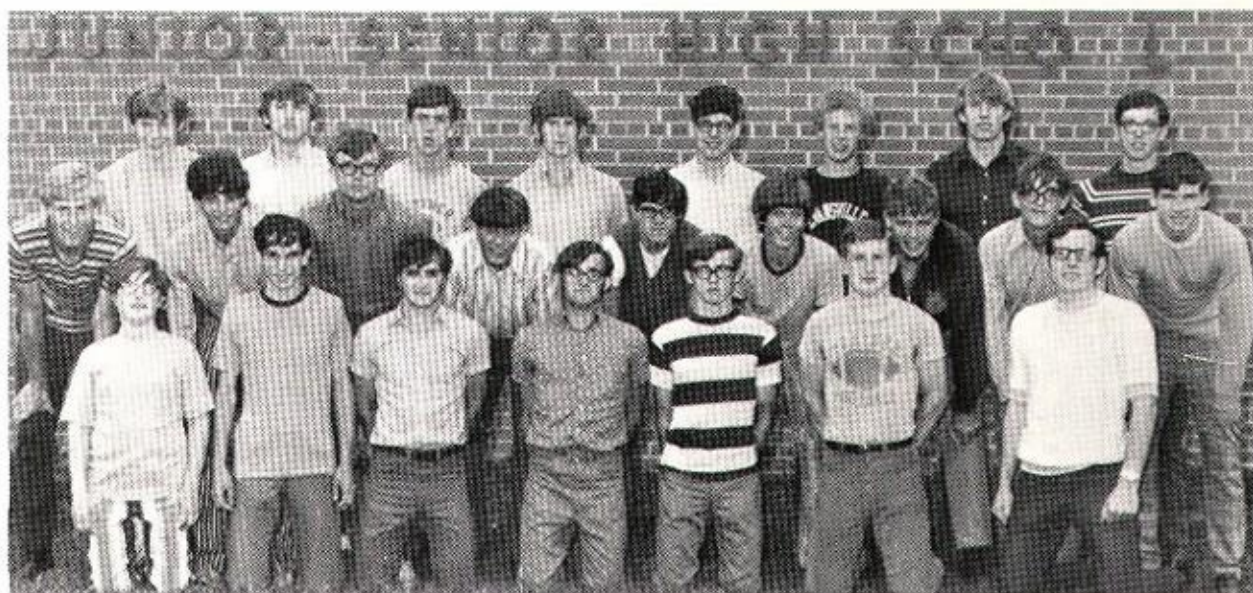

WITH THE WHOLE BODY behind the little ball, Blaine Burnham puts the shot at the Goshen Relays.

Track Has Rebuilding Year

They said we couldn't do it. We lost too many Letterman through graduation, and a perfect season gives a team a lot to live up to.

But the track team proved everyone wrong and came out with a good season plus making boys into men.

Giving 110% all the time, in meets, in practice, in thinking, in spirit, in everything it takes to be a PH track man. These guys had the guts to meet the challenge in track and it made them better for the challenge of life. Can you meet this challenge?

Golf Team Coming Up! Best Season Ever

KEEP YOUR EYES on the ball, pull back and . . . Russ Fretz swings into action as he begins his rounds on the golf course.

"Fore"

We didn't have any holes-in-one and Booth is gone. But for some reason we seem to have the best team effort ever.

I remember it distinctly. It was hole number ten. It was a marvelous slice (to bad I was trying to hook) and was going right toward that tree. You know—the one with the bird nest full of golf balls. Of course I know the adantage about playing it where it lands but can you imagine what would happen to a bird who saw a golf ball flying out of her nest. Poor Feathered Friend.

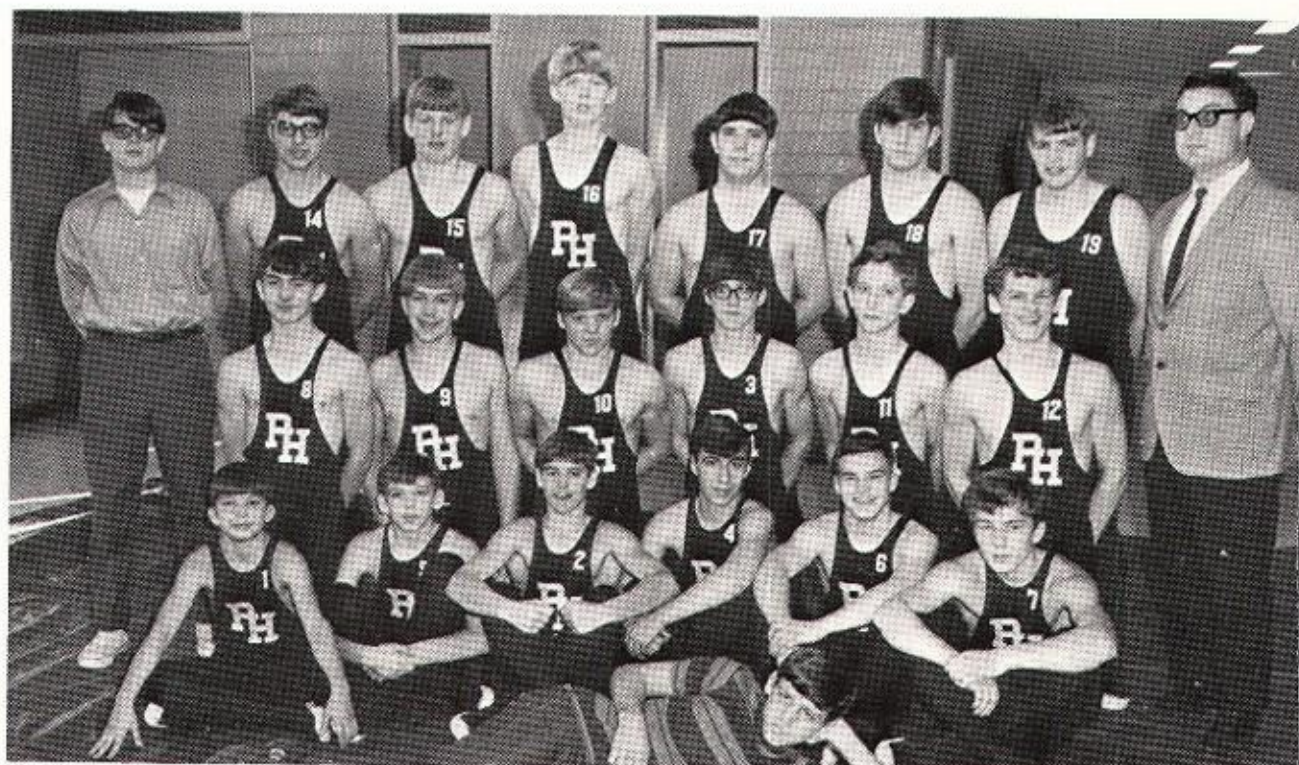

PUTTING is tricky business as you can see by the expression on Rick Tracey's face. Steady.

WORKING HANDS of two Seniors build a leak proof tank complete with BOOM, SMOKE and SPIRIT.

Homecoming Is for Juniors

The week before Homecoming class members assemble to produce the destined prize winning float. We all know how exciting float building is (Blah)! On one evening the most exciting event had been watching Mr. D. leap over a wagon tongue 'til Greg backed his car in the ditch. Women's Liberation then took over and Carla found herself in Greg's position. Because it took boys to get her car out the demonstration was not entirely successful but . . .

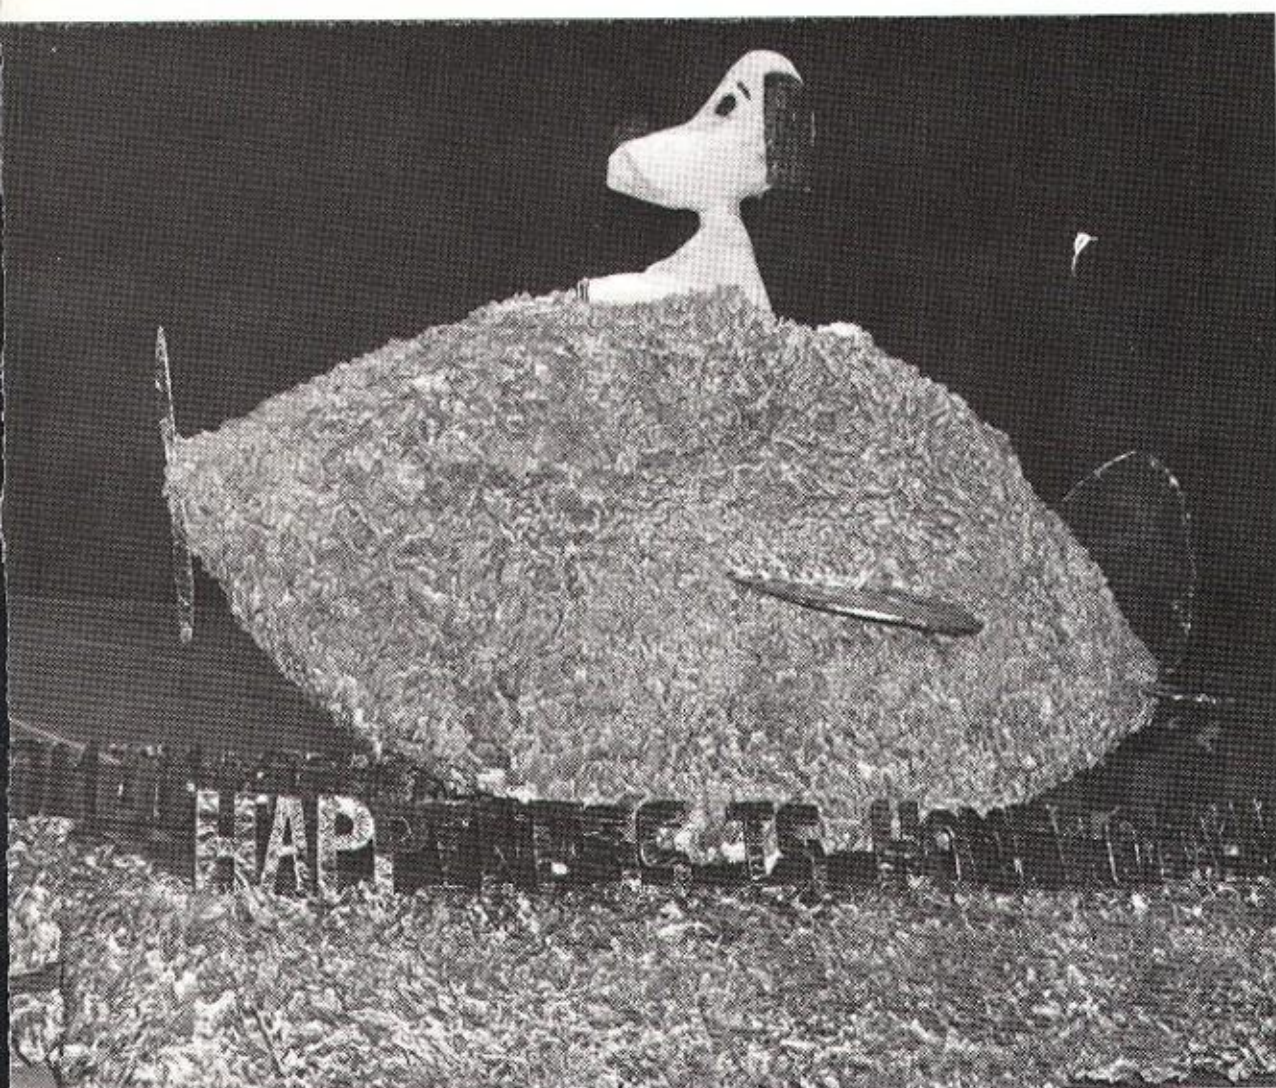

BEES must have an awful time filling a hive. Carla Rettinger and Greg Silver stuff this wire maze with cheap paper.

PICK AND STUFF PICK AND STUFF. This is tedious work for Connie Langley and others that worked on Snoopy's float.

CURSE YOU RED BARON—Homecoming is a happy time. Anyway Snoopy, Linus and Lucy think so.

BUSTING A HOLE is Junior Alan Miller on a good offensive gain by David Langley. Class holds no upper hand when on the gridiron.

First Prom . . . Away from Home

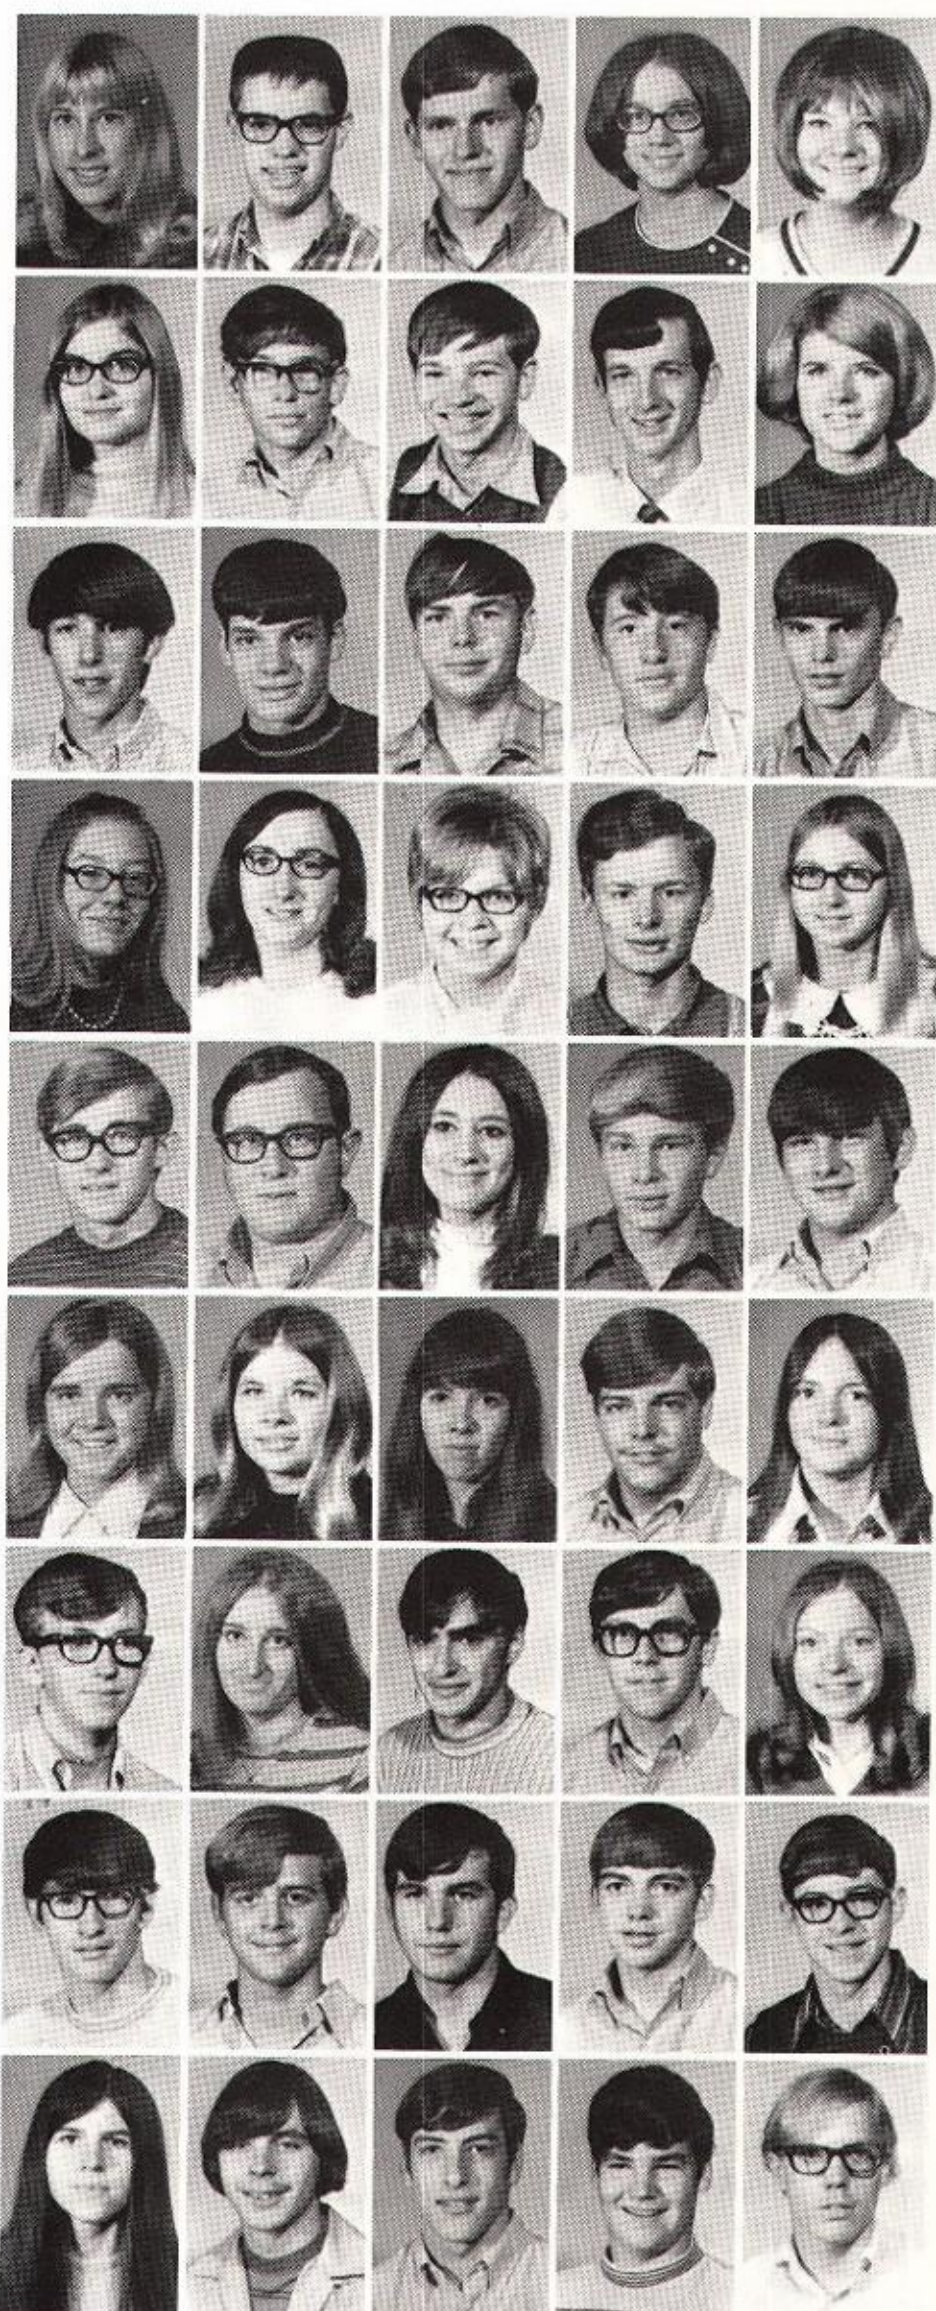

"Guess who just asked me to the Prom? I'll have to get a formal! What color should I get?"

Sound familiar? Who made it possible? The Juniors naturally. But the Juniors did it in royal fashion with the Prom theme "A Time For Us."

Their spirit not only carried through the Prom but in all the action. Homecoming, capturing the class tourney, magazines, everything. These future Seniors will take P.H. down in history!

Sophomores Choose Ring for '73

"I like the round ring."

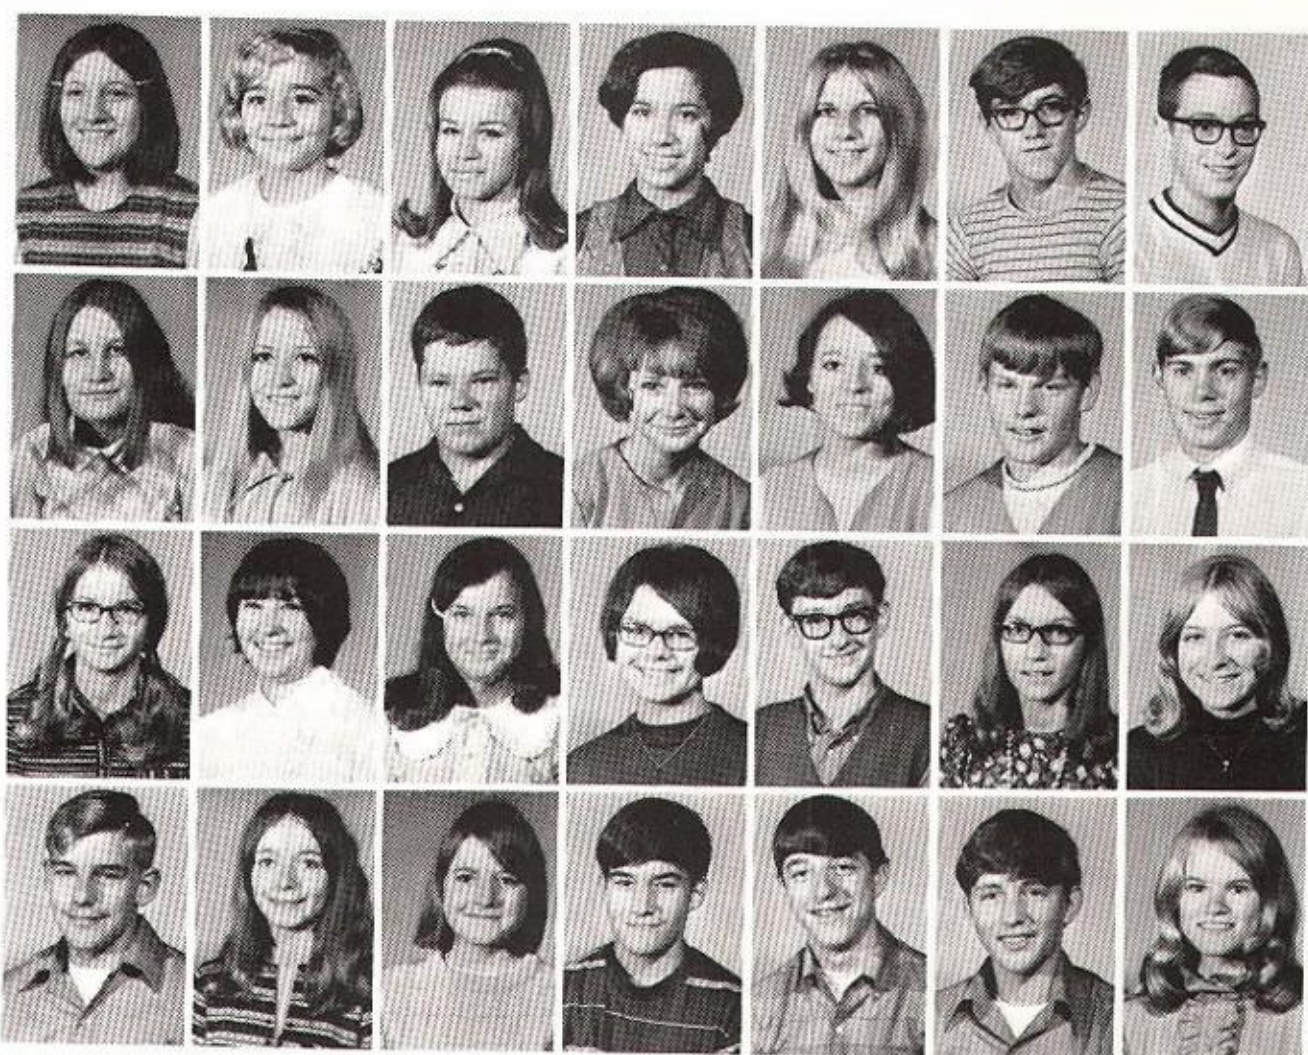

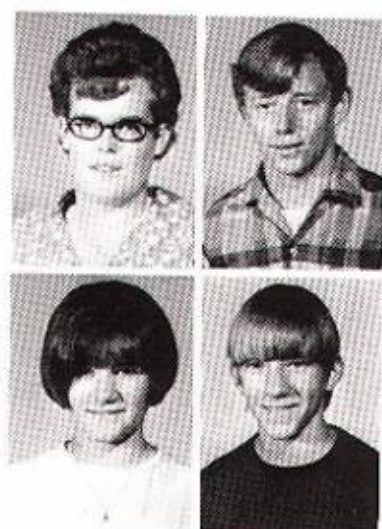

"No, I like the square one."

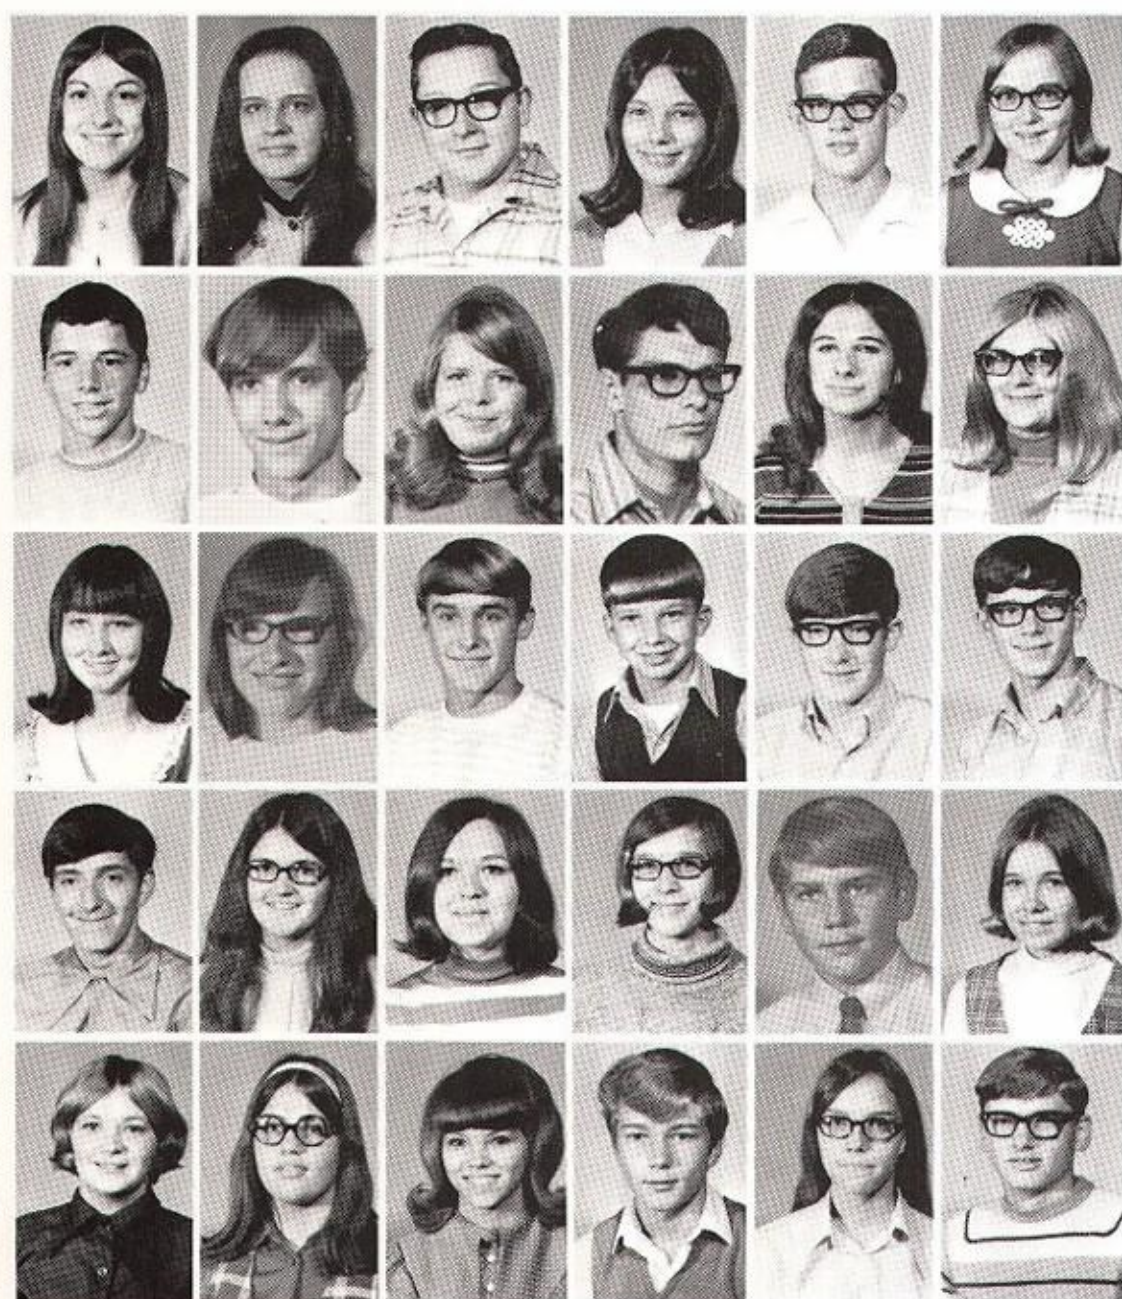

As sophomores anxiously wait to order their class rings, they try to decide which ring they want to represent them as the class of '73. Although many of the sophomores did not agree on the ring that was chosen, they all seemed content when it was over, and anticipated the last day of school when their rings arrived.

"Yes, we need you. We couldn't get anyone to take your place."

"Do I look alright? I fell terrible."

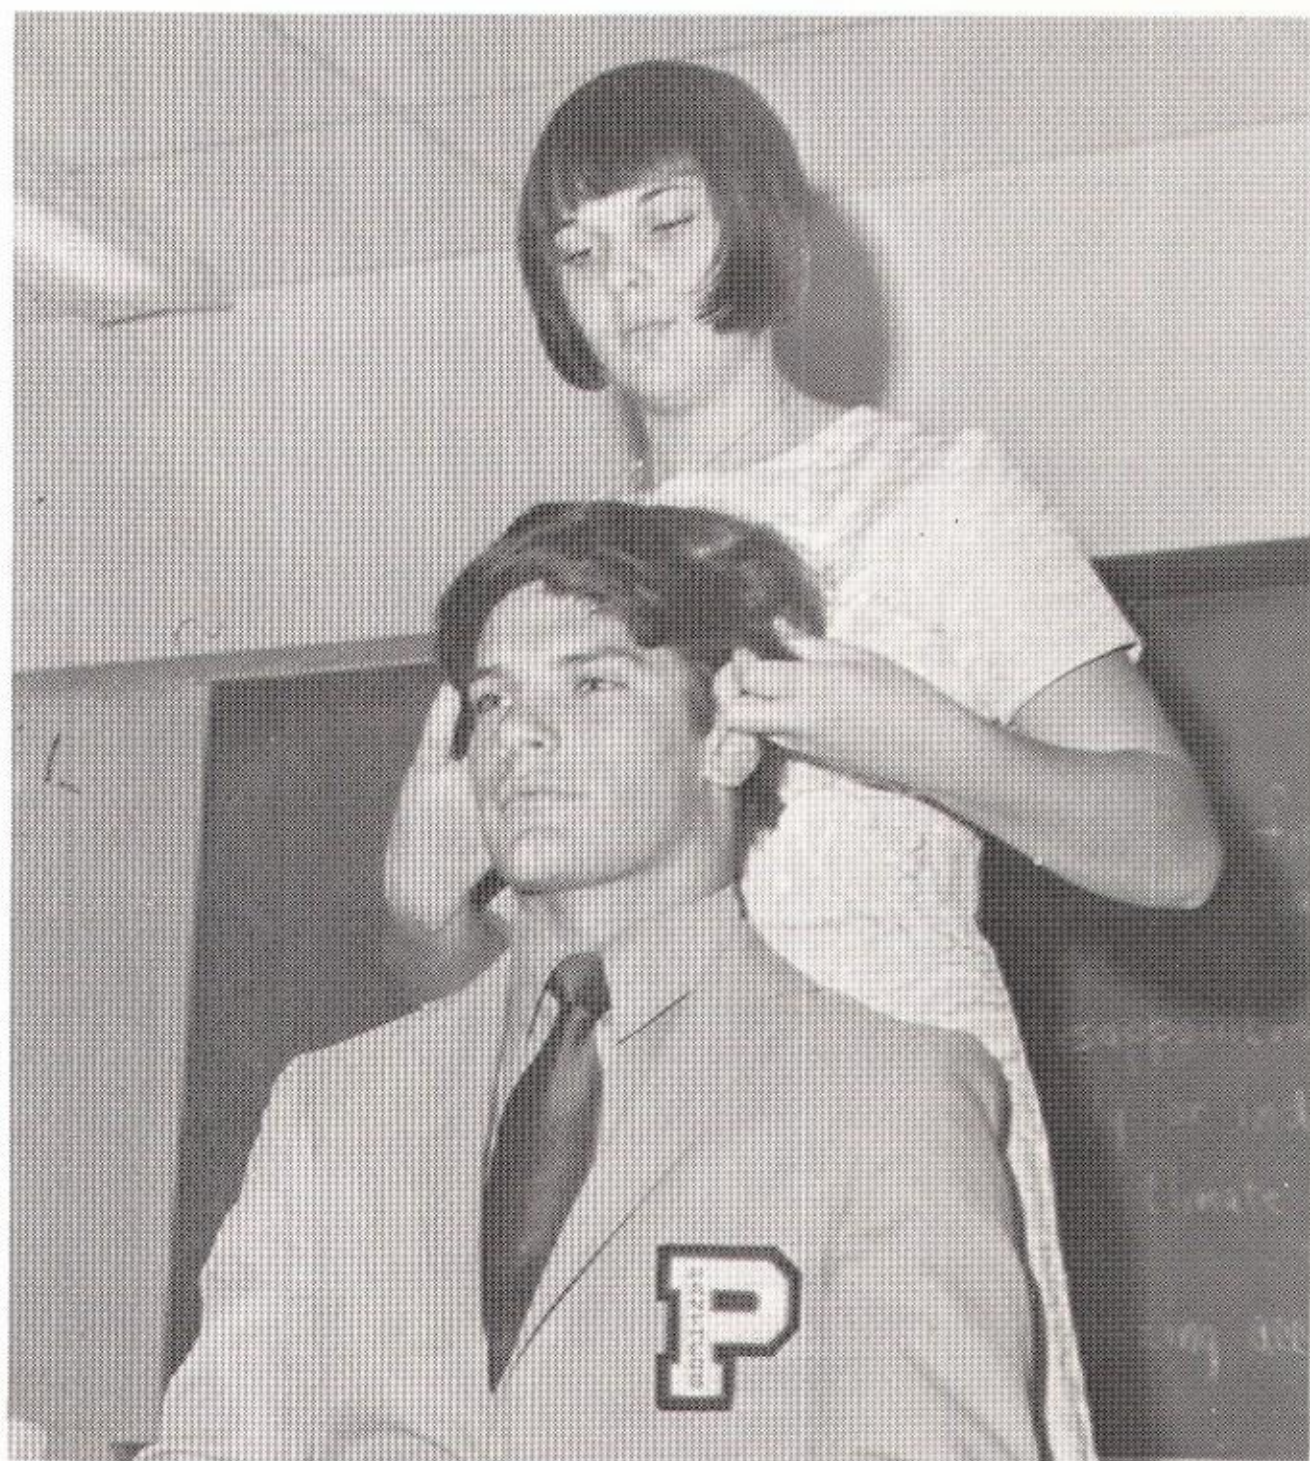

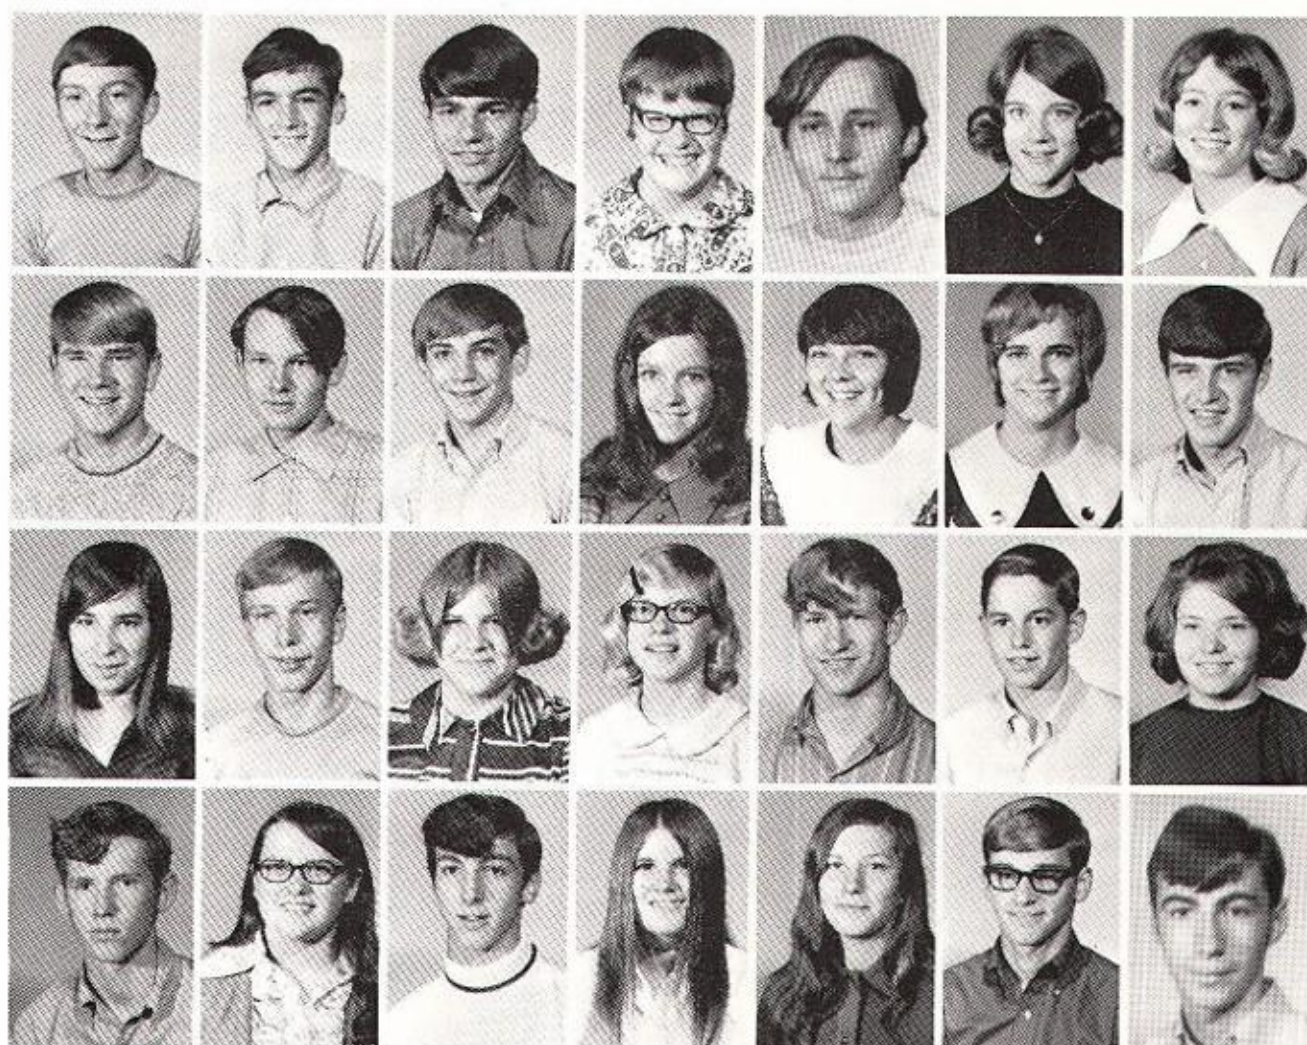

"You look just fine, now shut up."

Frosh Finally

Nine years seems like a long time unless you've gone ten, eleven, or twelve years. The Freshman year is the transition year. You move from upstairs to the downstairs. From a planned curriculum to an elected one. From class competition to varsity competition (in most sports.) From limited activities to every activity under the sun. Isn't it great to be "High School?"

Rulers of the upper hall, Kings and Queens of the Jr. High, the "Class of 75" goes marching by as they prepare to enter a new era of High School living.

Class parties, waiting for Mom, candy sales, County tourneys, Concerts, homework, involvement, it all adds up to the life of a PH eighth grader.

The eighth graders took steps to help better prepare themselves for high school in a "Meet the High School Night." The eager students then chose their Freshman subjects with a background never experienced by their upper classmen.

Seventh Grader—Small Lost Soul

Was that combination 28—16—42 or 16—18—42? Now let's see, it could have been 42—18—26 or 18—42—36 and now I don't even know my locker number. Class takes up at 8:05 in room A217 and it lasts for 45 or is it 55 minutes. Then I have Physical Education but it doesn't have any room number.

"My mother gave me this check for my books. Do you want it?"

"Where's the Bookstore?"

"Teacher, I don't feel good."

Seventh Grade Sells Candy

I know I don't need the candy, but did you see those bright little eyes and that cute little face. It got me the way he kept staring at the ceiling in that big overstuffed chair. He wasn't much of a conversationalist and his hair stuck up in back. But its for the school. Who could say NO?

Mrs. Hostetter laughs quietly at the fun in the class she is conducting.

Computing grades, Miss Davis sits comfortably on the bleachers.

Ready, willing, and able, Mrs. Anderson, throughout her long teaching career, strikes a familiar pose.

Mr. Hepler takes good care of his high priced television equipment.

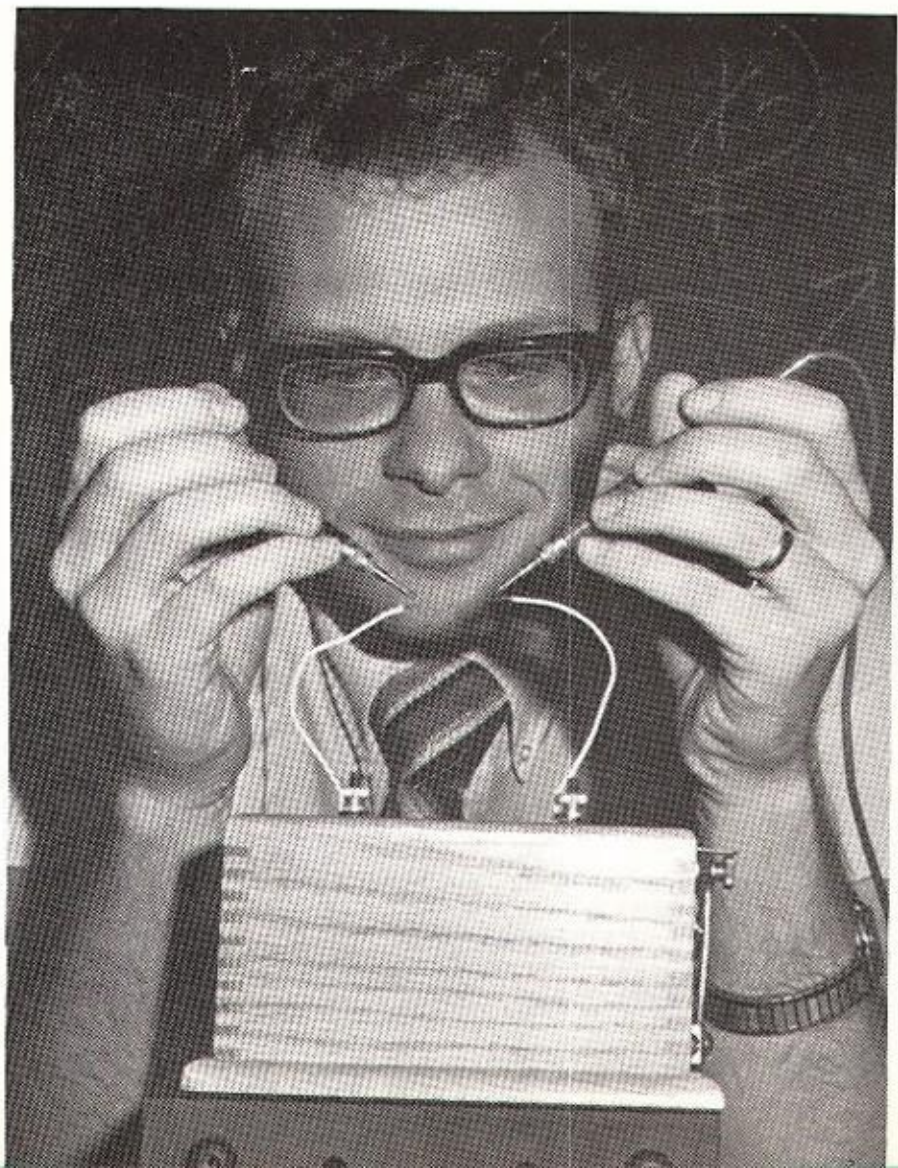

Using the blackboard quite effectively, Mr. Roush demonstrates during one of his math classes.

Thinking about something, Mrs. Kreski learns right along with her students as well as being the teacher.

To explain correct typing methods Mrs. Boyer uses visual equipment.

Mr. Baney is getting a real charge out of producing a current of static electricity.

Pacing the sideline, Mr. Bremer conducts the running of the game through his constant attention.

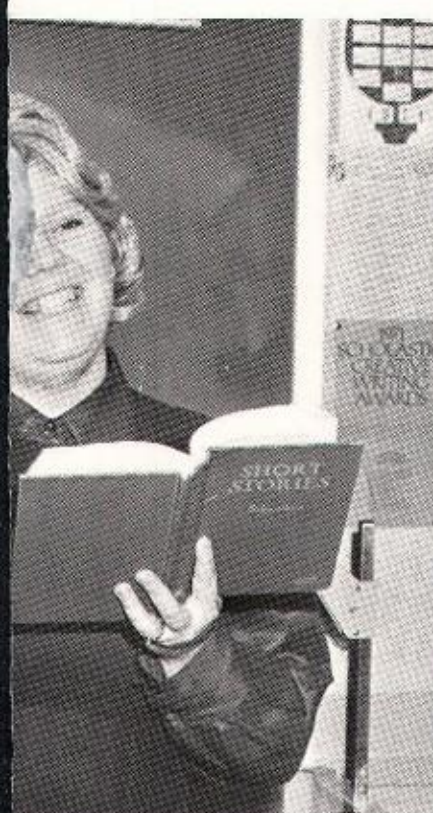

Watching carefully, Mr. Shutt studies the work of a student.

In a familiar seat, Mr. Stump turns around to see what is happening.

Taking a look, Mrs. Ringler examines a student trying to improve her reading in the reading laboratory.

Checking out the blade, Mr. Hill applies a keen eye to be sure of first-class quality work.

Showing the way, Mrs. Myers directs an assignment for the students under her.

Sewing up smiles Mrs. Collins takes a look at somebody's new clothes.

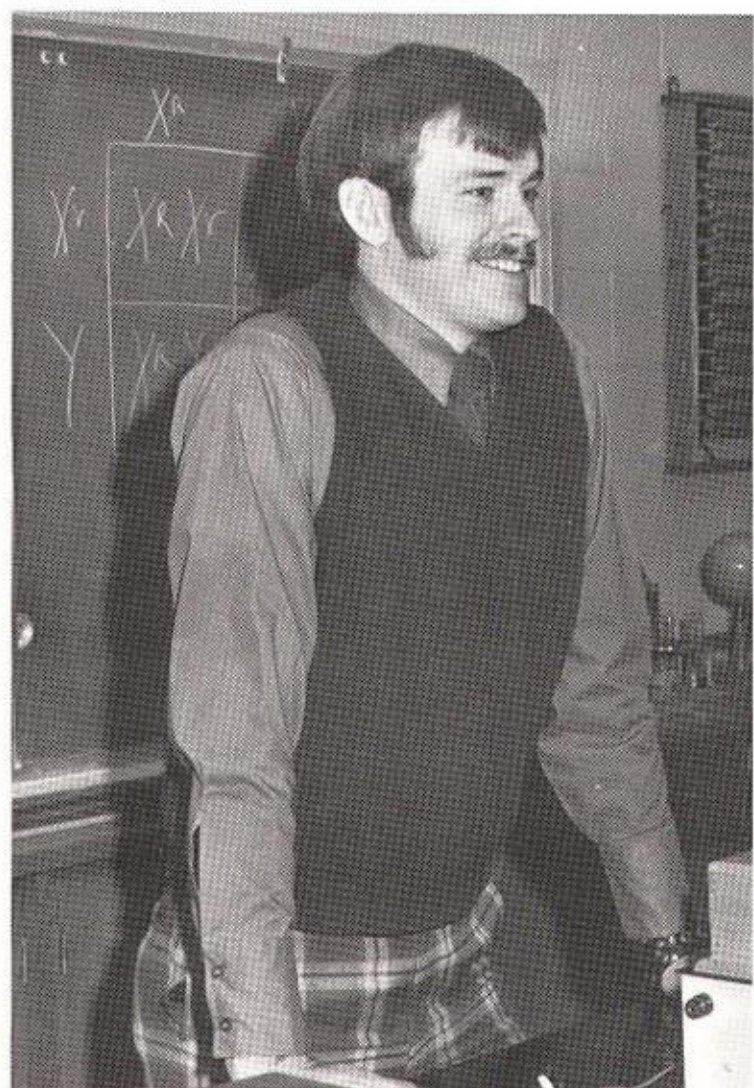

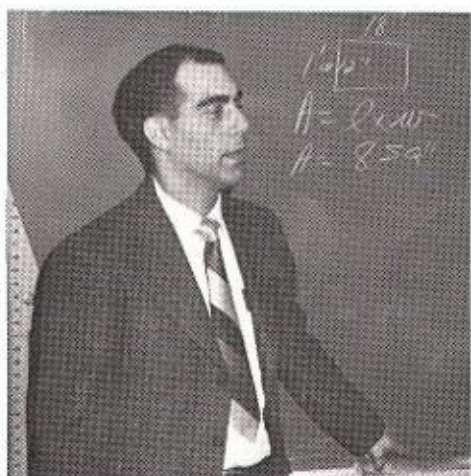

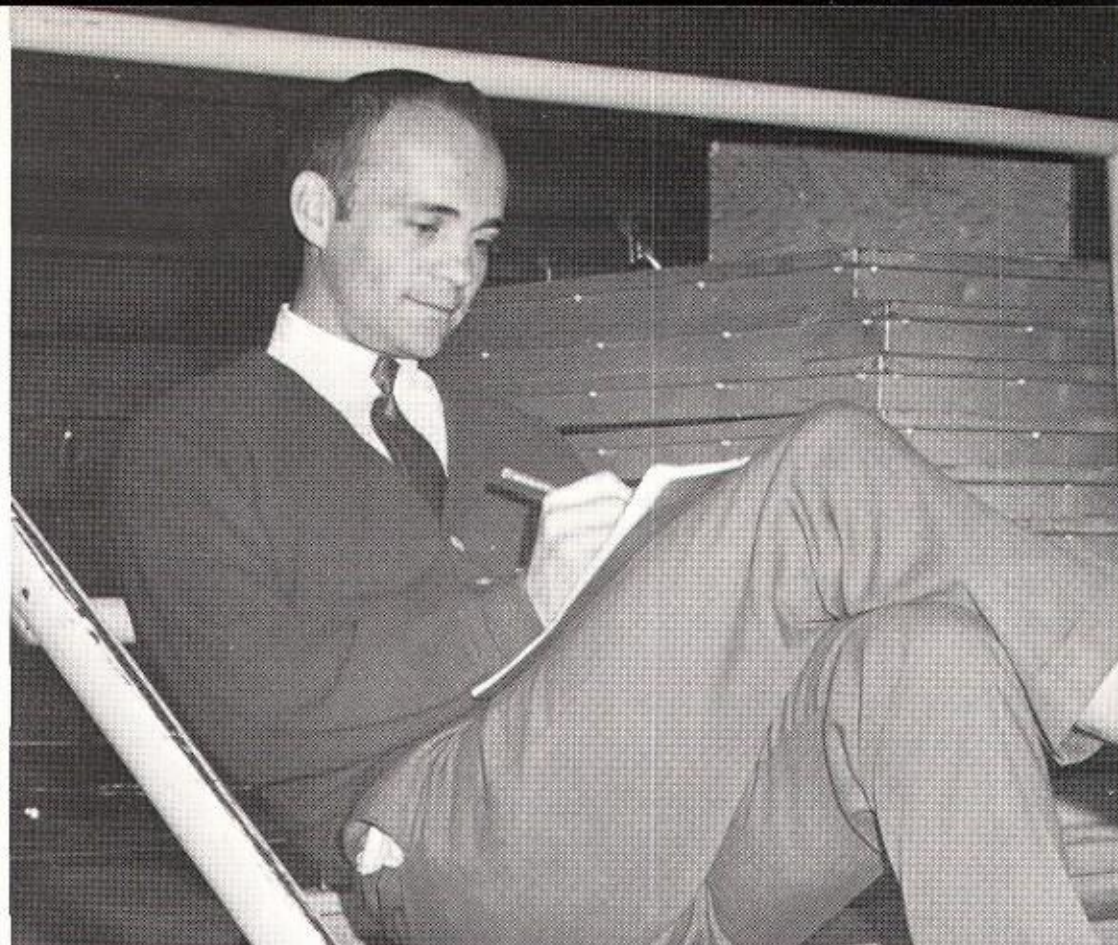

Playing it up Miss Campbell reads a story with the expression needed to be a teacher.

GIVING THE GRADES, Mr. Click works relaxingly on his grade book.

Mrs. Right in her role as English teacher also put in a lot of time being cheerleader sponsor.

After more than 30 years of teaching, Mrs. Miller poses with two gentlemen that made retirement meaningful.

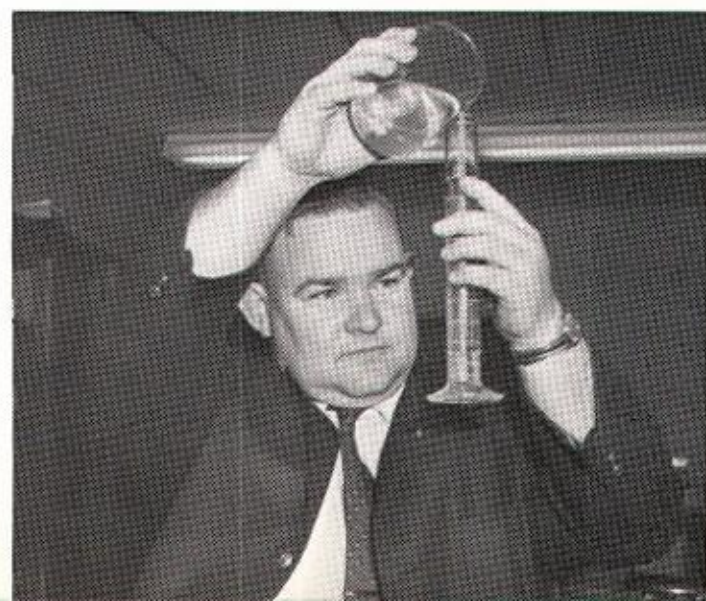

A continuous flow of areas, lengths, and widths is common discussion in Mr. Hostetler's class.

Apparently enjoying himself, Mr. Weaver grins during one of his Biology lessons.

Mr. Hefty points something out as an interested student absorbs the information.

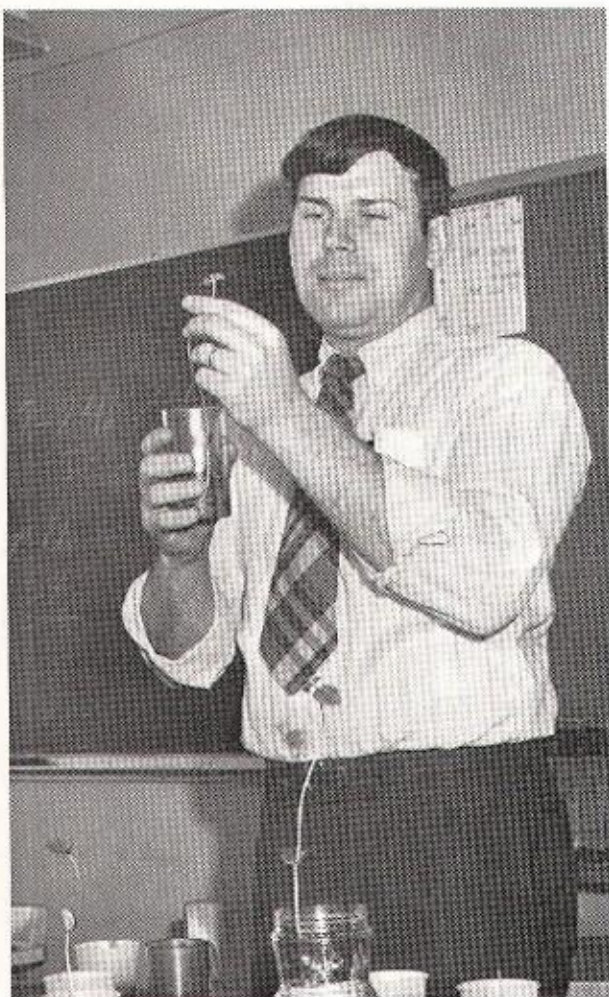

Pour that chemical VERY CAREFULLY thinks Mr. Deitsch or he'll have a hot hand.

Relaxing again, Mr. King sits back, kicks up his feet and talks about current issues with his kids.

The way students put things start Mrs. Scoville chuckling. It was a serious story!

Just a stuck ribbon. A tap here and Mr. Wagner's typewriter is ready to go again.

Tender young beans receive Mr. Grubaugh's horticultural care.

Pen in hand, a stern look on her face and her best foot forward Mrs. Henderson challenges a study hall.

Greetings and welcome aboard says Mr. Gilman (G.) and have a nice day at Prairie Heights.

Mr. Jones gives a little assistance to a needy student in the Business Laboratory.

This print may become a very unique addition to your wardrobe if you apply the patience of Mrs. Shaffer.

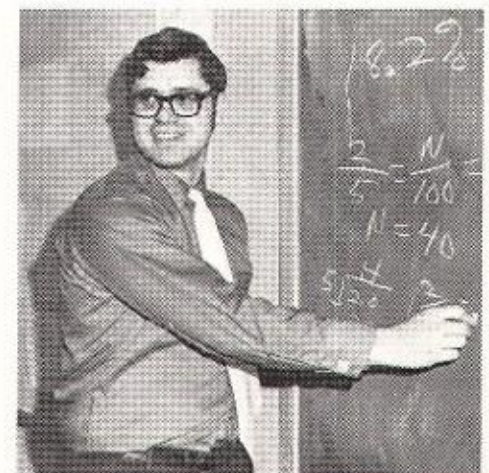

Keeping things pretty is the order of the day as Mrs. Bovee arranges a bouquet of flowers for her classroom.

Working together, Mrs. Emerick, Mrs. Shirar and Mrs. Rhinesmith, look over what looks like a new book 18.2% = 182, says Mr. Holman as he and students work on assignments together.

Teaching music, playing music, listening to music, repairing musical instruments, creating musical instruments, Mr. Riegel does it all.

Glancing at something, Mr. Daily pauses a moment from his class discussion.

Looking up for a moment, Mr. Kain keeps the P.E. classes organized.

Measuring up to classroom standards Mr. Young tackles the situation.

1 ... 2 ... Ready Play directs Jr. Hi director Mr. Fuller as he listens for that fine touch.

With earphones on, ready for action, Mrs. Helmuth changes the tapes on her desk.

Must be activity period, Mrs. Beiswanger has a happy face as she chats with the people.

Reaching his hand out, Mr. Smeltzer attempts to convey something to his juniors.

Pointing an accusing finger, Mrs. Crandal takes a junior class of English.

Mixing music with English and learning with pleasure. Mrs. Somers creates an exciting class.

Taking care of the library is a big job. Just ask Mrs. Bryan who keeps everything running smoothly.

Pointing out the importance, Mrs. Stiller added young blood and spirit to the Prairie Heights teaching staff.

Mr. Kuhn casually turns around from working at his desk doing his job as athletic director.

Catching Mrs. German at her work, she gives us a funny look.

Color my world with beautiful art work, Mr. Warfel helps a student improve his idea.

Administration Strives . . .

The administration has spent long hours effecting changes, discussing ideas, and working for the benefit of Prairie Heights students. This year, students have experienced a Vocational Day, a somewhat now relaxed dress code, and a detention hall. These are just a few of a list of new changes in effect. Without these men who work constantly in our behalf, we would not be as proud of or enjoy Prairie Heights as we do today.

Mr. Foltz with the gang make fun of bird-house made by Jason who understands it's all in the fun of noon.

ALWAYS THERE, Mr. Shirar with the rest of the Administration active in all school functions. Their hearts won as we did.

. . . for Quality Education

Mrs. Coler poses with her most punching job—dating lunch tickets. Such is the life of a dietician.

AFTER STEPPING OUT of his office Mr. Cline relaxes for a friendly chat with a visitor.

DOES'NT TAKE THREE (really) to answer the phone but the secretaries, Mrs. Riegel, Mrs. Butler, and Mrs. Gaetz do all assist the administration.

LOADS OF PAPER cross the Guidance Counselor's desk and Mr. Grabill gets triple duty with his coaching jobs.

Scenes from the Other Office . . .

The Policy Machine isn't in the school building any more. It's a small sight over-looking Otter Lake now away from hustle and bustle of late students and guidance problems. The board meets on Tuesday night in again the same relaxed atmosphere unless things are upset by new dress codes, special court actions, etc. These are the people with the real responsibility on the shoulder at least until they pass it down to the other administrators.

PHOTOSTATS are run through by Jane Schyler at the Superintendent's Office.

THE BOOKS are never done it seems. Mrs. Hughes with pen in hand piles ledger on top of ledger.

FOR THE NEW JOB, Mr. Diehl has an interview. Teacher turnover is to be expected—I guess.

This board meeting looks kind of concerned. Burton Lewis, James Butler, Kenneth Perkins, Brice Diehl (Supt.), Don Sellers, and Dale Hughes are the members.

If It's a Drudge . . . They Do It

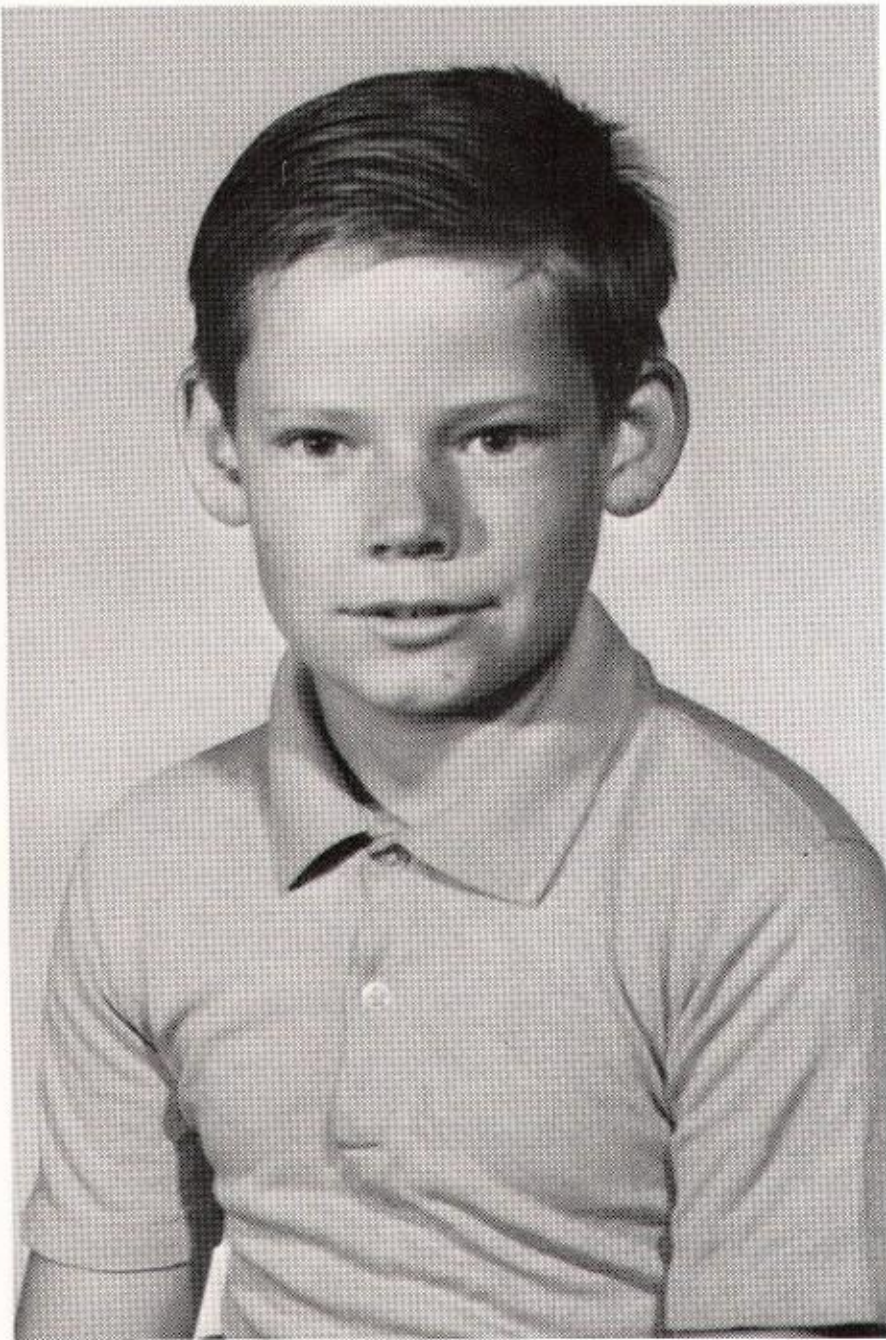

COOKS Charlotte Morningstar, Mary Hoyer, Marcela Bair, Virginia Spero, Dorothy Chrzan, Mary Lou Robinson, Lois Faust, Delis Keller, Francis Stayner

Cook the food, wash the dishes, sweep the floors, fix the doors, adjust the heaters. You'd be surprised to see all the maintenance at this school. They never get through putting in new towel racks, locking doors, unlocking doors, making pizza, serving seconds, washing tables, punching tickets, cleaning blackboards, changing light bulbs, pulling out bleachers, changing fuses, mowing grass . . .

THE CLOCK OF LIFE

The clock of life is wound but once,
And no man has the power
To tell just when the hands will stop
At late or early hour.
Now is the only time you own,
Live, love toil with a will—Place no faith in "tomorrow" for the clock may then be still.

The purpose of the "Galaxy 1971" is to convey a history of the school year 1970-71 in an interesting, and entertaining way. Our pictures have been cropped to convey the life of the moving society within our bounds. The copy is written to supplement these pictures with humorous anecdotes and various outlooks on the things that do happen. It is not our intent to infringe on the integrity of any individual or group, or to publicly humiliate anybody or their possessions. If you chose to twist or change the meaning of any phrase from that which it was originally intended, the Galaxy Staff, Advisor, and School Board, assume no responsibility for damage.

I feel I must thank all those that have helped to make this book a success. Our photography was taken care of by Larry Stalf, Steve Reigel, Jim Fuller, Connie Langley, and Jeff Reese on the student level. Professional assistance and photographic supplies were donated by Sutula Studio's. Stopher Photo Center helped with the remainder of the dark room work.

Of course, all of a staff is important, Ruth Glasgow, Cindy Koehler, LuAnne Krebs, Dixie Carpenter, Linda Henderson, Karen Stapleton, Bill Eberhard, Nila Rhoades, Sandra Hughes, Wayne Chowning, Sherri Hughes, Marilyn Gage, they helped with soliciting and any way they can, but the leaders and burden carries work above and beyond the call of duty. Special thanks go to Jerry Graham who has turned yearbook copy reading from hassle to joy, Randy Perkins my Pace Setter and Jack-Of-All-Trades, Debbie Tracey my Business Manager and accountant, Sharon Prentice in charge of indexing, and of course Marilyn Cline my assistant editor. Also to Carol Shipe who has faithfully helped to complete the last phases of the book I extend a hearty thanks.

Non-staff members of the student body that have assisted me while in production have included Cathy Anderson, Brian Tracey, Joyce Sassanella, Dana Parker, Marsha Faust, Carla Rettinger, Kay Spillner, and Debbie Fourman.

The school administration and faculty is vital to a productive yearbook. Their patience and advice have helped to make this book all that it is. Special thanks go to Mrs. Paula German who has assisted in identifying many of the Junior High Students.

The list is not complete unless it includes our advisor—also known as "Fearless Leader,"—Mr. Jones. He has been a thrill to work with and I have greatly appreciated his humor in the trying times with the book. Something tells me that this past year would have been very dull without him.

I hope that you enjoy your copy of "Galaxy 71" just as much as I have enjoyed putting it together. I hope that you share my opinion that this book is an attempt to update the yearbook style at Prairie Heights and that you will treasure the memories of 1971 in your future.

Involvement Is Forever . . .

In our changing world the character of the individual is molded by the experiences which he encounters. Hardship affects the man to make the decisions of life. The goodtimes make man want to live on. Time often ages man's frame, but the man, that is man in heart, is one who never ages in soul. He's the man with the involved character. His accomplishments live forever.

SQUIRT GUNS marks the end of school and the passage of time. They're Involvement none the less.

FOND MEMORIES trickle down the cheek of Debbie German after graduation. It has ended—or has it?

. . . and Ever . . . and Ever.
